Flyers Fail Again

FORBIE Kennedy and his Flyers will try again for their second triumph in City Baseball League competition when they play host to Buck Whitlock's Stars this afternoon at Memorial Field.

Forbie's last went their first five games without a triumph. They played good baseball but the breaks were all against them. Four of the games could have easily been ended up in the win column for the Kennedy-managed outfit. But they didn't and it was game number six before the Flyers fashioned a win. They crushed the league leading Stars in that one and the Flyers and their supporters were hollering to watch their smoke. Roger MacLeod had tamed the league leaders on four hits in that 12-3 triumph and Kennedy made no secret that he intended using Roger to get back in the thick of things.

FORBIE kept his word Thursday night and for a time it looked as though his strategy was working. Roger held the Dodgers without a base for the first four innings. He was finally relieved by Kip Reedy in the ninth but we thought Forbie would have put in another hurler long before that. We aren't too much interested about the ball game itself but rather about MacLeod's arm which certainly must have been sore in the late innings of the contest. Indeed we are wondering if Roger will be back on the mound in a hurry. Our guess is that the great young outpunch will not lose form in several games to come. He appears to be laboring Thursday night and that must have been a sign of soreness in the arm or back.

Forbie had plenty of pitch for several games to come. He appears to be chomping at the bit and Roger will be called on 'All' in the ninth.

Billy Was Great

WE thought young Billy Weatherbie pitched a stout-hearted game in registering his victory Thursday evening. The young man scattered seven hits and was cool as a cucumber under fire.

His handling of the Flyers' big guns was one of the highlights. Roger MacLeod has been pounding the baseball with more authority than anybody in the league. Thursday Billy held Roger to a single in four trips. He struck Roger next once and had him ground out short and to the pitcher on his other excursions to the plate.

Handing Forbes Kennedy had even more trouble with Weatherbie than did Mr. MacLeod. Billy didn't allow Kennedy a hit in four times at bat, struck him out once and didn't allow Forbes to get the ball out of the infield.

The Flyers scored two runs in the contest and no other runners got as far as third base in the contest.

That's pretty fair handling in a league and we salute young Mr. Weatherbie for his outstanding effort.

Rookie And Veteran

A ROOKIE and a veteran provided the fielding gems of the game.

The veteran was Kip Reedy, who if memory serves us right, started his baseball as a smart young hurler. Kip seemed unashamed as he robbed Reg McClintock of at least a single with a tremendous catch of a live drive in the third inning.

The rookie was Jim Duffy who played errorless ball at short. He was really doing his finest play. Jim made an sensational stop of a scorcher hit by Irv MacKinnon in the second. The ball seemed headed for left field when Jim reached for it. He bobbed up to the ball and threw a strike to Kip Reedy at first. Irv was out by a step.

FANS are witnessing a grand brand of baseball at Memorial Field. Things are running smoothly. The only fellow who isn't co-operating is the weatherman and he promises to do better from now on.

Why not back such a fine effort? Get out there to these games and show the boys you are interested. You'll be glad they are serving up. We've heard nothing but compliments from those attending.

We're sure you too will be happy with the entertainment.

SPORT OF KINGS Georgetown Team To Enter Maritime Ball Playoffs

By ED CLINTON
Souris Bureau of The Guardian

The Georgetown Eagles, who have absorbed only one defeat in eight games to date, have decided to try it on their own in Maritimes play-offs. There is a possibility that either may follow in their footsteps.

Early in the season it had been decided by the teams that they would not enter as individual teams for two reasons. One is an expensive proposition, what with the necessary equipment and the amount of travel that must be done. And the rewards do not equal the expenses. The teams always lose. So it was decided to select an All-Star team that might possibly have a chance of winning and all teams would share expenses.

The way it stands now, it could very well be that the first team that Georgetown would play would be the League All-Stars. Both teams would play a friendly event matched as regards pitching, and would also be fairly even defensively. The big difference would show at the plate. With the cream of the crop available, the team should prove to be fairly strong with the bat.

We'll just have to wait and see what develops.

