

"Coovers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

Caseway Case Feasible By Prince WP After Probe

Gov't Majority Seen For '63-'64 Sessions

By GEORGE CONDON
A notice of motion concerning more downtown parking space brought before the City Council last evening and immediately touched off a debate in the council chamber on a day before any definite decisions are reached.

The notice, placed before the council by W.R. MacNeill, chairman of the police commission, concerned the expropriation of the Scantlebury property from 82 to 92 Kent Street as a public parking lot.

By MEMBERS ATTEND
Attending the meeting in force were persons interested in the parking problem. Approximately 20 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the discussion were present at the Council Chamber on the soundness of this move.

Councillor Arthur Gormley wondered if it were not possible to use this land except for the actual business establishment used by Wallace Scantlebury. Mr. Gormley asked the councillor to note exactly what the motion called for. "It not only asks this man to sell his land, but to give up his business as well," he said.

MOVING BUSINESS
MacNeill explained that it was not as if the man was being driven from his livelihood as Scantlebury had announced quite some time ago that he planned to move his business to Richmond Street. At this point Deputy Mayor Cox, presiding in the absence of Mayor Gaudet, reminded the councillors that the time for debate would be at the next meeting when the motion itself would come up. He explained that the notice was only for approval of the site as a possible parking area needing further study.

Other possible parking areas were also mentioned. It was suggested that parallel parking by the curb around Connaught Square would provide space for approximately 200 cars. However, no definite stands were taken.

Councillor Allison Gillie won (Continued on page 5, col. 4).

F.K. MacNutt (left) district marine agent, is seen here presenting Capt. C.A. Arsenault (centre) with a plaque on receiving from the Canadian Coast Guard Service. The presentation...

RETIRING CAPTAIN IS HONORED

MAJOR C. A. ARSENAULT, a retired Canadian Coast Guard Service, was presented with a plaque by F.K. MacNutt, district marine agent, at a ceremony held at the Prince Edward Island Hotel last evening.

Major Arsenault, who served for over 40 years of faithful service to the marine service, was presented with the plaque by MacNutt, who is retiring from the service as a seaman on the ship "The Prince Edward".

Belgian-Born Student Admits Co-ordinator Role With FLQ

By BERNARD DUFRENE
MONTREAL (CP) — Georges Schoeters, 31, Belgian-born economics student, testified under oath Monday that he was the co-ordinator of the Front de Liberation Quebecois, a terrorist group held responsible by police for a recent wave of bombings in Quebec province.

Schoeters at first refused to testify when called as a witness at a coroner's inquest into the death of Wilfred Vincent O'Neil, 65, a night watchman killed April 20 by a time-bomb that exploded at the rear of an army recruiting centre here.

However, he agreed to reply to questions about the FLQ and its activities. He said he would not name any other members of the group that has been hunted by police for three months.

He is one of 15 persons held as material witnesses for the inquest, whose names were released for the first time. The others are:

The first was Brouillette, a former member of the FLQ and a former member of the FLQ at the University of Montreal, who said he became part of the FLQ at its inception in early February.

Lieut.-Governor Appointment Expected Soon

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
OTTAWA — A new lieutenant-governor for Prince Edward Island is expected to be appointed in about two weeks, Solicitor General J. Watson MacNaught said here Monday.

Earlier, there had been speculation that present lieutenant-governor, Walter Hyndman, might be requested to stay on for some length of time beyond the usual five-year term. Mr. Hyndman's normal term expired March 31 this year, but his extension was based on the fact that the confederation celebrations in Charlottetown will be held next year and an experienced lieutenant-governor might be preferable.

However, Mr. MacNaught's statement Monday puts an end to such speculation. It also makes it clear that the recent announcement that Lieutenant-Governor J. Leonard O'Brien of New Brunswick will stay on past his normal retirement date has no parallel with the situation in P.E.I.

INSIDE TODAY

- Announcements, notices 13
- Births, deaths 13
- Classified 12, 13
- Commercials 11
- Editorials 4
- Finance, markets 9
- Queens, Kings, City 10
- Summerside 3
- Prince County 2
- St. John's 10
- Women's 7

MOSCOW TALKS SCHEDULED

WASHINGTON (CP) — High-level negotiators of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union will meet in Moscow next month in a fresh East-West effort at hammering out a nuclear test-ban treaty.

