

By Carrier: Charlottetown, Summerside $15.00 per annum. Elsewhere in P. E. I. $5.00. Other Provinces and U. S. A. $12.00 per annum.

CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1952

16 PAGES

Morning Daily Founded 1887. The Guardian, Five Cents.

CANADA REVISES U. N. PLEA AFTER POLISH SPEECH

Changes Planned In Canada's Postal System

Director of Old Age Assistance

Mr. Irvine G. MacLaren has been appointed Director of Old Age Assistance, it was announced last night following a meeting of the Executive Council. He succeeds the late Major O. W. Campbell. Mr. MacLaren has been Acting Director during the illness of Major Campbell and has been connected with the same department of Government since 1931 which was organized under his supervision at that time. A native of this city, Mr. MacLaren received his early education at West Kent School before going overseas in the First World War with the Second Division Machine Gun Battalion. He was in the service for nearly five years, remaining in the Army of Occupation on the end of hostilities. Mr. MacLaren was with his unit in France, Belgium and Germany and won the Military Cross at Amiens. He was promoted to the rank of Captain while in France.

Coming Events

- Rummage Sale, Kirk lower hall, Saturday, October 18th, 2.30.
- Chicken Supper, Iona Hall, Wednesday, October 22nd.
- Hope River bazaar and chicken supper, Oct. 22nd and 23rd.
- Try our Purina Finance Plan for feeding your hogs and poultry. Dillon and Spillett.
- Pantry sale at S. A. McDonald's Saturday afternoon, Oct. 18th. Canoe Cove W. I.
- Reserve Thursday, Oct. 30 for St. John's Church supper at Milton.
- Unloading Old Sydney coal at Milton Saturday and Monday. Vernon Gillespie.
- Pantry Sale, Fennell & Chandler, Saturday, 2.00 P. M. Cherry Valley Women's Institute.
- Farmers, ask about the Shu Gain Feed Finance Plan. For particulars contact your local feed mill.
- Come to Hot Turkey Dinner in Crapaud Hall, October 29th. Sponsored by Crapaud United Church.
- Masquerade Dance, Belfast Hall, Monday, October 20th. Point Prim W. I.
- Dancing Stanley Bridge Rink Hall every Tuesday night. Music by Munroe's Orchestra. 9 to 1.
- Dance, Emerald Hall, Thursday, October 23rd. Music by Russel Warren and his Blue Haven Ramblers. Canteen service.
- Dance every Saturday night, Islanders Country Club, Travellers Rest. Music by Lennie Bolger's four piece orchestra.
- Order Eastern Star Rummage Sale, Saturday, October 18th, 2 P.M. Masonic Social Hall, upstairs over Prince Edward Theatre.
- Rummage Sale, Trinity United Church Social Hall by Bunny Group of W. A., Saturday, October 18th, 8 P. M.
- Masquerade Dance, Stanley Bridge Rink Hall, 21st. Judging costumes 10.30 P. M.
- See the Magician perform wonders in North Granville Hall, Wednesday, October 22nd, at 8 P. M. Tap dancing and other specialties. Weather permitting.
- Buying live chickens, capons and fowl Tuesday 8. until 12. Light, thin chickens not wanted. Highest market prices. R. L. Dickieson, New Glasgow.
- The Annual Meeting of the shareholders of the Queen's County Flowing Match Association, will be held in Pownall Hall, October 21st, 8 P. M.
- Old time fiddling, step dancing and singing contest in Kinkora hall, Monday, October 27th. Good cash prizes. Send entries to Mrs. Sabinus Johnston, Kinkora, or Phone 9001.
- C. W. L. Rummage Sale today at 2 o'clock in the League room, over Provincial Bank, Richmond Street, and also Monday afternoon, October 20th, beginning at 2 o'clock.
- Reserve Wednesday, October 23th for a rare evening at St. Catherine's Hall. Dr. George Fisher will lecture on "What I Saw in Europe" the accompanying program will be a real old timer, that will bring chuckles, roars and happiness. Don't miss it's going to be good.

