DIPHTHERIA prevails to such an extent at Arcadia, Yarmouth, that the public school has been closed. PERSONAL.—W. L. Cotton, of the Charlotte-town EXAMINER, was in Moncton this morning on his way to the Centennial Exhibition. Transcript, 29th.

A GENTLEMAN who recently travelled from San Francisco to Charlottetown says that he travelled in no better passenger car or on no smoother road than between Summerside and Charlottetown. MEN and women are equally benefited by the use of that great brain and nerve rejuvenator, Mack's Magnetic Medicine, an advertisement of which appears in another column. Sold in Charlottetown at Apothecaries Hall. [oct 1 w kly

PRAYER FOR RAIN.—At a prayer meeting held in the Methodist church at Fredericton, Monday night, all present joined in prayer for rain. Ere the meeting broke up rain commenced to fall copiously, and the inmates, who had abundance of faith but no umbrellas, received a general drenching on the way home. THE HORSE.—Professor Rhuland will deliver a lecture on the above subject this evening in the Citizens' Skating Rink, beginning at eight o'clock sharp. The Professor will give some practical information as regards the proper management of the horse, and cordially invites all to attend.

Is there another town in America where the surroundings of the public buildings are more slovenly than in Charlottetown? For example, the burr crop that has been luxuriating all summer in the post office grounds, the heaps of ashes dumped behind the provincial building, the rotten sidewalks leading to the post office, the—but time fails us.

NEW AIR BRAKE.—The cars composing the Sussex express, which left St. John for Sussex on Thursday evening, were equipped with the Westinghouse brake. The brake worked satisfactorily and it is expected the brake will be applied to all the cars. With this brake, the cars, when running at full speed, can be stopped in much less time than with the vacuum brake.

THE APPLE CROP.—There seems little doubt now that the apple crop this season is the shortest ever known. The Southern States will hardly have enough to supply their local demand, in New England the crop is very short, the trees in Michigan, Ohio and the Central Western States have hardly any fruit at all, and on the Pacific coast the supply is reported insignificant. The crop in Canada is also pronounced a failure, the returns being greatly below the average.—Scottish American.

THE anniversary temperance meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Saturday evening was but poorly attended. The Rev. Dr. Fitzgerald occupied the chair, and spirited speeches were delivered by G. W. Miller, Esq., John Bowers, Esq., Rev. Ed. Whitman, and others. In the course of his speech Mr. Bowers said that he was the first man on this island to join the order of Sons of Temperance. On the whole the speeches were good, and deserving of a larger audience.

REV. PHILLIPS BROOKES has returned to Boston after fifteen months of foreign travel. His reception by the members of his congregation and by the citizens generally was very hearty. Trinity Church was thronged on Sunday last with an eager, though somewhat critical, audience. It had been reported during his absence that Mr. Brookes had modified somewhat his beliefs. But his first sermon was certainly in accordance with his old teachings, the only modification being in the direction of growth and freshness. However, this is nothing new to say of Boston's foremost preachers.

MISS MONRO, so favorably known in St. John, is now in Pictou, where she will open a School of Cookery, if classes can be formed. The success which has attended Miss Monro's lectures throughout the Provinces is so well known that it is highly probable the ladies of Pictou will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity to perfect themselves in the culinary art. With a few more missionaries like Miss Monro, bad cooking would soon be eradicated from the cities and towns in the Provinces by the sea. Her Charlottetown friends, and she has lots of them, will be glad to learn of her success in Pictou.

CONNECTICUT, a State that has had more sensational murder mysteries than its share, considering its size, has a new one. Rose Ambler, a young woman recently divorced from her husband, and engaged to be married to Wm. Lewis, was murdered by the roadside near the little town of Stratford, and the efforts of several detectives have failed to discover the guilty party. She had been on a visit to her lover, and was returning alone, as was her custom, after parting with him at his mother's gate. He is suspected of the crime by many, and has been openly denounced by one clergyman from the pulpit as the probable murderer, but then no evidence of his guilt has yet been produced. He was furnishing a house for her, he had no other sweetheart, and she had no other lover. He was never heard to say that he was weary of her, and he is said to be of too cowardly a disposition to commit a murder. The detectives, however, are bound to put some one on trial, and they may select Wm. Lewis as the man.

