

100% PROFIT is what many of our clients realized upon their investments during 1899.

The Iron Monitor Gold Mining Co will prove no exception. The "IRON MONITOR" claim almost adjoining (less than 300 ft) the famous "REPUBLIC" that last year paid in dividends over $500,000.00 DOLLARS.

The Superintendent's report is flattering, showing two veins upon which over 430 ft. of development work has been done, which yields good values.

The officers ARE NOTED MINING MEN.

The President, Mr. V. D. Williamson, financed the sale of the "REPUBLIC" to Montreal Capitalists for

$3,500,000.00

We believe with the amount of development work the "IRON MONITOR" will equal the "Republic"

REMEMBER in 1897 shares of the "Republic" sold for less than TEN CENTS are to-day worth ONE DOLLAR and SHAREHOLDERS HAVE RECEIVED MANY TIMES THEIR ORIGINAL INVESTMENT IN DIVIDENDS.

We have a limited number of shares for sale at

FIVE CENTS

$50.00 for 1000 Shares

which within two years we predict will be worth $500.00.

This is an opportunity you cannot afford to miss. The share is bound to advance quickly absolutely upon its merits, therefore it will be necessary for you to act promptly in order to secure shares at the above figure.

THE BRIDGE.

The suggestion of a correspondent that a public meeting should be held to express public opinion on the bridge matter is eminently proper. A public meeting might well be held at once; or, it would, perhaps, be better to wait until the papers have been brought down to the Board of Trade. We learn that the Council of the Board of Trade has already obtained some information from the engineer, and that additional information is expected in the course of a few days.

THE McSHANE APPOINTMENT.

Not Liberal-Conservatives alone, but independent Liberals all over the country, condemn the political job that was consummated when Mr. James McShane, familiarly known as Jimmy, was appointed to the office of Harbor Master of Montreal. The Ottawa Journal declares that, "Mr. McShane has no qualifications which any one ventures to mention. He is not considered a good business man; he knows little about the harbor except what he might learn when shipping cattle occasionally, a number of years ago; he has long been out of active commercial life; he is an old man, 66 years of age; he is a party hack, whom the courts once condemned for personal bribery and corruption." Another independent Liberal journal, the Montreal Witness, says "that a good man was available in the person of Captain Bourassa, who had been acting harbor master. He had the support of the elected representatives of the Corn Exchange, the Board of Trade, the Shipping Interests, and the Chamber of Commerce. Yet he was rejected. Mr. McShane was manifestly and notoriously unfit for the position. Yet he was nominated by the Mayor, a Liberal partisan, the chief promoter of the useless east end dry-dock scheme. There was not a single word of defence of the appointment on its merits at the meeting. It was shamelessly put forward merely as a political job." This is the testimony of Liberals on the spot. All agree, it is not denied, it is openly admitted, that McShane's appointment is a political job,—against the public interests. When the Conservatives, after being fifteen or twenty years in office began to perpetrate such extravagances, the people turned them out at the first opportunity; and the people will turn the false Liberals out, in like manner, at the first opportunity.

A SIGNIFICANT DEMONSTRATION.

The disturbance that took place in Montreal on the occasion of the celebration of the relief of Ladysmith, seems to have been a boyish affair. Yet it is, from every point of view, regrettable. Certainly it contrasts strangely with the universal harmony, the unanimous enthusiasm, with which Catholics vied with Protestants in this community and French, Scotch, Irish and English Canadians, all, exhibited their delight in the relief of Ladysmith and the national triumph of which it was the proof.

Strictly and primarily, the McGill boys were, according to our correspondent's description, in the wrong. They had no right to interfere with those who had not raised their flags; they were legally and constitutionally wrong when they stoned the Laval building. Yet we can easily imagine that much the same thing would have occurred here, if the boys of St. Dunstan's or Prince of Wales had, in such a time of excitement, pulled down and hissed the Union Jack. On such occasions the crowd is apt to let its feelings get the better of its judgment; and this is what seems to have happened in Montreal.

It is the feeling exhibited by the French-Canadian students that is the really significant and regrettable feature of the demonstration. Is it possible that we are rearing up in this free Northern country any considerable number of individual youths who are, or may be, ready in a time of excitement and stress to hiss and tear down the Union Jack and the free British institutions of which the Union Jack is the symbol? If so, we cannot, too soon, be impressed by the fact, or too soon take action in respect to it. There ought to be a rigid enquiry into this matter. Did these Laval boys, who will be influential men in the course of a few years, really bias at the Union Jack? If so, what was their motive? What political principles are being implanted at Laval? Or was their action merely the effect of the public utterances of such demagogues as Tarte? Are there many such teachers in Canada as he whose writings in Le Semaine Religieuse was lately the subject of reprobation by Archbishops Bruchesi and Begin? These are the questions which ought to be asked and answered. If we, as a nation, are to escape trouble in the future, we cannot afford to permit the seeds of sedition to take root in Canada. The Montreal students of Laval have, in their haste and excitement, given expression to feelings and principles which, we feel sure, they did not imbibe from their loyal French-Canadian parents. The point is to discover whence these feelings and principles sprang, and to get rid of the source of the evil. Tarte goes to France; and it is hoped that all such as he will follow his example—though not at the expense of Canadian taxpayers. Montreal, and all Canada should be made too hot for treason mongers—present or prospective. It ought to be understood that Canadian Civil Liberty, large as it is, has a limit.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—It appears that the Boers also "gradually fade away."

—We occasionally receive notes of news, etc., the writers of which withhold their names from the editor. Such notes cannot be published because we have no guarantee that they are all true.

—Tarte's flying the Tri-colour last year, has its complement in the tearing down and burning of the British-Canadian flag, now! Tarte and his imitators, alike must be taught that there is but one flag—the British flag—for this country.

—Attention is directed to the article on "Hygiene for School Children," published in another column. The writer is a lady and a physician; and she seems to have given special consideration to the subject. The article is well worthy of careful perusal on the part of parents, teachers and all members of our School Board.

—One of the German officers serving in the Boer army and not yet made prisoner has charged that "the British are the most unsuspecting people on earth. I was allowed to roam at will through their country, gathering such information as I wished." This foreigner, who has lived all his life under espionage and restraint seems to think that British liberty is folly. But it is this liberty that has made Britons devoted to their country and caused them to spring to arms when any part of their Empire of the Free is attacked, and to triumph in the end.
