

Anti-Trust Suit Against U.S.T.A.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U.S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood Monday moved to simplify the issues in the government's anti-trust suit against the United States Trotting Association.

the government did not answer. Monday's hearing was to determine whether any or all of the questions should be answered on both sides.

LONELY MEMORIAL FIELD

Here's Charlottetown's splendid athletic field in picturesque Victoria Park. Memorial Field, the scene of many stirring baseball battles, looks lonely and deserted on Monday, May 19th, 1958. Softball enthusiasts are holding practices on other city diamond but baseball has yet to have an organization meeting in Charlottetown. Activity at Memorial Field has been very limited to date. Perhaps it will live up in the next few days.

Wightman Trophy Could Be Next

By STERLING SLAPPEY LONDON (AP) — America's crumbling sports empire — once dominant in practically every sport from frog jumping to cow wrestling — is expected to crack again next month. The Wightman Cup may be the next to go. Twenty-eight years ago United States women tennis players took the cup from England and, unless present form is misleading, the United States will lose the cup this year for the first time since 1930. Cup matches will be played at Wimbledon on June 13-14.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

A small item appeared on many sport pages last week but it certainly didn't attract a great deal of attention. It stated that the St. Louis Cardinals had sold pitcher Herman Wehmeier to the Detroit Tigers for around the waiver price of $20,000.

Wehmeier had never any real claim to greatness but he had his moments which he likes to remember and other like to forget.

It was at Busch Stadium on Saturday night, September 29, 1956 that Wehmeier dealt the Braves one of their most cruel blows. He was chosen to pitch for Cardinals against the Braves in a game that meant nothing to the Red Birds but a pennant to the Milwaukee club.

The Braves were in a terrific stretch drive with the Brooklyn Dodgers for the right to meet New York Yankees in the World Series. The Dodgers had won a double bill from the Pirates early in the day and were a half game in front of Fred Haney's Braves.

But Mr. Wehmeier pitched that night as if the Cards, not the Braves, were seeking the National League flag. It was a gruelling twelve-inning affair that the Cards finally won 2-1, with Bruton's homer the only tally off the St. Louis moundman.

It certainly must be no consolation to Roy Campanella that his buddies, Los Angeles Dodgers, are occupying the National League basement.

Dr. Rusk feels that it is indeed favourable that Campanella's paralysis is relaxed rather than spastic. The doctor states that rehabilitation to the place where they can earn a living and return to a dignified position at home is now achieved for 75% of these individuals paralyzed in both arms and legs.

Local curlers held their annual meeting last week, electing new officers to conduct their business for the coming season. Satisfactory reports were given by the various committee chairmen all of whom worked hard to make the year the success that it was.

There was one new report—that was the one concerning the Dominion Schoolboy Curling Championships held in Charlottetown this past winter. This was indeed a big venture and everybody was skeptical as to the financial outcome of it.

Receipts, made up of programs and ticket sales totalled $5,400.00, while expenditures amounted to $4,633.27. This left a credit balance of $767.53, something which was hardly expected when this mammoth project was undertaken.

The amazing feats of Bob Turley, New York Yankees' moundman, still continues. Turley racked up win number six on Sunday with a 3-0, five-hit job of the once-annoying Washington Senators.

Turley kept up his sensational mound duty with his win over the Senators. It was number six and four of those were shutouts. His earned run average is now below the 1 mark.

With Turley, Shantz, Larsen and Duren performing the way they are at present the Yankees are threatening to make this year's race a real joke. As of Monday they held a 6½ game lead over second place Kansas City Athletics and 9½ over the Chicago White Sox now in the league basement.

Somebody better do something quick if any interest is to be maintained in this American League "race". Cincinnati Redlegs who almost single-handedly gave Milwaukee Braves the pennant in 1957 are showing some signs of not repeating their generosity as far as the Braves are concerned.

Bob Purkey purchased from Pittsburgh Pirates this season halted the Reds' outlasted the Braves 11-7. The world champions pounded Purkey for 15 safeties but Bob was still in there at the final out, three times in the third, then chased the great Burdette with a six run rally in the very next inning. Burdette was the loser.

Too bad that the Yankees didn't meet Lew more often. His record would look much more impressive.