Announcement of the mid-July meeting of representatives of President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev, was made Monday in all three capitals.

Kennedy announced at the time that the U.S. will conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere so long as the Soviet Union and other nations hold back their tests.

Kennedy spoke of the test-ban talks as a "badly-needed first step on negotiations" where the "talk is in sight." But he cautioned that the test-ban is "no substitute for a formal binding treaty—but I hope it will be an advance step."

HOPE FOR SUMMIT
British officials seemed more optimistic. They expressed hope that a summit conference would follow the Moscow talks.

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

Hopes For a Nuclear Test Ban May Be Shaved Permanently

WASHINGTON (CP) — High-level negotiators of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union will meet in Moscow next month in a fresh East-West effort at hammering out a nuclear test-ban treaty.

Announcement of the mid-July meeting of representatives of President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev, was made Monday in all three capitals.

Kennedy announced at the time that the U.S. will conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere so long as the Soviet Union and other nations hold back their tests.

Kennedy spoke of the test-ban talks as a "badly-needed first step on negotiations" where the "talk is in sight." But he cautioned that the test-ban is "no substitute for a formal binding treaty—but I hope it will be an advance step."

HOPE FOR SUMMIT
British officials seemed more optimistic. They expressed hope that a summit conference would follow the Moscow talks.

Maclean's Appointment, Harkness Dropped

OTTAWA (CP)—Membership of the Commons defence committee was announced Monday night in the Commons minus the name of former defence minister Douglas Harkness who quit the previous government on the grounds of former Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's resignation. Mr. Harkness resigned from former prime minister Diefenbaker's cabinet because he thought it necessary for the administration to obtain nuclear weapons carriers already purchased for the army and air force.

Progressive Conservatives: Gerald W. Baldwin (Peace River), Gordon Churchill (Winnipeg South Centre), R. G. L. Fairweather (Royal), Marcel Lambert (Edmonton West), Donald MacLennan (Cape Breton), Angus J. MacLean (Queens), Paul Martin (Pentlands), T. E. Cameron (New Democratic Party); Andrew Brown (Toronto, Greenwood), Harold Hogg (Vancouver).

Mr. Harkness said he is disappointed at being left off the list.

Searching Probe Set to Profoundly Reveal

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan has announced a searching judicial inquiry into the Profumo scandal now rocking his government. Scotland Yard hinted at new shocks to come.

Fighting for his political life, the 65-year-old Conservative party leader disclosed Monday that Lord Chancellor Dilhorne, will be held in custody for a security investigation security aspects of the affair and will report this.

While Macmillan conferred on strategy with his top aides, a magistrate refused bail to society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in the scandal, after Scotland Yard said new, more serious charges may be placed against Ward. The osteopath was ordered held for a preliminary hearing next Monday on charges of living on the earnings of prostitutes.

Scotland Yard said it feared Ward might tamper with prosecution witnesses if he got out of jail.

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

HEAVY PROBE SET TO REVEAL

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan has announced a searching judicial inquiry into the Profumo scandal now rocking his government. Scotland Yard hinted at new shocks to come.

Fighting for his political life, the 65-year-old Conservative party leader disclosed Monday that Lord Chancellor Dilhorne, will be held in custody for a security investigation security aspects of the affair and will report this.

While Macmillan conferred on strategy with his top aides, a magistrate refused bail to society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in the scandal, after Scotland Yard said new, more serious charges may be placed against Ward. The osteopath was ordered held for a preliminary hearing next Monday on charges of living on the earnings of prostitutes.

Scotland Yard said it feared Ward might tamper with prosecution witnesses if he got out of jail.

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

Council Debates Parking

By GEORGE CONDON
A notice of motion concerning more downtown parking space brought before the City Council last evening and immediately touched off a debate in the council chamber on a day before any definite decisions are reached.

The notice, placed before the council by W.R. MacNeill, chairman of the police commission, concerned the expropriation of the Scantlebury property from 82 to 92 Kent Street as a public parking lot.

