Vocate of farmers' rights. He was himself an active and successful farmer and fox rancher, and was President of the P. E. I. Potato Growers Association.

He was for many years a strong supporter of the prohibition Act, and the most formidable champion in the Legislature. However, he supported the new Temperance Act when it was introduced in 1948 and declared his belief that it would be more workable than the system of "six months' scripts" then in force. On the introduction of the later system, in the course of a heated discussion in the House, he resigned from the Cabinet but subsequently withdrew his resignation at the request of his constituents.

Mr. Wright was a member of the United Church and was prominent in church activities. He was a forceful and effective speaker, a keen student of public affairs, and a zealous champion for his constituency. From his early days as a student in Prince of Wales College he had interested himself in questions of moral and social reform, and he never failed to emphasize these matters in his public speeches.

Mr. Wright is survived by his widow, the former Minnie Ross of Stanley Bridge, and by three sons and one daughter: Dr. William Ross, Fredericton, N.B.; Dr. John Ross, Halifax, Nova Scotia; Dr. John Ross, Fredericton, N.B.; Dr. John Ross, Fredericton, N.B.

The funeral will be held at Bedeque Wednesday afternoon.

Following dinner the group engaged in a hearty sing-song with piano music being supplied by Harry Norton. After the sing-song the group was split up with half of them playing ping-pong and the other half bowling. During the remainder of the evening the group engaged in a quiz programme. Winners of valuable prizes were Harry Thomson, Claire MacDonald, Robert Agns, Wendell McLaine, Helen Accor. A number of skills, presented by the boys of the club, were greatly appreciated. Highlights of the evening were several old time numbers and a feature dance by a lady wearing snow shoes. Lunch was prepared and served by Robert Watson. A second sing-song, with Jeanette Ladner at the piano, closed out the activities of the evening.

EDMONTON Paper Ends Publication

EDMONTON, Jan. 21—(CP)—The Edmonton Bulletin, Alberta's first newspaper, ended publication Saturday. Rising costs of materials and labor, restricted newsprint supplies and limitations on building and mechanical expansion were cited as reasons for the death of the paper founded in 1880 by Hon. Frank Oliver who carried a press and type by oxcart 700 miles from Winnipeg.

The announcement was carried high on the front page of Saturday's final edition: "The Bulletin ends publication today. It was signed 'The Management.'" In an interview, Mr. Straight said the bulletin had been "too successful." In three years it had increased its circulation 66 per cent and its advertising linage 88 per cent. But the plant, designed for a 16-page paper, was obsolete. A new plant and a new press, at a total cost of $1,000,000, were needed. The paper recently had averaged 27 pages and a circulation of 30,000.

Disposition of the Bulletin's assets remained uncertain tonight. W. A. MacDonald, publisher of the Journal, Edmonton's other daily newspaper, said: "We have not bought the Bulletin." The end came with startling suddenness for 179 Bulletin employees who each received two weeks' salary. The plant was bustling with activity when news editor Bill Lewis, who had been with the paper since 1928, tacked a notice to the office bulletin board: "With today's issue The Bulletin ceases publication for good."

The Journal, the circulation of which was reported in December 1949 to exceed $8,000, is left as the only daily paper in this Provincial capital of nearly 150,000 persons. From the days of Frank Oliver to the last day of publication, the Bulletin had prided itself on being a crusading newspaper. And it always had "color" on its front page—big headlines, lots of red ink, many feature stories.

Oliver, later to become Canada's Minister of the Interior, brought a small, hand-operated press, a few galleys of type and some paper from Winnipeg by Red River ox-cart, ferrying his load across the wide North Saskatchewan river and setting up shop in a log cabin on Jasper Avenue, almost a decade in at the time and now Edmonton's main street.

He forgot to bring large type with which to print the paper's masthead. This difficulty was overcome when his partner, Alex Taylor, carved the banner out of an oak wagon tongue.

Mr. Straight said he has no personal plans for the future. Formerly managing editor of the Church Social Planned By Christian Church Men's Association

The Mens' Club of Central Christian Church was held in the School room on Friday night, January 19th, with President Holly Archer in the Chair.

The evening's activities were begun by a Devotional taken by the Chaplain of the Club, Mr. M. D. Dunbar.

All expressed satisfaction in the report of the past year's work as summarized by the Secretary, Arthur Turpin and presented at the annual meeting held last Wednesday night.

Several items of old business arising from the minutes were agreed upon making room for the new. The night of meeting has been officially changed from Friday night back to the Thursday night meeting time. This was largely due to the confliction with the meeting of the hockey schedule as several of the members are ticket holders.

It was agreed that the next meeting of the Association would be observed as Ladies night, the men responsible for the entertainment and refreshments.

A church social for the congregation in general is also under a planning committee and the date will be announced soon.

