Premier Lee will be on campus Tuesday, Oct. 12 for an open forum on education issues. This is in conjunction with the National Week of Information.

As we are beginning to dust off our books and dive into the semester work, lets not forget that there are some of us who plan on graduating this year. This being the case, wouldn't it be nice to have a Senior Class Executive determine where we will get drunk during Senior Week (among other things) Well, if you haven't guessed by now, you seniors out there do not have an executive. As a result, Tues. Oct. 12 has been set aside to find one. The Panther Lounge at The Barn will be available at 12:00 noon to host this crucial meeting. The rules are simple: The Senior class needs a "Prez" (a Big Shot), Vice Prez (Little Shot), a Treasurer (Crook), and a Secretary ( ) you fill it in. As well the executive needs a whole bunch of interested, energetic people to ensure its success. So remember, if you want to be associated with the most prestiges outfit on campus don't miss it.

Letters Continued:

Dear SUN,

Recently, a select group of lads had the privilege of being "initiated". I was among them and one of them. It's astounding what a little nakedness can do for your popularity.

I think the others involved will agree: It was fun. Who wants to go for a December swim in Lake Marion!

I've witnessed a host of pranks and suffered none. My number must be coming up. Don't get any ideas, readers!

Since I'm a mere freshman I haven't the mental faculty to write on. (I feel like an Engineer in this respect.)

For now, Adieu.
