

"Proudly We Present" Vice-Pres. Una MacLean

"Presenting Federation Vice-Presidents for 1958-60" is the heading in the Business and Professional Woman magazine for July and August. The first vice-president is Miss Una MacLean and the vice-presidents are Miss Bess Forbes, Mrs. Mangery Pewter and Mrs. Edith Waterman.

UNA MACLEAN

Princess Edward Island proudly makes a claim to Miss Una MacLean because her forbears came from the Brae in this province. Miss MacLean was elected vice-president of National Federation in 1954, and has held this office for the past four years. She has served the Calgary Club as secretary, vice-president and president.

She headed the Alberta equal pay committee in 1953 and presented a brief to the Alberta government requesting equal pay legislation. In 1953-54 she was a member of the national survey and research committee.

She was born in Sunnybrook, Alberta, and educated there, following which she attended the University of Manitoba. She served two years with the Canadian Women's Army Corps at Ottawa, studying political economy. In 1950 she returned to Calgary where she is now employed with Radio Station CKXL and the Calgary Chamber of Commerce.

Miss MacLean is one of the youngest members of the Business and Professional Women's Club. This brilliant young woman has already achieved a great deal and there is much more in store for her—not the least of which is a successful political career.

HAPPENINGS

The girls choir, Grades VIII and IX of the Rosemont High School, representing Music Section of Montreal Schools, performed works from the "Elijah" neo spirituals and a fantasy on nursery rhymes arranged by Dr. Leslie R. Bell.

The occasion was the 94th annual convention of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec held Oct. 9th and 10, 1958 at the High School of Montreal.

The choir was conducted by Mrs. John Schieler, the former Miss Ruth Boswell.

Mrs. J.A. Lewis of Moncton was a visitor to Charlottetown for a few days this week. Mrs. Lewis was the former Marjorie Holman and her numerous friends here were delighted to see her again.

Dr. and Mrs. Ian MacMillan of New Glasgow, P.E.I. accompanied by Dr. Peter MacDonald of Crapaud, P.E.I. left Monday morning by plane for New York City where the two physicians will attend a course at the Memorial Hospital. This course is sponsored by the P.E.I. division of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Fire Prevention Week has run this year from October 5 through October 11 the same dates as the Business and Professional Women's Week. Fire Prevention Week is the oldest of special "weeks" in North America. It was first proclaimed as a week by President Harding for the United States and General Lord Byng for Canada in 1922. It was actually initiated in 1910 as Fire Prevention Day by the National Fire Protection Association, which continues to sponsor the observance.

Percy Buzbee is an international authority on fire safety and general manager of the National Fire Protection Association since 1939. He has been running a series of articles on the standards and codes for fire safety.

Mr. Garfield Stewart of the Imperial Oil Co., Calgary and Vancouver is at present at Harvard University for five months taking a business administration course. Mr. Stewart is a nephew of Mrs. Russell MacLaren, New Perth.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Peck have been recent visitors to Toronto. Mr. Peck has been appearing in the interests of the first motion picture in which he is both star and producer—the Big Country.

Proposals of Business and Professional Women's Week he was welcomed at Toronto City Hall by Acting Mayor Jean Newman. She presented the actor with a cigarette lighter bearing the city's crest in thanks for his contributions to the United Appeal Drive.

Con. Newman was presented by Peck with a ten-gallon hat bearing the title of his movies. There was quite an avalanche of young women bearing autograph books. To all this Mrs. Peck, a slender, mink-clad dusky blonde, smiled approval.

Mrs. Earle Livingstone has recently returned from Montreal, where she visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stirling Frizzell. While in Montreal Mrs. Livingstone, Mrs. Frizzell and two children motored to Tewksbury, Mass., visiting at the homes of Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Stetson Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Matheson, Mermaid, and their daughter Marlene returned home after spending a vacation with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chandler, Guelph, Ontario. They also visited Vera Matheson, Niagara Falls, and other relatives.

Home. The hostesses opened and presented the many lovely gifts to the bride, while Miss Margaret McNeill, R.N. read the accompanying good wishes. A delicious buffet lunch was served.

ELIEN'S DIARY

This Crescent Isle Has The Greatest Blessings

Thanksgiving Day! What does it mean to folks of the farm? More we would say, infinitely more to us than to those in many of the other walks of life. Excepting perhaps those who do business in deep waters—the fishermen who brave so much to gain a living from the seas.

They too it would seem, work hand in hand with the Creator—with Him who knew the little boat and the fishermen well, and from amongst them called those who were to be some of His fishers of men.

Yes, the fisher-folk. And we of the farms, who sow and plant, and watch the clouds and hear the winds in passing. But have faith that because there is seed-time there is also promise of harvest. And when the new greens of springtime deepen into summer shades—and in autumn, when the wagons bear down the farm-lane the gifts of the meadows, and when they bring in the golden sheaves, and granaries are replenished, and the fresh of the garden stuff comes in, colorful and good, it would be an ungrateful heart indeed that would not wish the Psalmist praise Him for all His wondrous works.

Thanksgiving Day. It is an occasion to remember much for which to give thanks on this green, and red, crescent Isle. The greater blessings: the freedoms we enjoy, food and shelter too and the joy of having loved ones, good neighbors and friends.

And the small intangible blessings we may sometimes take too casually in our busy round—the loveliness of earth; the laughter of children and the little paths that lead to the kindly hearts of home; for familiar hills and vales and the blue of tidal rivers that these days wind between scenes of enchantment; for white churches, and schools, and villages that cluster at crossroads, each house with a tale all its own; for hollyhocks against a garden-fence and pumpkins ripening goldenly to highlight small ones'.

Hallowe'en; for happy morning

troubing near; For sweet laborious days and restful nights; For work to do, and strength to do the work— We thank Thee, Lord!

Thank Tuesday — — Dairy, Good-night.

The golden noons full with promised life. The matchless pageant of the evening skies, The wide flung gates — the gleams of Paradise, Supreme visions of Thine artistry;

The sweet soft gloaming and the friendly stars; The vesper stillness and the creeping shades; The moon's pale majesty; the pulsing dome, Wherein we feel the great heart

June Louise Cousins Is Wed In Wellesley

White chrysanthemums and stephanotis decorated St. Andrew's Church, Wellesley, Sept. 7, for the double ring ceremony at which Miss June Louise Cousins of Wellesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cousins of California, was married to Chester William Storey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Franklin Storey of Watertown.

The bride is a niece of former Waltham Mayor G. Chauncey Cousins and the granddaughter of the late Dr. Nicholas W. Cousins of Waltham. She was given in marriage by her uncle Wyman Holmes, Jr.

Rev. Samuel Johnston, rector of St. Andrew's Church, performed the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Thomas Proctor, a professor at Wellesley College.

The bride's white rosepoint lace and tulle gown was of ballerina length with sabrina neckline and long sleeves. Her elbow-length

"THANKSGIVING"
In these times thanksgiving for the bounty of the Merciful One consists in the illumination of the heart and the feelings of the soul. This is the reality of thanksgiving. But, although offering thanks through speech or writing is approvable, yet in comparison with that is but unreal for the foundation is spiritual feelings and merciful sentiments. Render thanks and praise unto the Merciful One and be of them that are truly thankful . . . Baha'u'llah. From Sacred Writings of Baha' World Faith.