Fire Destroys Warehouse At Winsloe

Fire early yesterday morning completely destroyed the warehouse in connection with the store of the late Mr. G. C. MacLean, Winsloe. The business is now operated by his two sons, William and Heath. Pictured above are neighbors who gathered to aid when the building, which was situated in between the new store and the home dwelling, went up in flames. Both the dwelling and the store were badly scorched, but escaped any serious damage. Members of the Charlottetown Fire Department responded to the call and are credited with saving the store and home. The new store had only been opened for business the day previously. Neither of the proprietors yesterday could say how the fire originated in the warehouse and could make no estimate of the loss excepting to say that it would run to several thousand dollars.

1,900 Canadians Coming Home From Germany

HANNOVER, Germany, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—Some 1,900 men of the 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade, stationed in the Hannover area, will return to Canada within the next four to five weeks and be replaced by others, a Canadian army spokesman said tonight. They are married men who have completed their one-year duty, he said. They will be "rotated" in several transports. The 1,900 soldiers account for little less than one third of the strength of Canadian units in Germany.

One Killed, Two Injured In Crash

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 17—(CP)—One man was killed and two others were seriously injured this evening when a light truck careened off the Broad Road, which links Saint John and Fredericton, about 35 miles above Saint John. Dead is William Reid, about 80, of Summer Hill, Queens County. In hospital here with serious head injuries and semi-conscious are Robert Elder, about 40, and William Simpson, about 32, both of New Jerusalem, Queens County. They were passengers in the rear of the truck which was bringing seven men, all woodsmen, out to their homes for the week-end. R. C. M. P. have not yet established the cause of the accident.

Report Egypt Ready To Set Up Republican Gov't

By Zeln Nagati
CAIRO, Oct. 17—(AP)—Egypt is going to abandon her monarchy and become a republic, a usually reliable source said tonight. Rumors circulated throughout Cairo that the Egyptian state broadcasting company would issue a momentous announcement shortly. Newspaper offices said they were standing by for such an announcement, but an army spokesman reported there would be none tonight. Egypt's king is Fuad II, nine months old yesterday, who is in Italy with his father, Farouk, exiled July 26. A three-man regency council that has been ruling for the baby monarch was reduced Tuesday to a single regent. The shake-up was set off when Premier Mohammed Naguib fired an army officer, Col. Raashad Mehanna, from the council. Naguib accused Farouk today of "going the Western Powers" with unfounded charges that the new government is tinged by Communism. He referred to the former King's copyrighted memoirs, appearing in a London Sunday news paper, Kemsley's Empire News, and other publications abroad. The Premier issued a communique to answer what he described as allegations "dictated by Farouk's imagination." He denounced scandals for which he said Farouk was responsible. Informed sources in London predicted Sept. 30 that Naguib might abolish the monarchy and proclaim a republic. They said Egyptian leaders had planned the action in some detail, but the fluid state of politics might affect the timing.

Federal Surplus Clipped By 45 Million During September

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP)—The Federal Government's budgetary surplus dropped to $209,967,000 from $336,668,000 in September when expenditures exceeded revenues by more than $45,000,000. The September deficit, first of the current fiscal year, was reported today by the Finance Department in its monthly report on the government's financial position. The report, covering September and the first six months of the fiscal year, showed that defence expenditures, welfare payments and subsidies to the provinces were higher than in the corresponding period of 1951-52. The September deficit of $45,000,000 compared with a surplus of $1,800,000 for August and of $15,700,000 for September, 1951. At the end of September last year, the government had a surplus of $433,200,000, or $142,200,000 more than at the corresponding date this year. At the end of the last fiscal year the surplus totalled approximately $240,000,000. In his budget speech last April, Finance Minister Abbott forecast a surplus of $9,000,000 for the current year. In recent speeches he has said that as a result of the experience of recent months he will be happy if he breaks even at the end of the year next March 31.

Jaycees To Hold Conference At Moncton Today

MONCTON, Oct. 17—(CP)—Delegates from all parts of the Maritimes will meet here tomorrow for the fall conference of the Maritime Junior Chamber of Commerce. The national Jaycee president, J. Roger Fiumerfelt, of Calgary, will be present. President of the Maritime organization is A. G. Cooke, Halifax. In addition to his report there will be those of the three vice-presidents, A. B. Thompson, Halifax, vice-president for Nova Scotia, Rosario Richard, Buctouche, for New Brunswick, and Fred Pounce, Charlottetown, for Prince Edward Island. Reports to be heard during the afternoon include that on the Junior Chamber International by James Kelly, Moncton; public relations by Jack Morris, Charlottetown; and national awards by Lou Manuel.