The lunch committee consisting of Penna Moore and Rendel Houston served lunch and a fellowship hour was enjoyed.

Solemn Ceremony At St. Dunstan's

A fitting finale to the spiritual rejoicing of friends, students and members of the Congregation of Notre Dame in this diocese for the signal favour which the Roman Catholic Church bestowed when she placed Canada's pioneer teacher and foundress of the Order among the ranks of the Blessed, took place at St. Dunstan's Basilica on Friday morning.

The formal ceremony and pomp which is part of the exterior worship of the Catholic Church was present in its plenitude. From the opening solemn procession of the richly robed Bishop and his retinue to the sanctuary, until His Excellency's worthy tribute before leaving the sanctuary, all told of how lavishly the Church is in bestowing honour and praise on her faithful servants.

His Excellency Bishop Boyle pontificated with Right Rev. Monsignor R. V. MacKenzie acting as High Priest, and the Rev. Fathers Eric Robin and P. F. MacDonald as Deacons of Honour. Father James Kelly was Deacon and Father Frank Corcoran sub-Deacon. Rev. Dr. McMahon was Master of Ceremonies.

In the sanctuary were Rev. Bernard Gillis, Rev. Edred Doyle, C.S.S.R. and Rev. William Simpson.

With Mrs. Dougan at the organ, the choir under the direction of Mr. L. Chelston rendered the glorious parts of the proper of the Mass in a manner worthy of such an occasion.

Rev. Dr. McMahon gave a very eloquent and beautiful word-picture of Blessed Marguerite Bourgeoys from her birth on April 17, 1820, until her recent Beatification on November 12th.

NORTH WILTSHIRE W.M.S. The postponed January meeting of this Auxiliary was held in the church.

The opening worship service was led by Mrs. Bruce Deacon. She was assisted in the readings and prayers by Mrs. A. Bowman and Mrs. F. R. Mitchell.

The business period was conducted by the President, Mrs. MacKae. As the Recording Secretary was absent, Mrs. W. R. Clark was appointed to write the minutes. The roll call was answered by eight members. The reports of last year's work were given by the different secretaries.

The Community Friendship Secretary reported 114 home visits, 27 hospital visits, 35 cards and 16 bouquets sent. Twelve missionary monthlies had been used. The Literature Secretary had twenty books listed as read. The Supply book included $29.00 collected for "Save The Children Fund", two large cartons had been sent for Overseas Relief, also one bale to Labrador, one parcel for displaced persons and one to "Manitoba Relief". Also a parcel of Christmas cards. The associate members contributed the sum of $41.15 towards the funds. The Treasurer's report showed the following amounts had been sent to the Presbyterian Treasurer. Auxiliary $198.00 C.G.I. T. $10.00, Mission Band $67.00 and Baby Band $18.00 making a total of $293.00.

During the year, two Life Membership certificates had been presented, one to Mrs. Reginald Clark and one to Mrs. Aquilla Bowman.

Mrs. D. A. MacDonald invited the members to meet at her home, for the next meeting which is to be in the afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

After the conclusion of the business, Mrs. Mitchell assisted by Mrs. MacKae and Mrs. Deacon presented the study. This was taken from program 4. "The United Church Re-enters Japan Through Partnership in Church Work." Reports were read of the work of the church in Japan, particularly on Youth work and Christian Literature. The names of Dr. Bott and Dr. Stone were prominently mentioned.

The meeting was brought to a close with the benediction by the leader of the worship service.

Education Week Contests Announced

Two Provincial contests will be conducted in connection with Education Week, March 4-10, it has been announced by a committee headed by Mr. Malcolm Mackenzie. The contests will take the form of an essay, sponsored by the Canadian Legion, and a poster, sponsored by the Island Teachers' Federation and further assisted by a grand prize donated by Hyndman and Co.

The Legion will donate three prizes, one for each County, and will take full charge of the reception of the essays. The Teachers' Federation will give seven prizes to cover each day of Education Week.

The essay topic for the Legion contest which is open to all pupils in the schools of the Province is "Who Stands If Freedom Falls?" This topic is a quotation from Rudyard Kipling's poem, "For All We Have and Are." According to the rules and regulations laid down the essay may be of any length not exceeding 500 words. It should be written with pen and ink or typed. On one side of a page should be used.

Prizes will be awarded on the basis of excellence of expression and appropriateness of content to the topic. Essays should be mailed not later than February 17th to the following county representatives of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion: Prince County: Mr. Earl Cannon, National Employment Office, Summerside; Queens County: Lt.-Col. L. T. Lowther, Prince Street School, Charlottetown; Kings County: Major J. A. MacDonald, Cardigan. The winners in each county will be presented with a prize of ten dollars.

In the poster competition the subjects will be directly related to the general theme of Education Week: "Education is Everybody's Business." They may deal with the role in education of any of the following groups: The Church, The Farm, The Home, The School, Industry and Commerce, Labour, and the Community as a Whole.