By MEMBERS ATTEND
Attending the meeting in force were persons interested in the parking problem. Approximately 20 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the discussion were present at the Council Chamber on the soundness of this move.

Councillor Arthur Gormley wondered if it were not possible to use this land except for the actual business establishment used by Wallace Scantlebury. Mr. Gormley asked the councillor to note exactly what the motion called for. "It not only asks this man to sell his land, but to give up his business as well," he said.

MOVING BUSINESS
MacNeill explained that it was not as if the man was being driven from his livelihood as Scantlebury had announced quite some time ago that he planned to move his business to Richmond Street. At this point Deputy Mayor Cox, presiding in the absence of Mayor Gaudet, reminded the councillors that the time for debate would be at the next meeting when the motion itself would come up. He explained that the notice was only for approval of the site as a possible parking area needing further study.

Other possible parking areas were also mentioned. It was suggested that parallel parking by the curb around Connaught Square would provide space for approximately 200 cars. However, no definite stands were taken.

Councillor Allison Gillie won (Continued on page 5, col. 4).

Belgian-Born Student Admits Co-ordinator Role With FLQ

By BERNARD DUFRENE
MONTREAL (CP) — Georges Schoeters, 31, Belgian-born economics student, testified under oath Monday that he was the co-ordinator of the Front de Liberation Quebecois, a terrorist group held responsible by police for a recent wave of bombings in Quebec province.

Schoeters at first refused to testify when called as a witness at a coroner's inquest into the death of Wilfred Vincent O'Neil, 65, a night watchman killed April 20 by a time-bomb that exploded at the rear of an army recruiting centre here.

However, he agreed to reply to questions about the FLQ and its activities. He said he would not name any other members of the group that has been hunted by police for three months.

He is one of 15 persons held as material witnesses for the inquest, whose names were released for the first time. The others are:

The first was Brouillette, a former member of the FLQ and a former member of the FLQ at the University of Montreal, who said he became part of the FLQ at its inception in early February.

Maclean's Appointment, Harkness Dropped

OTTAWA (CP)—Membership of the Commons defence committee was announced Monday night in the Commons minus the name of former defence minister Douglas Harkness who quit the previous government on the grounds of former Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's resignation. Mr. Harkness resigned from former prime minister Diefenbaker's cabinet because he thought it necessary for the administration to obtain nuclear weapons carriers already purchased for the army and air force.

Progressive Conservatives: Gerald W. Baldwin (Peace River), Gordon Churchill (Winnipeg South Centre), R. G. L. Fairweather (Royal), Marcel Lambert (Edmonton West), Donald MacLennan (Cape Breton), Angus J. MacLean (Queens), Paul Martin (Pentlands), T. E. Cameron (New Democratic Party); Andrew Brown (Toronto, Greenwood), Harold Hogg (Vancouver).

Mr. Harkness said he is disappointed at being left off the list.

Searching Probe Set to Profoundly Reveal

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan has announced a searching judicial inquiry into the Profumo scandal now rocking his government. Scotland Yard hinted at new shocks to come.

Fighting for his political life, the 65-year-old Conservative party leader disclosed Monday that Lord Chancellor Dilhorne, will be held in custody for a security investigation security aspects of the affair and will report this.

While Macmillan conferred on strategy with his top aides, a magistrate refused bail to society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in the scandal, after Scotland Yard said new, more serious charges may be placed against Ward. The osteopath was ordered held for a preliminary hearing next Monday on charges of living on the earnings of prostitutes.

Scotland Yard said it feared Ward might tamper with prosecution witnesses if he got out of jail.

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

Caseway Case Feasible

By GEORGE CONDON
A notice of motion concerning more downtown parking space brought before the City Council last evening and immediately touched off a debate in the council chamber on a day before any definite decisions are reached.

The notice, placed before the council by W.R. MacNeill, chairman of the police commission, concerned the expropriation of the Scantlebury property from 82 to 92 Kent Street as a public parking lot.

By MEMBERS ATTEND
Attending the meeting in force were persons interested in the parking problem. Approximately 20 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the discussion were present at the Council Chamber on the soundness of this move.

