

The magic of the circus. — A world of wonders within a world. — Yesterday lured hundreds of Charlottetown circus fans to the Exhibition Park, where, to the tune of powerful mechanical stake drivers, a canvas city rose to house the great King Bros. and Cristiani Combined Circus for its performance here today.

And, this morning, the tune will be one of bands, calliopes, parade announcers, toy balloon and peanut vendors as thousands will, no doubt, throng the downtown streets to see the first real, old-fashioned circus street parade in more than 20 years. It is scheduled to be downtown at 11:30. With trumpeting bands, tooting calliopes, rumbling wagons of red and gold, cum-berson elephants and leaping camels, open dens and cages filled with wild jungle beasts, mounted circus stars on caparisoned steeds, clowns galore, and all the other thrills in the circus parades of years ago, will wind its way through the downtown streets.

The big show rolled into town early yesterday (Sunday) morning from Fredericton, N.B., where it exhibited Saturday. It arrived ahead of schedule with the result that many of the circus fans, who usually help superintend the unloading, were surprised to find several of the gaily colored wagons partly unloaded, when they arrived at the grounds.

However, they were rewarded later with the hoisting of the various tents and the herd of working elephants as they raised the towering big top poles and spotted the heavy wagons about the grounds.

The circus grounds yesterday presented that side of circus life which displayed the almost uncanny efficiency with which, amid orders shouted by Carl Wyche, veteran boss canvasman, the men who put it up and takes it down, the huge circus was swept into being.

There's no unshed or glitter to the early morning arrival of the King Bros. and Cristiani Circus, but there's that tempo of "hustle and get ready" that would gladden the heart of any business executive. Tents appeared as if by magic after the arrival of the first wagons on the grounds. A total of 19 tents of varying sizes are needed to house the big show. Among them, the gigantic big top which seats nearly 6,500 persons.

Gleason Sees Edwards As Middleweight Champ

Within a couple of years Gil Edwards of New York will be the World middleweight champion. That is the prediction of Bobby Gleason, the New Yorker who manages Edwards and Tuzo Portugez (conqueror of Paddy Young). It is Gleason's belief that Edwards shows as much promise as Sugar Ray Robinson did at this stage in his career. Robinson started on the road to the world title when he outpointed Fritz Zevic in 1941. This was Sugar Ray's great test.

At the Charlottetown Forum, July 24, Gil Edwards returns to trade punches with the experienced Henry Jordan over ten rounds. Rod this bout had been several months ago, Jordan would have been an overwhelming favorite. But Edwards has improved wonderfully, according to trainer Jack Friday, and will give Jordan his hardest bout in a Canadian ring since the night he fought Johnny Greco at Montreal.

In the 10 round co-feature a real feud—all things—is going on between a couple of fighters, both of whom claim to be the welterweight ruler of the entire Maritimes.

Both Duck Trainor and Tommy Spencer have reasonably good claims to the championship of the 147 pounds brigade, and neither can reign as undisputed monarch until one of the two has been punched out of the picture.

Bud Lund, the clever, hard hitting Charlottetown lightweight will meet colored LeRoy Jones of Halifax in the six round special.

Ivan Docherty announces a change in the four round prelim. Joey Longaphie will meet Leo "Tiger" Steele in place of Garth McGuigan. Steele and Longaphie staged a real slugfest at North River Friday night.

Native Dancer Easy Victor

CHICAGO, (AP)—In the opinion of those who watched him make Saturday's $154,300 Arlington Classic little more than a comic horse opera, Native Dancer is the greatest three-year-old since Citation.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's gray ghost ambled along in the pack for three-fourths of the classic's mile distance and then, in a blurring burst of speed, rammed home for an astonishing nine-length victory.

Loses Out In Final Shot For Queen's Prize

BISLEY, Eng. (Reuters)—Lt. Col. Steve Johnson, 48-year-old sharpshooter from the King's Own Calgary Regiment, misjudged the wind on his final shot and lost the Queen's Prize, top honor for rifle shooting, at the windup of the two-week National Rifle Association meet here Saturday.

