45 Hospital Patients Have Merry Christmas

An enjoyable Christmas Day was observed by some forty-five patients of the Prince County Hospital in Summerside yesterday.
It was especially enjoyable because no one in hospital was reported to be seriously or dangerously ill.

From midnight on Christmas Eve until last night, two baby boys and one baby girl had had the distinction of being born in the Hospital on Christmas Day.
The patients, nurses, and staff were served a lovely turkey dinner complete with trimmings including plum pudding and ice cream.

The patients' trays, and the dining tables of the nurses and maintenance staff were approximately decorated in typical Christmas style.
The Canadian Legion and the Y's Men's Club had placed and decorated lovely Christmas trees in all wards, the private floors, and the main waiting room, and a gaily lighted tree stood outside the hospital.

Hospital authorities stated that most generous donations of fruit, candy, nuts, etc. were made to the hospital by various firms, organizations, and friends of the hospital.
An unusually large number of friends and relatives visited patients during the afternoon and evening, and a highlight of the day was a visit by Santa Claus during the afternoon to all the patients.

On Saturday evening a group of young people from Summerside entertained the patients by singing Christmas carols on each floor of the hospital.

KING'S VOICE

V, the present King's father, initiated the custom in 1932.
The King issued the customary seasonal wishes to the countless millions hearing him all over the world.
"We are living in an age which is often hard and cruel, and if there is anything we can offer the world today, perhaps it is the example of tolerance and understanding that runs like a golden thread through the great and diverse family of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

SPECIAL THANKS

He extended a warm wish of gratitude for the prayers and sympathy of his subjects in his illness, and sent special thanks to Commonwealth troops fighting in Korea and in Malaya.
The King himself heard his own speech today, settled back in an easy chair at Sandringham Palace.

The yule party in the rambling country house this year was the biggest since before the war. In addition to all the immediate family, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and the Duchess of Kent were there with their five children.

The British Broadcasting Corporation made the King's speech the centre-piece in a "live," round-the-world roundup of the Merry Christmases from British subjects in all parts of the Commonwealth. The Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, a leper colony in Nigeria, Africa, British servicemen in Korea—all had a say.

Inquest Adjourned

A coroner's jury was empanelled on Monday morning, December 24th, by Dr. Austin Delaney, at the Prince County Hospital, to inquire into the cause of death of Ora Samuels, formerly of New Waterford, N. S. and living at North Tryon up to the time he was taken to the Prince County Hospital on Sunday evening where he died about ten o'clock.

The jury met and viewed the remains and the inquest was then adjourned until Friday evening, January 4th at the Town Hall at six o'clock. The late Mr. Samuels is survived by his wife, the former Jane Muirhead of Tryon.

Members of the jury are Messrs Elric Campbell (foreman), Fred Bingham, Fred Folland, Bruce Johnstone, Frank Daley, Robert P. Hogg, Hollis Cameron.

Ring Reminiscences

red to as the Cinderella man of the ring, but there is little doubt that he was just as good a champion as any of his predecessors the night he got the decision over Max Baer. Max was no sugar candy champion either, he had beaten the best in sight. He was a protégé of Jack Dempsey, who copied Jack's ring strategy to a considerable extent, although he did a lot of "clowning".

Jim Braddock was in Charlottetown shepherding Bowser's "Boston promoter's" "barnstorming" wrestlers. Braddock was the soul of urbanity and friendliness personified to the nth degree. He gave a ten-minute address to the audience at the Floradora (Jole McDonald's Arena) ending up with the fervently expressed invocation, "God bless you all".

When Jim was introduced to one of the most robust looking Senators in the Dominion House of Parliament, his ejaculation was: "Gosh! you'd have champions down here if you'd train them." Jim fought a valiant fight against the Brown Bomber Joe Louis for six rounds.
Louis was then at the pinnacle of his prowess.

Jack Dempsey received the accolade generally accorded a real champion in the flesh on his visit to Charlottetown. He was invited to Government House by the then Governor Hon. J. A. Bernard and feted and introduced by several other prominent men; also invited to broadcast over CFCY station.
The best barometer of his popularity was the retinue of boys and adolescents who waited at the door of the Sporting Club, where the finish of the Hospital Bazaar was in progress. Dempsey reacted and responded to the adulation like a real champion. It must have been rejuvenating to him—putting him back 15 or 20 years when he was receiving the obeisance and homage of millions. Fortune is a fickle jade, and the acclaim of a fickle public blooms and dies like an Claus, splendidly acted by Robert T. Oulton much to the delight and amazement of the tiny tots.
Delicious refreshments were served and this enjoyable party concluded by the Misses Benediction.

Christmas Day in Summerside appeared to be all that could be desired in a Christmas holiday.
The traditional midnight Mass was celebrated in St. Paul's Church, followed by Masses on Christmas morning from seven to eleven A.M.
With the dawn of a bright sunny "White Christmas", children woke early and hastened out of bed to see what Santa had left for them.

In hundreds of homes the holiday was observed with the traditional Christmas dinner. Many homes were gladdened by the presence of family members home for the holiday; others by visits from relatives and friends.

Police, late last night, reported one of the most quiet Christmases in the history of Summerside. No accidents had been reported, and no arrests had been made.
Many took advantage of the lovely weather to attend the first skate of the year in Summerside at the Notre Dame Street Skating Arena, and others attended the Christmas Day shows at Summerside theatres.

The brilliant decorations and Christmas lighting in stores and homes, and along "Santa Claus Avenue" is most colorful, and adds greatly to the charm of the Christmas season.

Most stores and business concerns will be closed today, Boxing Day, allowing another full holiday to be enjoyed by all before a full scale return to "business as usual" on Thursday. — S.

Graduates At Fort Riley, Kans.

FORT RILEY, Kans., Dec. 25—(Special)—Second Lieutenant Erwin N. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron H. Thompson of 125 Harvard St., Summerside, P.E.I., Canada, received his gold bars recently when he was graduated with Army Officer Candidate Class No. 38 here at Fort Riley, Kans.

Lieut. Thompson was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Organized Reserve Corps after completing the six-month officer candidate course here. He will exotic flower. Unless a man can hold the championship spotlight; he is relegated immediately to the limbo of forgotten men. Dempsey was enamored of the Charlottetown people. "The people make the place" is an old aphorism that will hold good for all time, as long as human nature is what it is, and if we judge by history it hasn't changed much, if any, since the advent of the human race on this planet. Dempsey was so impressed with the people here that he expressed his intention of sending his two girls, who were in a convent school in San Francisco, to Charlottetown to finish their education. "There's many a slip between the cup and the lip". The girls might have ideas of their own.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

WINIFRED E. WILSON

Pine Grosbeaks, remain in Canadian territory the year round if they are able to discover wild waste fruit. Grosbeaks, too, of both types spend their time travelling from place to place in search of dried fruit, and having found sufficient for their wants in Canada, are often tempted to stay here nearly the entire year.

With a good crop of dried fruit near your locality, you have every chance of being visited by a flock of Cedar Waxwings this winter.
They like so many kinds: black currant, mountain ash, raspberries, nightshade, blackberries, sumach, alder, wild grape, bittersweet, snowberry, and elders. But if Bohemian Waxwings are noticed, you may be well satisfied, for they are great wanderers. Yet the secret for their visit is always the food supply.

Is winter watching profitable?