Councillor Arthur Gormley wondered if it were not possible to use this land except for the actual business establishment used by Wallace Scantlebury. Mr. Gormley asked the councillor to note exactly what the motion called for. "It not only asks this man to sell his land, but to give up his business as well," he said.

MOVING BUSINESS
MacNeill explained that it was not as if the man was being driven from his livelihood as Scantlebury had announced quite some time ago that he planned to move his business to Richmond Street. At this point Deputy Mayor Cox, presiding in the absence of Mayor Gaudet, reminded the councillors that the time for debate would be at the next meeting when the motion itself would come up. He explained that the notice was only for approval of the site as a possible parking area needing further study.

Other possible parking areas were also mentioned. It was suggested that parallel parking by the curb around Connaught Square would provide space for approximately 200 cars. However, no definite stands were taken.

Councillor Allison Gillie won (Continued on page 5, col. 4).

Belgian-Born Student Admits Co-ordinator Role With FLQ

By BERNARD DUFRENE
MONTREAL (CP) — Georges Schoeters, 31, Belgian-born economics student, testified under oath Monday that he was the co-ordinator of the Front de Liberation Quebecois, a terrorist group held responsible by police for a recent wave of bombings in Quebec province.

Schoeters at first refused to testify when called as a witness at a coroner's inquest into the death of Wilfred Vincent O'Neil, 65, a night watchman killed April 20 by a time-bomb that exploded at the rear of an army recruiting centre here.

However, he agreed to reply to questions about the FLQ and its activities. He said he would not name any other members of the group that has been hunted by police for three months.

He is one of 15 persons held as material witnesses for the inquest, whose names were released for the first time. The others are:

The first was Brouillette, a former member of the FLQ and a former member of the FLQ at the University of Montreal, who said he became part of the FLQ at its inception in early February.

Maclean's Appointment, Harkness Dropped

OTTAWA (CP)—Membership of the Commons defence committee was announced Monday night in the Commons minus the name of former defence minister Douglas Harkness who quit the previous government on the grounds of former Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's resignation. Mr. Harkness resigned from former prime minister Diefenbaker's cabinet because he thought it necessary for the administration to obtain nuclear weapons carriers already purchased for the army and air force.

Progressive Conservatives: Gerald W. Baldwin (Peace River), Gordon Churchill (Winnipeg South Centre), R. G. L. Fairweather (Royal), Marcel Lambert (Edmonton West), Donald MacLennan (Cape Breton), Angus J. MacLean (Queens), Paul Martin (Pentlands), T. E. Cameron (New Democratic Party); Andrew Brown (Toronto, Greenwood), Harold Hogg (Vancouver).

Mr. Harkness said he is disappointed at being left off the list.

Searching Probe Set to Profoundly Reveal

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan has announced a searching judicial inquiry into the Profumo scandal now rocking his government. Scotland Yard hinted at new shocks to come.

Fighting for his political life, the 65-year-old Conservative party leader disclosed Monday that Lord Chancellor Dilhorne, will be held in custody for a security investigation security aspects of the affair and will report this.

While Macmillan conferred on strategy with his top aides, a magistrate refused bail to society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in the scandal, after Scotland Yard said new, more serious charges may be placed against Ward. The osteopath was ordered held for a preliminary hearing next Monday on charges of living on the earnings of prostitutes.

Scotland Yard said it feared Ward might tamper with prosecution witnesses if he got out of jail.

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

Caseway Case Feasible

By GEORGE CONDON
A notice of motion concerning more downtown parking space brought before the City Council last evening and immediately touched off a debate in the council chamber on a day before any definite decisions are reached.

The notice, placed before the council by W.R. MacNeill, chairman of the police commission, concerned the expropriation of the Scantlebury property from 82 to 92 Kent Street as a public parking lot.

By MEMBERS ATTEND
Attending the meeting in force were persons interested in the parking problem. Approximately 20 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the discussion were present at the Council Chamber on the soundness of this move.

Councillor Arthur Gormley wondered if it were not possible to use this land except for the actual business establishment used by Wallace Scantlebury. Mr. Gormley asked the councillor to note exactly what the motion called for. "It not only asks this man to sell his land, but to give up his business as well," he said.