Three of the four playoff positions in the King's County League seem to be fairly well sewn up. Of course, with the schedule only half over, it's still too early to tell, but it does look as though the Montreal Marvells could almost count their way into the playoffs. After a 3-0 victory over the St. John's team, Marvell could almost count their way into the playoffs. U.S. GOLFER Arnold Palmer put on a real exhibition for fans in capturing the British Open yesterday. The LaTrobe, Pa., sharpshooter set two records and equaled another in winning the British classic. Kol Nagle, 41-year-old Australian who edged Palmer by one stroke in the 1960 British Open, was second with 282.

Palmer worked over the record book all day. He had a record of 67 in the morning over the 7,045-yard par 36 - 36 - 72 Old Troon course. His total of 71-69-69-276 was two shots better than any previous total in this 102-year-old championship.

His winning margin of six shots equaled the previous record.

The last man to win the British title by six shots was American Walter Hagen, who whipped Johnny Farrell by six shots in 1929 at Muirfield in Scotland.

NAGLE SHOOTS 282. Nagle, a rugged scrapper as they come, finished with 71-70-70-282. Then came Kip Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif., with 75-73-73-289 and Brian Huggett of England with 75-74-69-289.

Bob Charles, the left-handed hitter from New Zealand, was next with 75-70-70-290.

Sam Snead, the 50-year-old alumnus from Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and Australia's four-time winner of this event, Peter Thomson, were tied with 282 in sixth place.

Stened had rounds of 76-73-72-281 and Thomson shot 72 and 71 Friday to go with his first two rounds of 70 and 77.

U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, from Columbus, Ohio shot 80-74-79-305.

The fans swirled all over the fairways, moved at times when the players lived up their punts, and talked at their vital shouting matches.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gene Fullmer, the National Boxing Association world middleweight champion, will defend his crown against Dick Tiger of Nigeria August 27, or a preliminary fight will be held to decide the undisputed crown.

Recording his eighth triumph among 10 decisions, Koonce fanned four as he trimmed the Reds a third time to offset a single loss to Cincinnati.

The announcement meant the second placement of Fullmer-Paul Pender fight that was to have decided the undisputed crown.

After the Cubs scored the game's only run in the sixth, Hernandez and umpire restrained Chicago third baseman Ron Santo and Joser Bob Purkey, a 14-year winner who suffered his third loss, from engaging in budding fistfights.

Tiger, top ranked contender in the NBA ratings, will meet Fullmer in a 15-rounder at Caesars Park.

Santo, returning to the Chicago dugout after delivering a sacrifice fly as a 1-0 win for the Cubs, was scheduled at night, with Cleveland at Baltimore, Detroit at Chicago, Washington at Minnesota, Boston at Kansas City and New York at Los Angeles.

Fullmer will get 60 per cent of the gate and all the television rights. Tiger will get only an unannounced percentage of the gate.

Barefoot Runner May Set Record

By PAUL WESTROOK
LONDON (CP)—At an insignificant track meet eight years ago, Bruce Tulloh took his six spikes and won a three-mile race.

Probable pitchers for today's major league games, won and lost records in parentheses: American League

Ever since he's been running barefoot and winning races, Tulloh there are experts who say this hairy, 26-year-old botanist from Portsmouth will achieve his ultimate goal Saturday and crack the world record for the three miles.

New York (Suffern 8-2) at Los Angeles (Ken 6-6). Detroit (Birmingham 4-7) at Chicago (Baltimore 1-3). Washington (Outes 4-1) at Minnesota (Kalt 8-4). Cleveland (Ramos 4-6) at Grand 4-3) at Kansas (Pappas 9-5).

The Saturday race is one of the chief attractions in the British championships at London's White City Stadium, and Tulloh will be getting his first really stiff competition of the season from young Kild, Canada's 18-year-old distance star.

Los Angeles (Williams 7-9) at Los Angeles (Anderson 3-8). San Francisco (Marichal 12-3) at Philadelphia (Green 5-2). St. Louis (Washington 7-4) at Milwaukee (Shaw 9-4). Cincinnati (O'Donnell 8-9) at Chicago (Hobbs 1-9). Houston (Brace 6-2) at Pittsburgh (Law 7-4).

With a strong British field to act as pacemakers, track experts figure either Tulloh or Kild could get around the 12 laps in 17:10, the world record set by New Zealander Murray Halberg last year.
