HEREVER the English language is spoken, the after war romances of the great Civil War of the United States are read with avidity. None which have so far appeared have more human interest than the latest from the pen of Bret Harte. Its title, which appears at the head of this column, is the name of the heroine, and the story is charmingly written in the great novelist's best vein. The characters are all

DIED.

At Marie, on the night of the 13th inst., Minnie, M. D. Webster, youngest and dearly beloved daughter of the late Theophilus Webster, J. P., in the 19th year of her age. Though confined to her bed for six months, and enduring at times extreme weakness, her patience never failed; and her amiability and sweetness of disposition endeared her to the entire community. Her loss is one that only Divine strength can enable her sorrowing friends to bear.

One by one each tie is broken, As we see our love decay; And the hopes we fondly cherished Brighten but to pass away.

One by one our hopes grow brighter As we near the shining shore; For we know across the river Wait the loved ones gone before.

A Dangerous Joke.

A few months ago a person hardly dared say they had La Grippe for fear of ridicule. And now that one-half of our population have had it, the other half are in mortal terror for fear they too will have it. We cannot wonder; for no epidemic scourge has ever visited this country and left such a trail of death and sorrow behind. The best loved members of families from state cities down to the humblest state in life have gone.

It has been the ripples and after dangers from La Grippe that have been so appalling. The death rate in many larger cities has exceeded 100 a week from the "grip" alone; and the end is not yet. Physicians are learning to fear (much more than the epidemic itself), the serious and fatal extension of the inflammation downward to the throat and bronchial tubes, causing croupous and bacterial pneumonia, true sequelae of the ailment, which terminate in death or produce serious laryngitis, bronchitis, asthma and a form of catarrh which contributes largely to chronic disease of the ear, nose and throat, causing loss of hearing, smell and taste. Those physicians who have been most successful with the epidemic, the surest treatment has been with tonic and anodyne remedies. The medicine most relied upon have been Quinine, Antipyrine, Salicylate of Soda, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, etc. A prominent Boston paper announced in January last that more persons had successfully used the last named medicine than all the others combined. That seems reasonable for the effects from La Grippe cause severe inflammation, and it is a well known fact that for nearly eighty years no remedy has taken the place of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for every form of inflammation, internal or external. Therein lies its great value as a household Anodyne, namely the fact that it is safe to be used internally as well as externally. As a rule, if one has any symptoms of the after dangers of the "grip" we advise them to get a bottle of the Anodyne at once, or send to the sole manufacturers, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., for full particulars which they send free, and which may save you a big doctor's bill. mar15 d6i w11

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for chil- dren. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." Dr. G. C. OSOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria in- stead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." Dr. J. F. KINCHLOE, Conway, Ar

"Our physicians in the children's depart- ment have spoken highly of their experi- ence in their own practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular produce, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it." GRODER'S SYRUP.

HIS FAMILY MEDICINE.

THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—I am now seventy years of age, and have been out of health the past fifteen years. My suffer- ing has been greatest during the last five years, when I have been in constant pain from weak- ness and distress of stomach. At differ- ent times I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, and sharp pleurisy. I kept me awake night after night. My physicians could give me only temporary relief, and my troubles returned again and again until I learned of your medicine and began to use it regularly. From the first there was a marked change in my con- dition, and to-day I eat and digest heartily. I am free from constipation, my health is better than at any time since the war. I firmly believe in Groder's Syrup, for it has made my old age a painless one. My wife too has used your medicine with entire satisfaction.

Yours truly, THOMAS PETERS, WINSLOW, MAINE.