The mechanical requirements of the poster are size, not smaller than 12 inches by 18 inches. Media, any medium is acceptable, water colour, crayon, pencil, pen and ink, etc. The students are asked to word the statements to appear on the poster. The statement should designate the group which the poster is concerned.

Prizes will be awarded on the basis of artistic excellence, appropriateness of the illustrations and statement appearing on the poster. Entries should be mailed not later than February 17th and addressed to The Provincial Education Week Committee, P. E. I. Teachers' Federation, 96 Prince Street, Charlottetown. A prize of five dollars will be awarded the winning entry in each of the seven classifications. A special prize of twenty dollars additional, donated by Hyndman and Company, will be awarded for the poster judged to be the best of all submitted.

With Mrs. Dougan at the organ, the choir under the direction of Mr. L. Chelston rendered the glorious parts of the proper of the Mass in a manner worthy of such an occasion.

Prime Minister Asked To Form Consumer Bureau

TORONTO, Jan. 20—(CP)—A prominent Toronto clubwoman today asked Prime Minister St. Laurent to establish a consumer bureau within the government to help housewives battle the rising cost of living.

The request was made on the initial broadcast of the CBC second series of open letters to the Prime Minister, a special radio feature for women.

Mrs. J. L. Halpenny of Toronto, said such a bureau is necessary "because of the development of the home market and the welfare of consumers, especially in these days of rising costs and possible shortages," is very important.

A former member of the board of directors of the Canadian Association of Consumers, Mrs. Halpenny said a well-informed, well-organized, alert consumer body can be a deciding factor in keeping the national economy stable in a changing world situation.

Establishment of a consumer bureau could help housewives budget the family income "in these days of rising costs."

Warmer Winters Noted By Experts

TORONTO, Jan. 19—(CP)—Winter is a little warmer than it was 50 or 100 years ago, a top weather expert said tonight. But he didn't try to explain why.

Andrew Thomson, controller of the meteorological service of Canada, said statistics prove a gradual "warming up" in the Canadian climate.

"In Toronto," he told the annual at-home of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, "the average temperature for the winter months of December, January and February has increased by nearly four degrees since 1890."

"About one-third of this is probably due to the city's expansion which has brought an increased emission into the air of heat from chimneys. But temperature records from other stations, not too far from Toronto, show a general trend to warmer winters."

Enjoyable Scotch Social At Trinity

Approximately 700 admirers of Robbie Burns gathered in the social hall of Trinity United Church after the service last evening for the annual Scotch Social.

Chairman for the evening was Dr. Frank MacKinnon, and Dr. Lloyd W. Shaw was the special speaker. Dr. Shaw spoke to the large audience on the life of Burns, and on his love of the simple Scottish home life which he immortalized in "The Cotter's Saturday Night." The speaker concluded his address by reading this well-loved poem.

Rousing pipe selections were given by pipers Bruce MacLaren and Neil Beane. As their contribution to the program they played the ever popular "Road to the Isles," and "Pride of Scotland." The principal speakers for the gathering were piped in to the social hall from the study with "92nd Highlanders."

Miss Dorothy MacLaren was soloist for the occasion and sang "Bonnie Doon" and "Loch Lomond" very effectively. An enthusiastic sing-song which was actively participated in was capably led by Albert Dennis, with Miss Louise Cox at the piano.

At the conclusion of the program, Rev. H. E. Ashford thanked yesterday who had contributed to the success of the evening, and issued a general invitation to all to stay for refreshments.

Recce Regiment Begins Training

The new system of training of the P. E. I. Regiment (17th Recce) was commenced yesterday with approximately 200 officers and men participating.

After training since 1946 as troops and squadrons, the training yesterday was as an entire regiment, and men from Kings and Prince Counties were brought in to Charlottetown by buses to participate. The afternoon opened with an inspection of the band and a march past of the entire regiment with the salute taken by Lt.-Col. A. W. Rogers, E.D., Commanding Officer of the P. E. I. Regiment, at the Armouries.

Moving off to the Ordnance Compound on Brighton Road, they broke up into schools for instruction in wireless, gunnery, and driving and maintenance. Eight new recruits were on hand to take part in the new system.

Plans were formulated to carry on this type of training on Sunday, January 28, when tactical exercises will be conducted in the Beach Grove Inn area. After that date the training will be carried on every other Sunday.

IN MEMORIAM

JESSIE ANN MACKENZIE

There passed peacefully away in the early morning of September 26th, in the Prince Edward Island Hospital, a native and life-long resident of Hartsville, in the person of Jessie Ann MacKenzie.

The deceased although in failing health for the past five years and for more than a year had received Hospitalization when tactical exercises will be conducted in the Beach Grove Inn area. After that date the training will be carried on every other Sunday.