Says Snider's Attitude Wrong

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Duke Snider "no longer has the mental attitude for baseball," Los Angeles Dodgers' general manager E. J. Bavasi says.

"Something is wrong with Snider," Herald Express baseball writer John Old quotes Bavasi as saying. "I have no sympathy for him. With all his talent, look at him—only five runs batted in this season, and we had counted on him heavily."

"I should have suspended him in Florida after he reinjured his operated knee in a car accident." Bavasi was asked if he intended to suspend the veteran outfielder, who is batting only .225 and is reported not following medical advice to take special exercise to break down knee adhesions.

"That wouldn't do any good now. He'd still draw his better than $42,500 salary. No, he'll suffer along with the rest of us."

Would Bavasi like to make some trades? "The way our fellows are going, nobody wants any of the Dodgers, and I don't blame them."

Asked by Mirror baseball writer Charlie Park specifically what was wrong with the club, Bavasi said: "Well, whatever is wrong, Walt Alton (manager) isn't to blame. Bavasi pointed out that two pitchers on the Dodgers were counting on, Don Drysdale and Don Newcombe, have won one game and lost 10 between them."

But Bavasi thinks the lack of hitting is more responsible for the Dodgers' occupancy of the cellar than poor pitching.

Yanks' Brilliant Mound A Terror To Other Teams

by BEN OLAN NEW YORK (AP)—A masterful pitching staff with a combined earned run average of 2.05, 13 complete games and seven shutouts in 24 games confronts the seven American League runners-up as they seek to prevent New York Yankees from making a shambles of the pennant race.

As they head west for their initial swing of the young season, the Yanks hold a 6½-game lead built largely on the efforts of starting pitchers Bob Turley, Don Larsen and Bobby Shantz and the excellent relieving of Ryne Duren.

Among them Turley, Larsen and Shantz have won 13 games and lost none. Turley, 6-0, has gone the distance in each of his victories while recording four shutouts. He has yielded only five earned runs for an ERA of 0.83.

Larsen has yet to give up a run in 23 innings. He has won three. Shantz, the league's comeback-of-the-year winner last season, is 4-0. Duren has saved six games and has struck out 14 batters in 9 2-3 innings. Whitey Ford has won three games, lost two and put together a 1.71 ERA.

SHARP TRADERS Only four among the club's 10 pitchers are products of the Yankees' prized farm system. They are Ford, Bob Grim, Tom Sturdivant and Johnny Kucks.

Larsen and Turley both were obtained from Baltimore in a mammoth winter trade four years ago. Shantz and Ditar were acquired from Kansas City in a 13-player deal in February, 1956. Duren came to New York in the transaction that sent Billy Martin to the Athletics and Harry Simpson to the Yanks last June. And Sal Maglie, who picked up his first victory of the year Sunday, was purchased from the Dodgers last September.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press show that only Detroit Tigers approach the Yanks in the matter of complete games. Detroit hurlers have gone the distance 11 times. Kansas City is next with nine followed by Washington and Cleveland with each. And, more significantly, New York has played more games than any of the teams.

In the earned run department Baltimore is second with 1.14. Then come Detroit with 1.18, Chicago 3.86, Boston 4.06, Washington 4.08, Cleveland 4.14 and Kansas City 4.19.

Supersonic Arrow Has Cost Canada Almost 400 Million

By DAVE MCINTOSH OTTAWA (CP)—The project to develop and produce the supersonic CF-105 Arrow aircraft will have cost nearly $400,000,000 by the end of the current fiscal year, government officials said Tuesday. The fiscal year ends next March 31.

This amount includes an expenditure for production of 37 Arrow by Avro Aircraft Limited, Malton, Ont. Eight of these are models and the other 29 are known as "pre-production" planes used to work out "bugs" discovered in the original models.

Officials reiterated that the government will not decide until this summer whether to put the Arrow into full production. It has made its original test flights and has flown at more than 1,000 miles an hour.

The total of nearly $400,000,000 includes $175,000,000 this fiscal year alone. Expenditures for the Arrow this year will account for more than 10 per cent of the entire defence department budget of $1,686,000,000.

Informants have said the government is unlikely to cancel against production of the Arrow after sinking so much in it. The costs so far have been almost evenly split between development and production, officials said.
