

(Written for The Examiner.)

A Ballad.

The mother's face was gloomy,
And her heart was full of care,
As she looked out in the distance
And saw the white stones there.

And she thought of her beloved
And her only son laid there;
Oh, how hard it was to part with
One so loving and so fair.

And she thought how many mothers
Weep in silence and in gloom,
Lightened by that fond assurance:
They shall meet beyond the tomb.

Dare I entertain my sorrow?
Let me work—there's work to do.
Oh, my boy, if you were with me,
You would bid me do so, too.

Hush! A faint knock at the door—
Faint, as scarcely to be heard;
And the mother crossed the floor,
Pitying thoughts in her were stirred.

For before her on the doorstep
Was a young man, tall and thin,
And his face looked pale and haggard,
As she quickly led him in.

"Give me shelter for the night;
I am tired, and cold, and sick,
And the wind blows fairly through me,
And the rain falls fast and thick."

Thinks she: he's the age of Willie.
For his sake who said that he
Who has pity on his children,
Has done mercy unto me.

I will give him food and shelter;
More than that should he require;
Then she gently bade him enter,
And sit down before the fire.

Then she took and dried his garments,
Brought the clothes of her dear boy,
Gave him food and drink sufficient,
Till his face lit up with joy.

And when evening grew still darker,
And she would retire to rest,
To her boy's own room she showed him,
Giving, thus her very best.

And that night when she, retiring,
Thought about her deeds that day,
She remembered all the sadness
That had now been swept away.

In the working for another,
She had gained her own repose,
For the sweetest kind of pleasure
Is to soothe another's woes.

All Right, 5817.

THIS SPLENDID HORSE is too well known to the breeders of Prince Edward Island to need any puffing. They all know what he is, and what a grand family of trotters and roadsters he has built up in the Maritime Provinces, where his stock have taken high rank, and are every year coming to the front. He is one of the very few horses in the provinces that contracted a representative to the 230 list in 1889, his son Charlie Mitchell having made a record, in a contested race, of 2.24.

ALL RIGHT, 5817, is the sire of George Lee, 2.23; Charlie Mitchell, 2.28; Black Pilot, 2.30; Black Bird, 2.36; DeFiance, 2.39; Little Fred (trial 2.28), 2.39; Maud B., 2.40; Lucy Derrick (4 yr. old), 2.44; Nellie T. (trial), 2.35; George All Right, 2.41; Nellie, 2.45; and many other speedy and well-known trotters.

ALL RIGHT will stand at the Stables of Patrick Connolly, in Charlottetown, every week from Tuesday morning to Saturday morning at R. Y. McCoubrey's, New Glasgow Bridge, every Monday afternoon; and in Summerside every Saturday from noon till Monday at noon.

If you want to raise trotters—and of course you do—breed to ALL RIGHT, and you will get fast trotters and first-class roadsters. NEWJON LEE, febl9, 1890, dy law wky
