From the Terrible
Itching, Burning
Tortures of ...
Eczema on the Scalp

Some of the cures effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment are more like miracles than anything else. The case recorded here was one of the worst ever brought to the attention of Toronto's best physicians, and when doctors gave up all hope of recovery Dr. Chase's Ointment was successful in producing a perfect cure.

Mr. James Scott, 136 Wright Ave., Toronto, states: "My boy Tom, aged ten, was for nearly three years afflicted with a bad form of Eczema of the scalp, which was very unsightly and resisted all kinds of remedies and doctor's treatment. His head was in a terrible state. We had to keep him from school, and at times his head would bleed, and the child would scream with agony. For two and a half years we battled with it in vain, but at last found a cure in Dr. Chase's Ointment. About five boxes were used. The original sores dried up, leaving the skin in its normal condition. To say it is a pleasure to testify to the wonderful merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment is putting it very mildly."

FOR THE WOMEN

An Excellent Thing in Women.

There are girls who seem to fancy their friends are possessed of gutta-percha eardrums. If there is any one thing that a girl can do which will make her unattractive sooner than talking in a loud voice it has yet to be discovered. She is branded as uncouth uncultured and uneverything. Voices are like gowns—as long as they suit the occasion they are correct and their impression always good. Good common sense must direct where the force should be applied. One of the greatest faults in talking is committed by placing the force incorrectly. How often the word "and" of so little real importance in the sentence, is made most conspicuous. The secret of really effective talking lies in placing the force on the words of most meaning in the sentences. Care can cultivate that power. The pitch of voices exercises the greatest influence over us. We immediately read the character of a high-voiced person as irritable and nervous. Low pitched voices seem to imply a strong and even temperament. No end of pleasant things are written about high, clear voices, silver tones and ringing laughs but brought into constant use these sometimes beautiful tones degenerate into shrillness, or even squeakiness. For all around, every-day use a voice pitched low rather than high has the best wearing qualities.—Katherine Egatston Juermann in Woman's Home Companion.

Tea as it Should Be.

For making tea use either a china or earthen pot, which you are never to wash, but clean by scalding. Pour boiling water in the pot, and stand it on the stove long enough to make sure it is heated through and through; then pour it all off, and put it in the tea—one teaspoonful to each half pint of water to be used. Now put in the water, which should just have reached the boil, take the teakettle off the stove remove the lid, stand the teapot in the opening, and let it remain five or six minutes. It is best in instructing a servant to tell her to look into the teakettle when she thinks it is boiling, to see that the water is really bubbling. The above method gives an excellent cupful of bright tea, but an added step in the process will give a still finer result. It is to wash the tea by pouring off the first cupful of water instantly after adding it, then proceeding as above. This quick boiling water rinse carries off dust impurities, and the tea when made has as a consequence a finer bouquet.—Woman's Home Companion.

Furniture Polish.

The following receipt, says an exchange, will restore the original polish of furniture, especially in the case of such articles as pianos, fancy tables, cabinets, lacquered ware, etc., which have become tarnished by use. Make a polish by putting half an ounce of shellac, the same quantity of gum lac and a quarter of an ounce of gum sandarac into a pint of water. Put them all together in a stone bottle near the fire, shaking it often; as soon as the gums are dissolved it is ready for use. Then take a roller of woollen rags—soft old broad cloth will do nicely—put a little of the polish on it also a few drops of linseed oil. Rub the surface to be polished with this, going round and round over a small space at a time until it becomes quite smooth; then finish by a second rubbing with spirits of wine and more of the polish. Furniture thus treated will have a brilliant lustre equal to new.

Bread Cake.

When you are moulding the bread to put it into the pans take off one pint of dough, put into a bowl, add one cupful of sugar, a quarter of a cupful of butter and two eggs beaten. Beat this with a heavy wire beater until the mixture is smooth and the dough has lost all its stringy condition. Add the grated yellow rind of a lemon, and pour it into a shallow greased pan. When light, sprinkle the top lightly with granulated sugar, dust over a little cinnamon and sprinkle over some chopped nuts or fruit. Press them lightly into the cake without spoiling its texture and bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes.— Mrs. Rorer.

Try This Receipt

"How nice this cake is! Would you be willing to give me your receipt for it?" asked a visitor at the tea-table of old Phoebe Taft.

"Why, certainly. It's as easy as nothing to make it. I just take as much flour as I think I'll need, and quite a little dab o' butter and a pinch or two o' creamy-tartar, an' sevral eggs if they're plenty, an' less if they ain't, and mebbe a mite o' salt, and stir em until I git tired, an' bake it in an averidge oven until I think it's done. That's all there is to it."

Grandmother's Cold Cream Jar.

A writer in the Germantown Telegraph declares that our grandmothers excelled us in dainty trifles. One of the prettiest ornaments on the dresser was an egg. At first sight it looked exactly like an egg from the pantry, for the shell was unpainted; only as one looked at it, she saw that one end was broken. This eggshell was used as a cold cream jar. When making cold cream, our grandmothers would pour it into an empty shell which had been carefully prepared. After the egg was taken out the shell was washed and sweetened with perfumery, with a few drops left in the bottom. The cold cream was poured in and left to harden. The result was an eggshell full of lovely white cosmetic.

Love of Perfumes.

Perfumes, though still extensively used, are by no means so popular as in ancient times. The orientals, especially, made the freest use of them. Rooms were fumigated with vapors of burning resins, the body was anointed with aromatic qualities mixed with some plant, and scents were worn about the person in gold and silver boxes. Beds, other articles of furniture and garments were perfumed with myrrh, aloes and cinnamon. When entertainments were given, a servant anointed the head of each guest as he seated himself and sprinkled his person with rosewater. The Talmud directs the apportioning of a tenth part of the bride's dowry for purchase of perfumes.

SEED WHEAT

DEAR SIR,—

I am very glad to be able to inform you that after testing the WHITE FIFE WHEAT, imported by you from the North West last fall, I have no hesitation in recommending it to the farmers of P. E. Island.

I sowed twenty grains without making any special selection, and out of the twenty, nineteen grew strong and healthy.

Farmers in this section of the country pronounce your seed wheat the best sample that they have seen imported to this Island.

Yours etc.,