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—The day of Queen Elizabeth's coronation next June will end with a $40,000 fireworks display. For an hour, elaborate rockets will pop high over the Thames on the night of June 2. The Queen will watch from the balcony of Buckingham Palace.

No Trace Of Missing Plane

HALIFAX, Oct. 17—(CP)—Twenty-four planes from bases in Newfoundland and the Maritimes searched without success today for a twin-engine American Beechcraft missing on a flight from New York to Goose Bay, Labrador. The plane, carrying two men, was last sighted over Seven Islands, Que. last major centre before the hop over the barren and isolated hinterland of Labrador. Names of the passengers were not available at R. C. A. P. Search and Rescue headquarters here.

Gardiner To Open Amherst Fair

AMHERST, N. S., Oct. 17—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner will open the 39th Maritime Winter Fair here Nov. 14, it was announced tonight. Visiting the show for the first time in several years, the Federal Minister will be welcomed by representatives of the governments of the three Maritime Provinces and the Maritime Stock Breeders Association.

Chinese Troops Continue Attacks

SEOUL, Oct. 16—(Saturday)—(AP)—Chinese Communist troops, ignoring losses estimated at 18,000 dead and wounded in nine days, pressed a South Korean stronghold Friday until the entertainment figure in the entertainment field in Canada for nearly 60 years died at his home here tonight. He was active in direction of his business and in his many welfare activities until his death, although his health had been failing for several years. Frederick Gilmour Spencer was born in Saint John, and although he began his career in his grandfather's tailoring business at the age of 16, he soon after married a rising young singer in his home city, Miss Helen Craig, and his interest swung to the concert stage. Soon he was one of Canada's leading impresarios, and arranged cross-country tours for such stars as Madame Albani, Melba and Nordica. An illness interrupted his career, and he became interested in the upstart motion picture business—then a year old. Against the advice of friends and family, he plunged into the new business. Over the years the business grew and the company he founded now operates a large chain of theatres. He is survived by two sons, one sister and seven grandchildren. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Islander Wins Prize At Truck Rodeo

AMHERST, N. S., Oct. 17—(C.P.)—Robert Moffatt of Sydney and Donald L. Johnson of Liverpool, N. S., tonight were declared champions of the Maritime truck rodeo—a contest in truck driving skill—held here during the last two days. LAC. Russell Scribner of the R.C.A.F., Moncton, won top honors among service competitors. Second and third place went to straight truck class went to Arthur Howard, Cornwall, P.E.I. and Dawson Buchanan of New-Castle, N. B. Placing in the tractor-trailer class were Lloyd Groundwater of Moncton and James MacNeil of East Bay, N.S. In the service class second and third places went to Cpl. Robert Monthie of the R.C.A.F., Moncton, and Cpl. L. B. Sederquist of the army, Fredericton.

Helicopters, TV, Electronics To Speed Deliveries

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP)—Revolutionary changes are coming for Canada's postal system. W. J. Turnbull, deputy postmaster general, disclosed today he is said to be. Within a few years, push-button electronics, helicopters and television screens will be put to use in a drive to speed mail handling across the country. "We'll have television screens and helicopters in operation in a year, the man who entered the Post Office department in its horse-and-buggy days, but in 1915," said in an interview. "Push-button electronics will take a little longer—perhaps three years." By late 1953, said Mr. Turnbull, one-time secretary to the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King, helicopters may be taking off from some Canadian post-office rooftops to beat downtown traffic snarls and speed up mail deliveries to outlying airports and communities. "Of course, we won't maintain the helicopter service ourselves," said Mr. Turnbull. "That would have to be done by some air service with the post office paying a rental or service fee." Television would inspect multiple mail handling operations for some central postoffice point. Inspectors, by merely flicking a switch, could make sure handlers were on the job and keeping the mail moving. Television is incorporated in architectural plans for the new post office to be built at Winnipeg next year. More of a boon to the mail sorters, because a sorter's arms can stretch only so far, he is limited to about 60 pigeon holes when sorting. "But the push-button machine could be used for about 300 pigeon holes," Mr. Turnbull said. The letter is placed on a conveyor belt, the sorter presses a couple of buttons, the letter is carried along until it reaches the required slot and a small mechanical arm flicks the letter into the slot. "This will eliminate what we call double handling, and will cut handling costs," the Deputy Postmaster General said.

