The Healthy "Perhaps" Predictions for 1992.

The following is written in humour, and they are not meant to be insensitive.

Perhaps people will strive to eat more carrots and apples than ever...that will make everyone strong and healthy THAN EVER.

Perhaps a cure will be found for AIDS at last, and everyone can breath through their condoms finally.

Perhaps those who smoke like a chimney will have dry batteries for their smoke detectors.

Perhaps someone will realize that the hole somewhere in the atmosphere needs patching, then children won't get asthma when they are born.

Perhaps some brainy scientists will invent oxygen-substitutes, then trees won't be needed anymore.

Perhaps AIDS will be taken over by Meningitis.

Perhaps those silicon implants will be replaced by "firm" lasting plastics.

Perhaps I should stop here before someone pound on me...I rather die of a disease.
