We know that Cod-liver Oil is a fat-forming food because takers of it gain rapidly in weight under its use and the whole body receives vital force. When prepared as in Scott's Emulsion, it is quickly and easily changed into the tissues of the body. As your doctor would say, "it is easily assimilated." Perhaps you are suffering from fat starvation. You take fat enough with your food, but it either isn't the right kind, or it isn't digested. You need fat prepared for you, as in Scott's Emulsion.

Aids digestion wonderfully Adams' Tutti Frutti. Save coupons instead of wrappers for latest Books and Prizes. Some dealers try to palm off imitations on which they make more profit.

SALE OF Desirable Property

That beautiful property opposite Birch Grove, Freetown, at present occupied by Mrs. Crosby. There are about 40 acres of choice well cultivated land, and the buildings, including dwelling house, barns, granary, outbuildings, etc., are in good condition. The property includes all of that large and beautiful grove, very suitable for picnic parties, on the north side of the main road, and is in a charming spot, near churches, school, hall, stores, etc., and within a quarter of a mile from Freetown Railway Station, and two miles from Dunk River. Terms will be made to suit purchasers. If not sold by private sale before Tuesday, August 31st, it will then be offered at auction at 11 o'clock, p.m. For further particulars apply to E. CROSBY, Ry. Clear Evidence. Judge—What's your name? Prisoner—I'm Pat Murphy, your honor. Judge—Where do you live? Prisoner—Sure, I don't live anywhere, sor. Judge (to second prisoner)—What's your name? "I'm Denis McCarthy, sor." "Where do you live?" "Begorra, your honor, I live next door to Pat Murphy."—Punch.

How She Appeared. Something whizzed by—a minglement of steel spokes and red bloomers. "What is that there?" asked Uncle Hiram, withdrawing his gaze from the high building to look after the vision. "That is the new woman," answered his nephew. "The new woman? Looks like the old boy."—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

Stopped the Elopement. "How did they stop the elopement?" asked Maud. "By a detestable piece of trickery," replied Mammie. "Her father put his head out of the window and spouted that her hat was on crooked, and when she grabbed for it she upset the tandem."—Washington Star.

His Business. Judge—What is your occupation? Prisoner (who was caught in a gambling house raid)—I'm a locksmith. Judge—What were you doing in there when the officers entered? Prisoner—I was making a bolt for the door.—New York Sunday Journal.

A New Fashion Needed. Foreman—We need a few lines to complete a column. Rural Editor (wearily)—Well, say the Prince of Wales has begun wearing old clothes because they are more comfortable. Perhaps it will start a fashion that you and I can follow.—Punch.

False Prophets. "They told me," said he to himself, "that when I married her I would be spoken of as Mrs. Bingle's husband. But they lied." "So they did," said she, who had overheard. "You are not spoken of at all."—Indianapolis Journal.

Postponed. Employer—I thought you wanted to go to your grandmother's funeral this afternoon. Office Boy—Please, sir, it was postponed on account of wet grounds.—Truth.

HER UMBRELLA.

What Her Handling of It Proclaimed to the Observing Man. Two men who sat near the window of a down town hotel a few days ago whiled away the time by watching the women go by and commenting on their umbrellas. The storm had abated about an hour before and the sun had peered through a rift in the clouds, but for all that the first pedestrian went stalking past with her umbrella still held aloft. "That woman," said one of the men, "is as patient as Job. She is not a student absentmindedly poring over book lore, but a housekeeper who is so taken up with thoughts of what she is going to get for supper that she doesn't know it has stopped raining. What is more, she is thoroughly unselfish. People who forget to lower their umbrellas when the sun begins to shine always are. That girl just behind her who has already taken time to fold her umbrella neatly, even though it is soaking wet, is going to be an old maid. She is narrow minded too. The next one has bound the folds down, but she looks uneven and bulging. That woman's children will always look dowdy, but she will nurse them successfully through innumerable attacks of croup and rash, and no family in town will have better things to eat. "That short woman with her umbrella flopping this way and that will always be poor, because she will give away everything as soon as she gets it. Hers isn't altogether a commendable generosity, either, for it is caused more by lack of power to say 'no' than by an inherent desire to help her fellow creatures. That dark woman with the tip of her umbrella trailing downward and backward at an angle of 45 degrees is malicious. I wouldn't trust her out of my sight. She'd say something mean about me the first chance she got. The one who carries her umbrella swung carelessly over her shoulder is a happy go lucky individual who will always have a good time, not because she earns it, but because the world owes it to her, and she is going to have her rights. "Do you see that woman who holds her umbrella at right angles to her body and sticks the sharp point ahead like a bayonet? She's one of the kind that sets the world afire. She has more energy in a minute than most people have in a year. A woman who swings her umbrella as she walks is prone to dillydally; she never knows her mind, and, no difference how well she may pretend to like a person, if another speaks ill of him in his absence, she will generally side in with the calumniator; at any rate she will say nothing in his defense. She who trails her umbrella along in her wake is untidy and inclined toward low principles. The one that holds the stick upright and keeps tapping it on the pavement every little while is a good person to tie to; she has strength and honesty. There comes a woman carrying her umbrella under her arm. She's my wife and I won't say anything about her. His companion looked at the little man's wrinkled, perplexed face and smiled. He fancied he knew what the verdict would have been had the woman only been somebody else.—Chicago Tribune.