Death Of Mr. F. G. Spencer

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 17—(CP)—F. G. Spencer, 79, owner of a chain of motion picture theatres in the Maritime Provinces and a leading figure in the entertainment field in Canada for nearly 60 years died at his home here tonight. He was active in direction of his business and in his many welfare activities until his death, although his health had been failing for several years. Frederick Gilmour Spencer was born in Saint John, and although he began his career in his grandfather's tailoring business at the age of 16, he soon after married a rising young singer in his home city, Miss Helen Craig, and his interest swung to the concert stage. Soon he was one of Canada's leading impresarios, and arranged cross-country tours for such stars as Madame Albani, Melba and Nordica. An illness interrupted his career, and he became interested in the upstart motion picture business—then a year old. Against the advice of friends and family, he plunged into the new business. Over the years the business grew and the company he founded now operates a large chain of theatres. He is survived by two sons, one sister and seven grandchildren. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Polish Immigrant's Taste For Raw Eggs Leads To Apprehension For Murder

THREE RIVERS, Que., Oct. 17—(CP)—A Polish immigrant's appetite for raw eggs led to his capture early today on a murder charge. Ending three weeks' search of islands that dot the St. Lawrence River, Provincial Police picked up Maksymilian Ciesla in a tent stocked with arms, ammunition and food. He was taken to Montreal where police said he admitted the shotgun killing of Aurelien Houle Sept. 26. Houle, who operated a combined restaurant and service station at Yamaska East, was killed during an attempted holdup. Police learned from immigration authorities that Ciesla had a craving for raw eggs. When farmers in the area of Maskinonge, 20 miles west of Three Rivers, reported yesterday their eggs disappearing, police went to a nearby island where they came upon Ciesla's tent. In the tent were four sawed-off shot-guns and ammunition, along with an estimated $10,000 worth of stolen supplies—tents, outboard motors, food, clothing and tools. Three boats were moored near the tent. Police said Ciesla told them he moved every night to a new island, loading his boats and pushing off after nightfall. When captured he wore a gaudy, lumberman-type shirt and boots that reached to his waist. He was clean-shaven but his hair was long. Until Ciesla's arrest, police said they thought they were looking for two suspects but now believe Ciesla has no accomplice. He talked freely in broken English and maintained he was alone. Ciesla's story differed from that of Mrs. Houle at the time her husband was shot. She told police two men attempted to rob the shop and shot her husband when he came running in as she screamed for help. Police said today Mrs. Houle may have been mistaken. Ciesla entered Canada Nov. 5 1951, as a displaced person under the International Refugee Organization. He was accompanied to Canada by Ryszard Cisowsky, 20, who has since been deported. Both served jail sentences for theft and were then taken to Quebec for deportation. They escaped. Cisowsky was captured Sept. 26 in Montreal when he went to an immigration office seeking farm work.

12,000-Mile Voyage Took Boat Now In Port Within 200 Miles Of North Pole

The Canadian Government icebreaker "C. D. Howe", which sailed from Quebec on June 27 and returned to that port on September 22, after a voyage which carried her 12,000 miles and within 900 miles of the North Pole, arrived at Charlottetown yesterday morning. In addition to the 800 tons of usual supplies which she "How" carried to the lighthouses, radio stations and Eskimo Villages as far north as Churchill, two medical doctors, a dentist and two exchange nurses were passengers who checked up on the white people and Eskimos at the various points of call. Extra mechanics and exchange personnel were also taken to check on equipment and relieve station men, including R. C. M. P. constables. Fresh supplies were taken on at Churchill, Manitoba, for the last leg of the trip into the far north which has given the "How" the distinction of being the only Canadian ship ever to have made the trip to Resolute Bay. Pangnirtung, the largest Eskimo village and outpost was an important port of call, as was also Craig Harbour on Ellesmere Island, Baffin Land, where the "How" remained for some time. Although T. B. patients are taken out of the north country quite frequently by air when their condition has been discovered, each year the "How" brings several persons south for treatment. Twelve such patients were brought to Quebec on this recent trip. The medical doctors who went north with the ship were gratified to see the great improvement in the health of the Eskimos during the last three years in which they have been making a regular check-up. Captain Paul M. Fournier, who was accompanied by Mrs. Fournier on the ship from Quebec, is no stranger to Charlottetown having sailed out of this port as Chief

