

Difficult To Set in Motion

BY J. LINCOLN DEWAR
It is now two months and a half since the large potato meeting on March 30 and it is undeniably true that considerable interest and concern should be taking the question, "Why is it so difficult to set in motion?"

Asin's Stock Rises As Captain Crowned

BY NEIL A. MATHESON
Provincial Farm Editor
THIS COLUMN on May 15 told a story passed on by Wallace Smith, Pownal of a Mick Logg, who sailed as mate aboard a brigantine loaded with oats at Charlottetown in 1876 and the vessel was lost at sea...

7,000,000 Bushels of Oats Shipped

REFERRING TO oats for moment, the Examiner-Argus Weekly reported that the Dominion Government in October 1886 that this province exported annually 7,000,000 bushels of oats to France and Great Britain. This compared with the total of 10,000,000 bushels of oats...

Dungeon Room at Ravenwood

I UNDERSTAND the old "Ravenwood" house on the Experimental Farm—it was used for years as a residence for the farm superintendent—is being used at times this year as a temporary residence for V.I.P.s who are visiting the Centennial year. And that reminds me of an interesting story about the white house...

Biscuits Baked As Prayer Offered

THE TALK got around to long prayers of the past when Mrs. Matheson and I called on Mrs. Sam Martin, who in the few days ago, she's a sister of the late Sir Andrew MacPhail, and I hoped she would be able to give me some interesting bits of events of the past that Sir Andrew described in "The Master's Wife"...
