See Possibility Scientist's Death Was Accidental

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Rosario Fontaine, who performed an autopsy on the body of Allen Paul Richards, says "incomplete tests" indicate the English-born scientist died an accidental death and was not the victim of foul play.

Dr. Fontaine returned to Montreal Tuesday for laboratory tests after performing the autopsy Monday in Quebec, where Richards, 36-year-old guided missile expert, died Saturday. Richards had been found unconscious Wednesday on the grounds of the Lieutenant-Governor's home.

Dr. Fontaine, Quebec's top medical-legal expert, said death resulted from a brain hemorrhage, probably caused by a fractured jaw, but this still had definitely to be determined. He expected that a full report would be in the hands of the attorney-general's department today. He hoped to determine what fractured the man's jaw.

Richard, an employee of Canadian Limited, Montreal, had been working temporarily with the Canadian Armament Research and Development Establishment near Quebec. He was found in an enclosure for horses on the vice-regal grounds and died without regaining consciousness.

At first, police said he probably was killed by horse's kicks but later they investigated the possibility he was murdered.

Motor Yacht In Port

The sturdy motor cruiser "Lady Betty II" (shown above), skippered by the owner, Col. S. C. Oland of Halifax docked at the Maritime wharf yesterday afternoon, following a run up the Straits against a half gale which developed into a strong one before the haven of Charlottetown harbour was reached.

Col. Oland was accompanied by his son Don J. and Mr. Leveson Gower on the cruise which included a visit here following a run along the Nova Scotia coast with a stop-over at Mulgrave. The "Lady Betty II" is a 70-foot motor cruiser powered by a 600 h.p. G.M. Diesel engine, and has a speed of 18 knots per hour. The hull is of Mahogany and the cruiser is fully equipped with modern aids to navigation and security, including Radar and ship to shore phone. She carries a crew of four, and sails under the colours of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Club.

Col. Oland, in a brief interview last evening, recalled his attendance at St. Peter's School for Boys at Charlottetown under Rev. James afterwards Canon Simpson, Rev. Dr. T. H. Hunt and Mr. Justice Hodgson.

URGES CAREFUL STOCKTAKING IN CREDIT UNION LEAGUE ACTIVITIES

"If this organization is to carry out the work we set out to do, we must take stock," said Mr. Harry Daly, managing director of the New Brunswick Credit Union League and vice-president of the Credit Union National Association in addressing the 17th annual convention of the P. E. I. Credit Union League held at the Clover Club yesterday.

Mr. Daly, in discussing the mechanics of the Credit Union organization, reminded the delegates that it was very well to boast of the accomplishment of the past but, "are we building as we go?" he asked. He said that the problems experienced here on Prince Edward Island were not unlike those of other credit unions in different parts of Canada and the United States.

He pointed out that too many people were willing to be elected to office for the glory which was attached thereto, but added, "when it comes down to work and sacrifice on behalf of their fellow members, they are found wanting."

Mr. Daly had a word of criticism for certain credit committees who are not willing to examine fully the loan applications which come under their scrutiny. He said, "quite often the business of granting a loan is done over a backyard fence, on the street corners or over the telephone when careful consideration should be given the interest."

Mr. Dennis assured the delegates that such practices would not last long with banks or other loaning institutions.

He pointed out the importance of loans being repaid within the terms of the agreement so that the rotation of credit union money loaned will be available to all members.

Mr. Dennis further advocated that local organizations seek methods of promoting membership participation in credit unions, in lieu of unconstructive criticism which tends to have a discouraging effect among prospective members.

The Managing Director paid tribute to the fine work done by Mr. Richard Hennessey, who left the Credit Union movement to work with the Income Tax Division. "He was a great organizer, as evidenced by the many rallies carried out in many parts of the Province," said Mr. Dennis, "and we know that his work will advance him in his new department."

Mr. Dennis was pleased with the progress of the newly formed branches of the Credit Union in the Province over the past year. He felt that the payroll deduction system in operation at one of these Unions was an excellent idea and noted with pleasure that the same method of deductions were used for the repayment of loans.

Youths Re-trace Ancient Route

MONTREAL (CP)—Nine Canadians left here by canoe on a 400-mile trip to New York city, following the route of the pioneers. Organized for the seventh consecutive year by the YMCA, the youths will paddle along three rivers, two lakes and a canal. The trip, in an 18-foot canoe carrying the legend "Montreal to New York" on its sides, will take two weeks. The gear—weighing 2,500 pounds—consists of sleeping bags, enough food for the entire journey, a tent, cooking utensils and an axe. The youths will paddle seven to nine hours a day with five-minute rest periods every hour, and hope to cover between 35 and 40 miles each day. They will camp every night.

Enjoyed Vacation In Native Province

Dr. Malcolm Dockerty, surgical pathologist, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota, accompanied by his wife and their son John are spending a vacation period at the doctor's old home in Cardigan, the guests of his mother, Mrs. Robert Dockerty and his brother Cyrus.

Dr. Dockerty, who was gold medalist at Prince of Wales College and later at McGill University, left the Island in 1934 and shortly after joined the famous Mayo Clinic.

An ardent fisherman, the doctor and his son spend all the time available while on vacation, in whipping streams and ponds in pursuit of speckled beauties.

"I am taking an idea back to our own fishing clubs which I think is a splendid one, and will leave one with the Island authorities which is of proven value," Dr. Dockerty said yesterday. "I am completely sold on the idea of by-pass ponds and in the few I have been privileged to see, the results appear to be well worth the effort and reflect great credit on the Government officials or private enterprise, as the case may be."

"Now to leave an idea with you: exhaustive experiments in Minnesota have disclosed that the size of trout had been increased beyond imagination in a few weeks by feeding as simple a diet as shore clams, chopped up and scattered in the ponds." "A test period in one of the smaller ponds would soon prove the effectiveness of this diet."

The doctor leaves on return to Rochester in a few days.

Police sweated more than an hour to untangle a jumble of several hundred automobiles and buses blocked around the wreck.

SUTTON, Ont. (CP)—A signal fire set in an empty minnow pan brought rescue for six Toronto men drifting Sunday night in Lake Simcoe. Their motor failed while returning from a fishing trip.
