IN MEMORIAM

MACDONALD—In loving and tender memory of Mrs. Barton E. MacDonald, who died October 12th, 1954.

Darling as I looked upon you in your Casket oh how still Oh the sorrow that came o'er me Like a cold and deathly chill When I realized dear Ethel I would hear your voice no more

Nor would see your smiling greeting As you met me at the Door And those dear hands so willing To help in every way It seemed so sad to think of them Being put beneath the Clay, Then came kind and loving hand shakes

Sympathy we have for you How it helped to bear the sorrow And gave courage to pull through.

I have learned from this sorrow Things I did not know before How much one can help another When their heart from grief is sore

And where are my feet shall wander In this world we never know What may happen any moment Or where we may have to go

But whether it be in P.E. Island Or some land across the Sea Kindly acts of Friends and Neighbours

They shall not forgotten be I could not expect dear Ethel A reward the same as you For my heart was not as pure dear

Or as tender good and true But I hope that God in Heaven Through the blood of his dear Son

Will be willing to forgive me All wrong deeds I may have done And that in some place we know not

Where there is no grief or pain When life's struggles all are over

We shall some day meet again The dear old Home is vacant now

It seems sad to see it there The place that we in childhood played

When our hearts were free from care. But I suppose it's not much difference

For the time is drawing near When I must say goodbye to earth

And all I do to that dear, Ethel Just exactly where you are And was certain you were happy I would sooner be by far.

Then to get ten thousand dollars And have luxuries untold For those things don't bring happiness

When we are getting old. Barton E. MacDonald, Bothwell, P.E. Island.

PARKMAN—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Bessie Parkman who passed away Oct. 12, 1951.

It was in the sad month of October That we stood by an open grave, And watched friends lower our mother

We would have gladly died to save But we knew our thoughts couldn't waken.

Her soul in its silent clay, So we laid our hearts down beside her And silently walked away.

Always remembered by her daughter Hazel, Mrs. Edward Larter.