Winner of the coveted prize was Maj. N. W. McCaw of the London Rifle Brigade who scored an aggregate of 273—one point ahead of Johnson.

Other Canadians who placed in the Queen's Prize:

Maj. R. W. Hampton of Ottawa, 27th with 265.

Lt. Col. Desmond Burke of Lansing, Ont., 34th with 264.

Johnson won another trophy for Canada Saturday when he took the Northland Challenge Cup in a shoot-off.

Earlier the Calgary marksman won the Silver Medal and second prize of $15 in the Coronation aggregate contest for the highest scores in eight main service rifle events.

Children's Game Ends In Murder

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, (AP)—A children's game of cowboys and Indians ended with the fatal stabbing of a five-year-old girl. Her boy playmate, 9, was charged with first degree murder Friday.

The boy was arraigned on the charge and ordered held for a psychiatrist's examination Monday. Police said he confessed the slaying of Bobbie Denney.

They said the lad told of the game, and how he got angry for some reason. He said he stabbed the girl many times and then, fearing his father "would be put in jail", went home, washed off his jack knife, took a bath and went to bed. Suspicion centred on him when blood was found on his glasses.

An autopsy showed the girl's body had about 100 knife wounds.

Intermediate Abbies Defeat Holman's 7-4

In a well played game at Memorial Field yesterday afternoon the Intermediate Abbies defeated Holman's Intermediates by the score of 7-4 to move well ahead of the other teams in the Island Baseball League.

Donnie MacLean went the distance for the Abbies and surrendered 10 hits and four runs while his team-mates collected eight hits and seven runs off Summerside's Donnie Simmonds.

In winning the game MacLean pitched his seventh league victory without a loss. He was in trouble only in the first inning when Holman's came up with two runs and again in the eighth when Holman's scored two more unearned runs.

The only extra base wallop of the game was a double in the seventh inning by Joe Bernard.

Cairns of the Abbies played well as he handled eight chances without an error at short.

No Change In Election Issues

OTTAWA, (CP)—The election issues have not changed any in the last week of campaigning. It's still the Liberal record against the field.

The government party, in electing, is still sticking pretty tightly to its record. The Progressive Conservatives are bearing down hard on tax cuts. The CCF is talking of nationalization of basic industries. The Social Credit group speaks of monetary reform.

These subjects have been pretty well explored in earlier speeches of party leaders, in and out of Parliament. However, leaders laid new emphasis during the week as they personally hit different parts of the country.

Jr. Abbies Defeat RCAF Royals 13-8 Yesterday

The Abbie Juniors defeated the RCAF Royals at the Airport diamond in Summerside yesterday in a free-hitting contest by the score of 13-8. A fresh breeze blowing across the diamond towards the outfield made fly balls difficult to judge, and sometimes converted pop flies into baselins. Jim Fardy, substitute right fielder for the visitors, stole the show on his mates, getting two home runs, one a grand-slam circuit clout in the fourth inning that just about sewed up the ball game. His second round-tripper came on his next time at bat in the fifth frame, no one scoring ahead of him. Duck MacLeod poked a four-base hit in the sixth, again with the bases empty.

The RCAF used three pitchers, none of whom was effective. MacKinnon's inability to find the plate kept him in trouble constantly, and the roof caved in on him when Fardy made his grand-slam effort. McCready was touched for the other two home runs and a triple, and bowed out when Taylor was sent in to hit for him in the sixth. Taylor came through with two RBIs in his pinch-hitting role, but his hurling effort was somewhat below par.

With the score 10-1 for the visitors, the RCAF started to get to Kennedy in the sixth, and helped by some costly Abbie miscues the Royals scored five runs, and threatened to get back into the ball game. They poked up single tallies off relief pitcher MacLeod in the seventh and eighth but the Edwards crew finished strong with three runs in the top of the ninth.

Donald MacLeod led all hitters with three bingles in four tries. Ready's one-hand grab of Johnson's foul fly in the fourth and Johnson's smart scoop of Dave MacLeod's hot grounder in the same frame were perhaps the feature defensive plays.