MOVING BUSINESS
MacNeill explained that it was not as if the man was being driven from his livelihood as Scantlebury had announced quite some time ago that he planned to move his business to Richmond Street. At this point Deputy Mayor Cox, presiding in the absence of Mayor Gaudet, reminded the councillors that the time for debate would be at the next meeting when the motion itself would come up. He explained that the notice was only for approval of the site as a possible parking area needing further study.

Other possible parking areas were also mentioned. It was suggested that parallel parking by the curb around Connaught Square would provide space for approximately 200 cars. However, no definite stands were taken.

Councillor Allison Gillie won (Continued on page 5, col. 4).

Belgian-Born Student Admits Co-ordinator Role With FLQ

By BERNARD DUFRENE
MONTREAL (CP) — Georges Schoeters, 31, Belgian-born economics student, testified under oath Monday that he was the co-ordinator of the Front de Liberation Quebecois, a terrorist group held responsible by police for a recent wave of bombings in Quebec province.

Schoeters at first refused to testify when called as a witness at a coroner's inquest into the death of Wilfred Vincent O'Neil, 65, a night watchman killed April 20 by a time-bomb that exploded at the rear of an army recruiting centre here.

However, he agreed to reply to questions about the FLQ and its activities. He said he would not name any other members of the group that has been hunted by police for three months.

He is one of 15 persons held as material witnesses for the inquest, whose names were released for the first time. The others are:

The first was Brouillette, a former member of the FLQ and a former member of the FLQ at the University of Montreal, who said he became part of the FLQ at its inception in early February.

Maclean's Appointment, Harkness Dropped

OTTAWA (CP)—Membership of the Commons defence committee was announced Monday night in the Commons minus the name of former defence minister Douglas Harkness who quit the previous government on the grounds of former Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's resignation. Mr. Harkness resigned from former prime minister Diefenbaker's cabinet because he thought it necessary for the administration to obtain nuclear weapons carriers already purchased for the army and air force.

Progressive Conservatives: Gerald W. Baldwin (Peace River), Gordon Churchill (Winnipeg South Centre), R. G. L. Fairweather (Royal), Marcel Lambert (Edmonton West), Donald MacLennan (Cape Breton), Angus J. MacLean (Queens), Paul Martin (Pentlands), T. E. Cameron (New Democratic Party); Andrew Brown (Toronto, Greenwood), Harold Hogg (Vancouver).

Mr. Harkness said he is disappointed at being left off the list.

Searching Probe Set to Profoundly Reveal

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan has announced a searching judicial inquiry into the Profumo scandal now rocking his government. Scotland Yard hinted at new shocks to come.

Fighting for his political life, the 65-year-old Conservative party leader disclosed Monday that Lord Chancellor Dilhorne, will be held in custody for a security investigation security aspects of the affair and will report this.

While Macmillan conferred on strategy with his top aides, a magistrate refused bail to society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in the scandal, after Scotland Yard said new, more serious charges may be placed against Ward. The osteopath was ordered held for a preliminary hearing next Monday on charges of living on the earnings of prostitutes.

Scotland Yard said it feared Ward might tamper with prosecution witnesses if he got out of jail.

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

Caseway Case Feasible

By GEORGE CONDON
A notice of motion concerning more downtown parking space brought before the City Council last evening and immediately touched off a debate in the council chamber on a day before any definite decisions are reached.

The notice, placed before the council by W.R. MacNeill, chairman of the police commission, concerned the expropriation of the Scantlebury property from 82 to 92 Kent Street as a public parking lot.

By MEMBERS ATTEND
Attending the meeting in force were persons interested in the parking problem. Approximately 20 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the discussion were present at the Council Chamber on the soundness of this move.

Councillor Arthur Gormley wondered if it were not possible to use this land except for the actual business establishment used by Wallace Scantlebury. Mr. Gormley asked the councillor to note exactly what the motion called for. "It not only asks this man to sell his land, but to give up his business as well," he said.

MOVING BUSINESS
MacNeill explained that it was not as if the man was being driven from his livelihood as Scantlebury had announced quite some time ago that he planned to move his business to Richmond Street. At this point Deputy Mayor Cox, presiding in the absence of Mayor Gaudet, reminded the councillors that the time for debate would be at the next meeting when the motion itself would come up. He explained that the notice was only for approval of the site as a possible parking area needing further study.