Rejection Of Latest U. N. Peace Plan

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 17—(CP)—Canada today planned to urge the United Nations Assembly to appeal for Communist acceptance of a truce in Korea but decided not to allow Poland to appeal for a cease-fire in terms already rejected by the U.N. In the prepared text of a speech in the assembly's general debate, Health Minister Paul Martin asked the U.N. to make a "solemn appeal" to the Chinese Communists and North Koreans to accept the truce. But in his speech as delivered, Martin did not include the paragraph referring to the appeal, which read: "Let us again make a solemn appeal and wish to let us hope that by consent there will in the interim be a minimum of fighting and a maximum of restraint in the propaganda war across the battlefield, so that no incident or insult will impinge on the sober consideration we expect to appeal for peace to be given." Canadian delegation sources said it was believed it would be useless to be specific about an appeal to the Communists after Polish delegate Stanislaw Skrzesevski indicated Communist rejection of the latest U. N. peace proposals. Poland had called for a cease-fire but included terms in which Western delegates saw little hope for progress toward a truce if they give a hint of what Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko of Russia has to say in his first speech tomorrow. Poland's proposals included return of all prisoners of war to their home countries—the issue on which the negotiations at Panmunjon are deadlocked.

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Rejection Of Latest U. N. Peace Plan

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 17—(CP)—Canada today planned to urge the United Nations Assembly to appeal for Communist acceptance of a truce in Korea but decided not to allow Poland to appeal for a cease-fire in terms already rejected by the U.N. In the prepared text of a speech in the assembly's general debate, Health Minister Paul Martin asked the U.N. to make a "solemn appeal" to the Chinese Communists and North Koreans to accept the truce. But in his speech as delivered, Martin did not include the paragraph referring to the appeal, which read: "Let us again make a solemn appeal and wish to let us hope that by consent there will in the interim be a minimum of fighting and a maximum of restraint in the propaganda war across the battlefield, so that no incident or insult will impinge on the sober consideration we expect to appeal for peace to be given." Canadian delegation sources said it was believed it would be useless to be specific about an appeal to the Communists after Polish delegate Stanislaw Skrzesevski indicated Communist rejection of the latest U. N. peace proposals. Poland had called for a cease-fire but included terms in which Western delegates saw little hope for progress toward a truce if they give a hint of what Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko of Russia has to say in his first speech tomorrow. Poland's proposals included return of all prisoners of war to their home countries—the issue on which the negotiations at Panmunjon are deadlocked.

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

High tide today at Charlottetown at 10.31 A. M. and 10.21 P. M. High tide on the North Shore at 5.17 A. M. and 5.18 P. M. Summerside tide eight minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 6.32 A. M. and sets at 5.28 P. M.

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

Shoes By Royal Designer To Be Shown In Canada

LONDON, Oct. 17—(Reuters)—A truly royal collection of shoes, inspired by the reign of England's greatest queen, will be shown in Canada and New York this month by Edward Rayne, shoemaker to young Queen Elizabeth. In fabrics and design, they take their cue from the 16th-century days of Good Queen Bess. But the color scheme is modern, with six new shades dreamed up for the 20th-century Elizabeth's coronation next year. More information on the price to date is that they will sell for between $30 and $35. Rayne leaves by plane next Sunday and will open first in Montreal, starting a three-day display there Oct. 22. Then he will open a two-day show in Toronto. Materials range from the most expensive gold brocades, through satin and velvet, and down to leather. Designed for cocktail and evening wear, many models in the collection are encrusted with costumes

High tide today at Charlottetown at 10.31 A. M. and 10.21 P. M. High tide on the North Shore at 5.17 A. M. and 5.18 P. M. Summerside tide eight minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 6.32 A. M. and sets at 5.28 P. M.

