Que. Worried Over Effect On Tourists

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec province's $200,000,000 annual tourist business is built around the slogan "hospitality spoken here," but authorities fear this highly-advertised come-on may have a hollow ring after the weekend events during the royal visit.

"We're going to lose millions, and all because of a few students and the action of the municipal police," an official of the department of tourism said in an interview here.

"I'm worried about the effect this is going to have on the Montreal 1967 world's fair. I'll tell you."

"This is going to cost us millions and millions."

The official noted dozens of United States photographers and reporters captured violent scenes last Saturday as police broke up small groups of demonstrators.

"This is really going to hurt Quebec City."

Tourist authorities here are aware, he said, "Americans love the Queen more than do the people of Toronto."

"We hurt their feelings because we didn't show up, because we didn't show up, because we didn't show up."

"We're known as hospitable people and this is going to hurt us. The repercussions are terrible all over the world."

NEW TRAINING CENTRE
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The Canadian Province of the Irish Christian Brothers has announced plans to open a new $1,000,000 centre near Toronto to train candidates for the brotherhood. Brother J. B. Darcy of Toronto, the order's Newfoundland provincial superior, said here Tuesday the building will be located on a 140-acre site at Meen Mills, about 30 miles northwest of Toronto.