Other possible parking areas were also mentioned. It was suggested that parallel parking by the curb around Connaught Square would provide space for approximately 200 cars. However, no definite stands were taken.

Councillor Allison Gillie won (Continued on page 5, col. 4).

Belgian-Born Student Admits Co-ordinator Role With FLQ

By BERNARD DUFRENE
MONTREAL (CP) — Georges Schoeters, 31, Belgian-born economics student, testified under oath Monday that he was the co-ordinator of the Front de Liberation Quebecois, a terrorist group held responsible by police for a recent wave of bombings in Quebec province.

Schoeters at first refused to testify when called as a witness at a coroner's inquest into the death of Wilfred Vincent O'Neil, 65, a night watchman killed April 20 by a time-bomb that exploded at the rear of an army recruiting centre here.

However, he agreed to reply to questions about the FLQ and its activities. He said he would not name any other members of the group that has been hunted by police for three months.

He is one of 15 persons held as material witnesses for the inquest, whose names were released for the first time. The others are:

The first was Brouillette, a former member of the FLQ and a former member of the FLQ at the University of Montreal, who said he became part of the FLQ at its inception in early February.

Maclean's Appointment, Harkness Dropped

OTTAWA (CP)—Membership of the Commons defence committee was announced Monday night in the Commons minus the name of former defence minister Douglas Harkness who quit the previous government on the grounds of former Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's resignation. Mr. Harkness resigned from former prime minister Diefenbaker's cabinet because he thought it necessary for the administration to obtain nuclear weapons carriers already purchased for the army and air force.

Progressive Conservatives: Gerald W. Baldwin (Peace River), Gordon Churchill (Winnipeg South Centre), R. G. L. Fairweather (Royal), Marcel Lambert (Edmonton West), Donald MacLennan (Cape Breton), Angus J. MacLean (Queens), Paul Martin (Pentlands), T. E. Cameron (New Democratic Party); Andrew Brown (Toronto, Greenwood), Harold Hogg (Vancouver).

Mr. Harkness said he is disappointed at being left off the list.

Searching Probe Set to Profoundly Reveal

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan has announced a searching judicial inquiry into the Profumo scandal now rocking his government. Scotland Yard hinted at new shocks to come.

Fighting for his political life, the 65-year-old Conservative party leader disclosed Monday that Lord Chancellor Dilhorne, will be held in custody for a security investigation security aspects of the affair and will report this.

While Macmillan conferred on strategy with his top aides, a magistrate refused bail to society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in the scandal, after Scotland Yard said new, more serious charges may be placed against Ward. The osteopath was ordered held for a preliminary hearing next Monday on charges of living on the earnings of prostitutes.

Scotland Yard said it feared Ward might tamper with prosecution witnesses if he got out of jail.

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

GRADUATING NURSES PLANT TREE

A brief tree planting ceremony was carried out yesterday morning in front of the Prince County Hospital nurses' residence by the graduating class, seen above. Performing the ceremony of class president. The graduation ceremonies were held last night. (See story on page 3).

Caseway Case Feasible

By GEORGE CONDON
A notice of motion concerning more downtown parking space brought before the City Council last evening and immediately touched off a debate in the council chamber on a day before any definite decisions are reached.

The notice, placed before the council by W.R. MacNeill, chairman of the police commission, concerned the expropriation of the Scantlebury property from 82 to 92 Kent Street as a public parking lot.

By MEMBERS ATTEND
Attending the meeting in force were persons interested in the parking problem. Approximately 20 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the discussion were present at the Council Chamber on the soundness of this move.

Councillor Arthur Gormley wondered if it were not possible to use this land except for the actual business establishment used by Wallace Scantlebury. Mr. Gormley asked the councillor to note exactly what the motion called for. "It not only asks this man to sell his land, but to give up his business as well," he said.

MOVING BUSINESS
MacNeill explained that it was not as if the man was being driven from his livelihood as Scantlebury had announced quite some time ago that he planned to move his business to Richmond Street. At this point Deputy Mayor Cox, presiding in the absence of Mayor Gaudet, reminded the councillors that the time for