Kinsmen Founder Arrives; Dist. Governor Elected Today

SUMMERSIDE — "This is the greatest", said Kin Dick Goulden of the Dartmouth Kinsmen Club in describing yesterday's events at the annual conference of District Seven being held here this weekend.

To date more than 400 Kinsmen and Kinettes have registered for the convention, and more are expected to arrive today.

This morning sees the election of the district governor with Jack Regan of Dartmouth and Jerry Vincent of Saint John vieing for the position.

Tonight there will be a governor's dinner as well as a governor's ball to follow at Prince County Vocational High School, ending the three-day meet.

The founder of the Kinsmen organization, Hal Rogers and Mrs. Rogers arrived at Summerside at 6.30 last evening and were greeted at the airport by local president Neil MacLeod. Mr. Rogers will leave this evening after the convention closes.

At noon yesterday delegates from all across the Maritimes were guests at the Officers Mess of RCAF Station Summerside for a stag luncheon where they were addressed by the commanding officer of the station who outlined the role of RCAF Station Summerside in the defence of North Atlantic Canada and the United States.

Last night residents of the province's western capital saw Kinsmen from all across the Maritimes pass by their doors in a mammoth parade through the town.

The parade was followed by a lobster supper at Prince County Vocational School and afterwards, a dance.

The idea of the Kinsmen organization is to promote good fellowship among men and this convention is doing just that the delegates feel.

Morell Credit Union Celebrates Anniversary

MORELL — Approximately 140 people assembled Thursday at the United Church hall, Morell, to commemorate the 26th Anniversary of the Morell Credit Union Limited.

The luncheon speaker was Harvey Lanctot, administrative assistant, Cuna Mutual Insurance Company, Canadian operations, Hamilton, Ont.

Following his congratulatory remarks, Mr. Lanctot observed that there are presently 30,000 credit unions in 60 countries, 4,000 of these are in Canada with members' capital exceeding $1000,000,000.

"We have come a long way—where do we go from here—and why?" exhorted the noted adult educator. "The answers are to be found by the people themselves—they have the responsibility to bring the credit union services to more people. A credit union is not a people's bank where we put only a portion of our savings; it is a member-owned financial institution where members must deposit all their savings and from which these same members must procure their credit needs."

He emphasized the importance of teaching our young people about credit unions. "Are we to wait until they are in desperate financial difficulties before we indoctrinate them in the philosophy and practical application of credit unionism? We must do it now! They are the people who must run these people-owned financial institutions in the future." he said.

HISTORY SKETCHED

Aldius MacKenzie, chairman of village commissioners, extended a warm welcome to the friends and visitors who joined with the credit unionists of Morell to observe the birthday anniversary of the $70,000 financial institution here.

An historical sketch of the Morell Credit Union was delivered by Louis McGuire, president of the association. In tracing the growth of the people's bank he paid tribute to the pioneers and particularly to the untiring efforts of Jerome O'Brien and Frank Dunn.

Rev. Dr. J. D. N. MacDonald, past president of Cuna Mutual Insurance Company, presented certificates of merit to the following charter members: Louis McGuire, Joseph Walsh, George Burns, Daniel Sinnott, William C. Conway, Harry Traynor, Frank Dunn, Jerome O'Brien, Hazel Phalen, Frank Connolly and John Duffy.

AWARDS MADE

Members who had deposited one or more $5 shares in the credit union since March 1st qualified for the drawing of $59 in cash. Winners were: Mrs. Vincent McGrath ($20); Frank Connolly ($20); and Reginald Phalen ($10). The drawings were made by Rt. Rev. J. Sullivan, Morell.

Winners of silver dollars for having brought in new members since March 1st were: Mrs. Mary Malone; Joseph Arthur Walsh and W. McCarthy.

Congratulatory messages and remarks were received from. Rev. Dr. J. D. N. MacDonald, Rev. Donald MacLennan, Mt. Stewart; Hon. Andrew MacRae, Charlottetown; Rev. Wm. Simpson, Charlottetown; Walter Dingwell, MLA, Midgell; Mr. Jones, Bank of Nova Scotia, Morell.

GUESTS

Other guests included: Mrs. J. D. N. MacDonald, Middle Musquodoboit, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Woodbridge, Hamilton, Ont.; Dougald MacDougall, Dartmouth, N.S.; Greg T. Kelley, Charlottetown; Miss Isabell MacDonald, P.E.I. Credit Union League, Charlottetown; Rev. V. Murnaghan, St. Dunstan's University; Reginald Harvey, Fredericton, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Driscoll, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. Jerome O'Brien and Mr. and Mrs. U. LeBlanc, Charlottetown; Hon. and Mrs. Leo Rossiter, Morell.

Entertainment was provided by Hector MacDonald, violinist; Francis Chiasson, pianist, with Miss May MacDonald, step-dancing. Robert Crompton recited two novelty numbers.

Wilfred Driscoll, Co-op Insurance representative, Charlottetown, was toastmaster. Caterers were the United Church Women who in addition to serving an excellent meal also donated a 3-tier birthday cake, which was cut by credit union president, Louis McGuire. Edmund Gallant, manager of the Morell Credit Union was general chairman of the evening's program.

Ceremony, Solemnity Mark Legion Service

The pomp, the color, the ceremony, the serious solemnity of the old soldiers who never die —these will come to pass next Wednesday morning, Dominion Day, when the Royal Canadian Legion Drumhead Service takes place in Charlottetown.

For 35 minutes the soldiers who won glory for Canada will move into the spotlight all across Canada. The CBC is going to tape the ceremony for re-broadcast on the trans-Canada television network.

