We Are Canada

Hey you! Yeah, you! do you care about your country? Are you proud to be a Canadian? Well, now is your chance to prove it. As a member of the Together-Canadians Society, you get the chance.

Canada is in a political crisis, and now is the time for the youth of Canada to have its voice heard. Put aside the Axworthy proposals and put on a Canadian flag. As we all know too well, the Quebec referendum's outcome will mean the difference between a unified Canada and a divided country facing an uncertain future, politically and economically.

As Canadians, we are a quiet people. We play peaceful roles with the United Nations, and in other areas. We are not like Americans, who boast of their country every five minutes. We are Canadians -- proud of who we are, and we have no need to preach to others about the greatness of our Canada.

Until now. Now is the time for the youth of Canada to stand up and yell, "We love you, Canada!" The people of Quebec have had their say; now is time for us to have ours. Everybody says we are the voices of the future, so let's make them heard.

"The National Dream" is our way of having your voice heard. Look at it this way: for $50, you get a VIA train pass good for 12 train-travel days, get to meet some really cool people who feel the way you do about Canada, listen to some good bands in Quebec City, party all along the way, and have something to say about Canadian unity in the process.

"The National Dream" is a train ride to Quebec City from two points: Vancouver (departing May 1) and Halifax (departing May 1). Both trains will arrive in the centre of the debate, Quebec City, on May 7. There, we will join a massive rally with fellow Canadians from all provinces, to celebrate Quebec and Canadian unity.

Along the way, we will stop in several Canadian centres: Edmonton, Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal, ending in Quebec City. At each stop we will hold bilingual rallies, to strengthen the ties that bind all Canadians. By the time we reach Quebec, Mr. Parizeau will know we are coming, and Quebecers will know our message: we love their province, and we want them to stay in Canada. This will send a clear and positive message to Quebecers -- that Canadians outside Quebec appreciate the importance of their province.

So, if you are interested in the train ride, helping out, or anything (and we mean ANYTHING!...well, sort of), please call either Michael Klenavic at 892-2028, Dave Gagnon at 892-6316 or Chris Michaud at 628-6316. Or E-mail us. We're all UPEI students.

To find concerned Canadians for The National Dream, we are requesting a short letter (200 words) in French or English. After you've finished, send it to:

Mark Stevenson drama classes

Spring 1995 session Registration
Theatre Prince Edward Island is pleased to announce the spring 1995 session of the Mark Stevenson Drama Classes.

The weekly classes will be held on the UPEI campus from April 3 through June 10, 1995. Creative Drama classes are offered for beginning and intermediate students in grades 4 through 12 and adults.

Mark Stevenson, a specialist in drama education, has extensive theatre experience in Canada and the USA as an actor, director and teacher. His most recent acting appearances with Theatre PEI were in the 1994 productions of The Blue Castle, The Island Remembers, and the schools touring production Water Wise. Last summer, he completed a teaching and directing assignment in New York State.

Registrations are welcomed from now on, or on registration night, Monday, April 3, 1995, 7-9 pm at the offices of Theatre PEI, basement of Dalton Hall, UPEI. Fees are $100 for grades 4-12, and $135 for adults. For further information, call Theatre PEI at 566-0321.

History Society

Hello there, fellow History buffs. As the semester winds down, I am sure that everyone is busy with papers and tests; I know that I am anyway. The Society has been keeping busy with its raffle and we would like to thank all of you out there who supported it. The draw was held on Friday and I will have the names of the winners in next week's edition of the X-Press. Just a general reminder to all of you out there: the retirement party for Professor Spira will be April 6, 4-6 in the Faculty Lounge. All are welcome to attend. This is a wonderful opportunity to thank him for all the hard work he has done for the History Department of UPEI. Well, that is about all for this week. Here are this week's questions and the answers you have been waiting for.

These are the answers from two weeks ago: UPEI officially became a university in 1969. George III was the King of England during the American Revolution.

There have been 42 British monarchs since William I.

Machans King was the Prime Minister of Canada when the Stock Market Crash of 1929 took place.

Zeus was the father of Clio.

Last week's answers:

The longest reigning monarch of England was Victoria, 1837-1901.

The American Civil War was from 1861 to 1865.

Octavian or Augustus became the ruler of Rome following the death of Julius Caesar.

I hope that all of you were careful on the Ides of March. The CPR was completed in 1885. The last spike was driven in by Donald Smith.

No, that is not the same Don Smith that is doing his honours this year. The questions for this week are:

1. When was the first referendum for Quebec sovereignty held?
2. Who was the first communist leader of Russia?
3. What other term, besides King, was applied to Louis XIV of France?
4. What year was there an Order in Council draft specifically prohibiting black immigrants into Canada? (This was never enacted.)
