Christmas

Poetry

On Christmas Eve.

If good St. Nicholas should come
Across the whitened roofs to-night,
A host of treasures bringing from
His distant Castle of Delight;
If he should come, as once he came,
And at my chimney-top draw rein,
That I my dearest wish might name
As if I were a child again:

Of all the good and gracious store,
Wherewith the hearts of men he
cheers,
One thing alone I'd covet more
Then all the gifts of all the years;
One thing could give the Christmas
bells

The sweetness of their old refrain,
And fill the night with fairy spells.
As if I were a child again.

What matters it, dear love of mine?
That you were only eight or so,
And I a little lad of nine,
That night beneath the mistletoe?
The magic of it lingers yet,
And all the waiting and the pain
At thought thereof I can forget,
As if I were a child again.

Once more, as in the long ago,
On Christmas eve with you to stand
Alone beneath the mistletoe,
To see your eyes to touch your hand:
Ah, could the Saint but grant me this,
I would not say, with fine disdain,
"I think I'm 'most too old to kiss,"
As if I were a child again.
—Guy Wetmore Carryl.

Father Christmas.

Christmas, Father Christmas,
Is this you with your pack?
You've been a while upon your way
And a burden on your back:
A million toys for children,
And joys for older folk,
And the merry heart is yours, for all
Your gifts are all bespoke.

Oh, Christmas Father Christmas,
Had you a thought of me,
When you came through the deep green wood

And found the fair green tree
That blossoms out with tapers
Like stars that twinkle bright,
To show the path to sailor men
Who plough the seas at night?

If once you thought of me then
You've brought my true love home.
God grant it be that never more
My true love hence may roam!
And Christmas, Father Christmas,
Pray give us from your pack
The one sweet heavenly gift of peace
You never can take back.
Alice Evans in Harper's Bazar.

A Merrie Christmas.

A Merrie Christmas to you!
For we "serve the Lord with mirth"
And we carry forth glad tidings
Of our holy Saviour's birth.
So we keep the olden greeting
With its meaning deep and true,
And wish "a Merrie Christmas
And a Happy New Year to you."

Oh, yes! "a Merrie Christmas,"
With blithest song and smile,
Bright with the thought of Him who dwelt
On earth a little while,
That we might dwell for ever
Where never falls a tear;
So "a Merrie Christmas" to you,
And a Happy, Happy year!
—Frances Ridley Havergal.

Christmas Jollity.

Come bring with a noise,
My merry, merry boys,
The Christmas log to the firing;
While my good dame, she
Bids ye all be free;
And drink to your hearts desiring.

With the last year's brand
Light the new block, and
For good success in his spending.
On your psaltries play,
That sweet luck may
Come while the log is a-teuding.

Drink now the strong beer,

Cut the white loaf here;
The while the meat is a-shredding
For the rare mince pie,
And the plums stand by
To fill the paste that's a-knee ling.
—Robert Herrick.

The Nativity.

Some say that ever 'gainst that season
comes
Wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated;
This bird of dawning singeth all night
long;
And then they say no spirit dares stir
abroad;
The nights are wholesome; then no
planets strike,
No fairy takes, nor witch has power to charm
So hallowed and so gracious is the time.
—Shakespeare.

WHAT THEY DIDN'T HAVE.—According to an English paper, an exceedingly strict and therefore unpopular drill-sergeant one day had on hand a party of recruits whom he was putting through the funeral exercises. Opening the ranks so as to admit the passage of the supposed funeral cortege among them, the instructor, by way of practical explanation, walked slowly down the lane formed by the two ranks, saying, as he did so: "Now, I am the corpse. Pay attention!" Having reached the end of the line he turned, regarded the men with a scrutinizing eye for the minute, and then remarked: "Your 'ands is right, and your 'eads is right, but you 'aven't got that look of regret you ought to 'ave."