Six bands will parade the seven different service units to Memorial Field for the service, which begins at 10:30 on the morning of Canada's birthday. A choir supplied by the Legion will sing from behind the altar, which is made up of the symmetrically piled drums of the bandsmen.

Parading along with the Legion will be units representing the Royal Canadian Navy, 2 Militia Group, the Royal Canadian Airforce, the Queen Charlotte High School Cadet Corps, Birchwood High School Cadet Corps and the Canadian Boy Scouts.

SIX BANDS

The navy band from HMCS Stadacona and the pipes and drums of the famous Black Watch will be there, representing the permanent forces, along with bands from Prince Edward Island Regiment, the QCHS Cadets, the Birchwood High Cadets and the Sea Cadet band of RCSCC Kent

Parade Commander for the occasion will be Brigadier W. W. Reid, DSO, ED. His second in command is Surgeon Captain L. E. Prowse, VRD, CD, and the parade adjutant is Major A. T. E. Fairweather, MC, CD. Parade Regimental Sergeant Major is WO1 (RSM) C. E. Ryan, CD

Teachers Host Picnic For San. Pupils

The pupils of the Provincial Sanatorium school and several guests were entertained at a picnic at Strathgartney Park on Wednesday afternoon by their teacher Mrs. Lloyd Hawkes and Sunday School teacher Mrs. Alfred MacNeill.

Following a happy time of varied play the group sat down to a bountiful picnic supper which included such goodies as hot-dogs, pop and watermelon—in fact everything which goes to make a perfect picnic.

After supper the children presented a humorous playlet in costume entitled: "An Egg for a King". Elaine DeRabbie introduced the cast which was as follows: King, Raymond MacDonald, Queen, Velda Clow, Princess, Sharon Perry, Servant, Robert Arsenault, Minstrels, Billy MacEwen and Alphonse Arsenault, Hen, Helen Trio will provide special music.

Noted Angus Breeders To Share In Field Day

Maritime Angus breeders are planning on a big two-day celebration here next week with an annual meeting, two dinners, a field day and a tour of Island Angus cattle farms and several beauty spots, it was learned last evening from Leo. P. McIsaac, president of the Maritime and Island Angus breeders.

The annual meeting will be held in the lounge room of the Basilica Recreation Centre Monday morning, starting at 9.30 o'clock.

That afternoon the scene shifts to Alderlea where Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Dixon will welcome the Maritime Angus people to their farm home at Cyde River.

Murray Fretz, Guelph, Ont. who is secretary of the Canadian Angus association will be in charge of the judging competition at Alderlea in the afternoon, and cattle are being trucked to the Dixon farm by a number of prominent Island Angus fanciers. These people include Irving MacDonald, MacDonald, Duck, Judy MacLure.

Gifts were presented to each boy and girl and the class presented gifts to Mrs. Hawkes and Mrs. MacNeill, accompanied by appropriate speeches. Velda Clow received a special award for the greatest progress.

The situation with this year's class is almost unique, in that the entire class of nine has been pronounced cured and left on Friday for their respective homes throughout the province.

The Sanatorium Supt. Dr. E. M. Found who was unable to attend as he was in Saint John attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, sent warm words of good wishes to the children who under his supervision had been brought back to normal health.

Slow Speeds At St. Edwards Advocated By Coroner's Jury

ALBERTON — Ten year-old Joseph Ivan Albert of St. Edwards came to his death June 20 as the result of multiple injuries received when struck by a car in front of Lazaret Gaudet's canteen in St. Edwards. The jury attached no blame to the driver, Isadore Joseph Chaisson and recommended a lower speed zone in the built up area of St. Edwards.

The inquest, held in Alberton court house last night, was presided over by coroner Dr. C. M. Dewar, O'Leary. Witnesses were interrogated by crown prosecutor George R. McMahon.

The first witness, Isadore Joseph Chaisson, 18-year-old high school student, told the jury he was driving his father's car about 45 miles per hour towards St. Edwards when a boy ran across the road in front of him.

DITCHED CAR

He sounded the horn, applied the brakes and swerved the car into the right ditch but to no avail. The witness said he had a 1963 driver's licence but failed to register it this year.

After hitting the boy he went to a phone and called a doctor and the RCMP. Cpl. R. C. Pettitt, officer in charge of Alberton detachment of the RCMP described the accident scene and said there was no evidence of alcohol Dr. S. Hellmich said that following an examination at the hospital he considered that the boy had died from multiple skull fractures and multiple internal injuries.

Nelson Joseph Albert, Gary Albert and Catherine Allain, St. Edwards and Stephen Edward Butler, Miminegash were at the scene at the time of the accident and each gave brief evidence.

Lawson Adams, garage mechanic, Alberton, said he examined the accident vehicle and found it in good order except for a loss of brake fluid from the right front wheel caused when a rubber blew our during the accident.

PLEA FOR SAFETY

Before dismissing the jury the coroner made a plea for increased emphasis on highway safety in view of a heavy increase in traffic expected during centennial year. More maximum penalties should be handed out instead of minimum the coroner stated while wishing the newly formed highway safety council every success.

He emphasized that he was not speaking of the case being handled at the inquest but in general terms.

Members of the jury were: Joseph Harvey Butler, Ebbsfleet, foreman; Gerald Joseph Gaudin, St. Louis; Jerry Perry, St. Louis; Merle Peter Murphy, Ebbsfleet; Andrew Jones, Pleasant View; Isadore Bernard, St. Edwards and Melvin Perry, St. Louis.