Her husband, James MacKenzie, died in the early morning of September 26th, in the Prince Edward Island Hospital, a native and life-long resident of Hartsville, in the person of Jessie Ann MacKenzie.

The late Mrs. MacKenzie was in the 77th year of her age. She was born in Lot 30. She was the eldest daughter of the late John Nicholson and Ann Gillis, 56 years ago she deceased married the late Duanan G. MacKenzie and resided on the Johnstone Road. Her husband passed away just five years after their marriage. The late Mrs. MacKenzie was for many years a member of the Hartsville Presbyterian Church.

She leaves to mourn her passing two sons, John D. Summerville, Mass., U. S. A. M. Campbell, Mel-ford, Sask.; also one brother Neil of Hartsville and one sister Janie, (Mrs. Fred Crawford) Globe Ariz-ona, U. S. A.

The funeral which was largely attended was held from the Hartsville Presbyterian Church and was conducted by the Reverend Donald Nicholson, a cousin of the deceased. The pallbearers were: J. M. MacKenzie, J. D. MacKenzie, Murdoch MacLeod, Kenneth MacLeod, John A. MacInnis and John M. MacLennan. Interment was in the Hartsville Cemetery.

There had been a slight "dropping off" for the whole west. "The fact that the climate, in general, is becoming warmer is confirmed by the retreat in recent years of all the glaciers in the Rockies and of all but two relatively-unimportant glaciers in Alaska."

Mr. Thomson said possible causes of the gradual changes might include: 1. More heat being received from the sun. 2. Lack of great volcanic outbursts and the resulting increase of dust in the atmosphere. 3. An increase in the amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. 4. Changes in the circulation of the atmosphere, particularly in the paths of the movement of great air masses between the equator and the north pole.

TORONTO, Jan. 19—(CP)—Dr. C. S. Beals of Ottawa, Dominion astronomer, tonight was installed as president of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, succeeding Andrew Thomson, controller of the Meteorological Service of Canada.

Early Warnings Early storm warnings saved most fishermen from being caught in the blasts.

But the British freighter, Burhill was unable to reach nearby Ogden Point Docks before the blow. It anchored about two miles off shore. It took a beating before reaching port, officials said.

The storm then let up. It started again in mid-afternoon. Following the same route, it uprooted thousands of big trees, tore down power and telephone lines and poles, ripped off roofs and shattered windows.

It lost a lot of punch by the time it hit Victoria but still caused damage.

the Legislature in his own district, and was a member of the Government during practically all of his career in the House.

"When the Workmen's Compensation Board was organized he resigned and took the difficult job of chairman until his health failed. He made a study of labour problems and was the Provincial Government's representative on the War Labour Board. He was appointed administrator when over the Provincial Government took over the Potato Growers Association."

"His family can take pride in his outstanding career and the integrity and enterprise of his character, and the Province can, through me, express its sympathy and its loss of a great and good citizen."

nineteen new pews had been placed in the church and these were lost.

Heavy Loss Father MacDonald said yesterday afternoon that insurance on the building and fixtures amounted to $24,000. Father MacDonald said that replacement would cost at least $50,000. Looking forward to replacing the building he said he thought that the present foundations could be used in the erection of a new building. In the meantime the church services will be held in the hall which was spared from the flames.

Yesterday afternoon efforts were being directed towards extinguishing a fire which still burned in the cellar.

Construction of the Church was commenced in 1874 and the outside completed the next year under the direction of Rev. Ronald B. MacDonald, pastor at Miscouche. The interior was not finished until seven years later, in 1882, under the guidance of another Miscouche pastor, Rev. N. B. A. Boudreau.

The original Church was only 50 x 35 feet in area. The construction work was the late Ewen MacKinnon. Several additions were later made to the church, the latest being last summer.

Named The Church of the Immaculate Conception, the church was the centre of worship for the parish which was formed from parts of Emont Bay, Grand River and Miscouche parishes.

WARTIME BRITISH COMMONWEALTH AIR TRAINING PLAN IS REBORN

Air Commodore H. M. Carscallen, deputy member for air operations, is seen shaking hands with Pilot Officer M. Stone, following arrival in Montreal of 28 youthful Britons who will set in motion again the machinery of the wartime British Commonwealth air training plan.

The students, mostly former members of the air training corps, an organization similar to Canada's Air Cadet league, will receive flying training at Gemli, Man., after a two-week indoctrination course at London, Ont.

This would raise the total budget by about one-third. Taxes already take more than 40 per cent of the national income.

Many of Britain's 50,000,000 people feel sharp disappointment that years of bloodshed and sacrifice have brought them only to the uncertain threshold of more sacrifice and perhaps more bloodshed.

There is no rush to join the civil defence services. But the national mood does not appear to be defeatist, nor do the people seem to believe that war is unavoidable.