"OUR WILD INDIANS" is the title of a book published by Col. R. J. Dodge, which has received on all sides a most favorable reception. In this work Col. Dodge aims to give a truthful and minute account of "Our Wild Indians" of the present day; to vividly describe their actions, habits, customs, religion, manners, and amusements as practiced by them now in the uncivilized regions of their uninvaded country; to give graphic accounts of thrilling and exciting adventures among them; to narrate daring exploits and hair-breadth escapes, not only from his own experience, but from that of other white men and of Indians also; and to record desperate encounters, hand-to-hand combats, sudden surprises, remarkable defences, and heroic achievements incident to frontier life. In all of this Col. Dodge has succeeded most admirably, and he has produced incomparably the most exhaustive and truthful account of "Our Wild Indians" ever written, and undeniably one of the most thrilling and fascinating books of personal daring and romantic adventures ever published.

CAPT. JACOB CARVE L., an ex-confederate officer and late of the Northwest Mounted Police, brother of Hon. Senator Carvell, is in the city on a visit to his friends.

THE report comes from Maryland that some unknown and terrible malady is destroying the oysters. Nearly a million bushels of marketable oysters have been killed by this disease the present season.

WE learn that in the Upper Prince Street School to-day there were no fires lighted, and owing to the cold in the rooms, the school had to be dismissed two hours earlier. This is decidedly wrong. Attending this school is a very large number of little children, and to have kept them three hours shivering with the cold is most outrageous. Some explanation should be given as to why the fires were not lighted.

A MONTREAL cab driver named J. B. Dubois, who drove two young girls to a house of ill-fame and left them there to board on the plea that the house was respectable, was fined $20 or a month's jail for driving without a license, and at the end of his imprisonment he will be prosecuted for misdemeanor. The woman who kept the house was sentenced to six months imprisonment and $50 fine, with six months additional in default of payment. There is no fooling with justice in Montreal.

A STRING OF ANCIENTS.—TRURO, N. S., celebrated its natal day a short time ago. In a wagon, in the procession, were borne the following persons, belonging to that town and vicinity: John Wynn, the Shannon veteran, aged 94; T. Soley, 87; David Whetthebie, 87; James D. Johnson, 84; Joseph Robertson, 82; Isaac Smith, 82; Ralph Watson, 82; James Henderson, 80; John Doggett, 78; Thomas Quill, 78; S. G. W. Archibald, 74; James McNutt, 73; and "old black Joe" sticking on behind. It is said that this list could have been augmented by a man over one hundred years old, for $10, but one of the committee insisted that to prove his age, his father or mother must be produced.

THE Fusiliers Ball to be held in St. John during exhibition week promises to be a grand affair. Acceptances of invitation have been received by the officers of the Fusiliers by a very large number of distinguished persons who intend to appear at the ball to be given at the Clarendon Hotel, next Friday. Among the list are: The hon. the Minister of Militia, General Luard, Lieut.-Governor Wilnot and staff, Lieut.-Col. Taylor, D. A. G., and staff, the officers of A Battery, Quebec; Halifax; the officers of the Princess Louise Fusiliers, Lieut.-Col. A. Crewe-Read, R. M., and Mayor Jones. It is expected that an English and United States man-of-war will be in St. John port that week, and if so their officers will also be asked to participate in the festivities.

THE sidewalk along the northern side of Rochford Square, leading to St. Peter's Church is, and has been for some time, in a most disgraceful condition. Last evening on his way to church, a gentleman tripped in one of the planks, and was thrown violently to the ground, narrowly escaping breaking his leg. To add to the discomfort the gas lamp at Mr. Handrahan's gate was unlighted, although it was very dark. While we are upon the subject we may call the attention of the Civic authorities and the Gas Company to the street lamps. Some of them are seldom lighted, others give a light about the size of a match flame, while others blaze away until the blaze cracks the glass. An expenditure of a little soap and water would make the flame more visible. We forget how the company is paid for the street lamps, but somebody loses money by allowing those which are lighted to remain at full blaze until two hours after daylight, as was the case this morning.

A gunner of "A" battery, in Quebec, who was away a day or two from his guard, reports that he was dragged in a sailor's boarding house and placed on board a ship leaving port. He did not recognize his position until the ship was in the river, when the captain refused to send him ashore. He alleges he watched his chance and seeing a boat near jumped overboard and was picked up and put ashore. He has been unable to recover his regimentals.
