Mechanics' Institute.—On Tuesday evening last, T. H. Haviland, Esq., in the Chair, Hon. E. Whelan, delivered a highly instructive and excellent Lecture on "The events of the late war against Russia, and its Results."

The lecturer gave a condensed review of the principal events of the war, referred to the several battles which had been fought in the Crimea, and shewed that the ancient renown of the British and Irish Soldier had been fully sustained on its Crimson fields.—He then alluded to the Treaty of Peace lately concluded in Paris—gave a synopsis of its conditions—showed that these embraced the whole Eastern question, about which the war had commenced; and that the Western Powers having agreed to negotiate a Peace on those conditions, the lecturer was of opinion that better terms could not have been exacted from Russia, although their naval and military power was such at the close of the war, that, had they postponed the negotiation, they could have easily exacted better terms from the enemy, and so humbled and checked his aggressive spirit, that a permanent peace might have been secured, which is by no means certain under present circumstances, and the down-trodden nationalities of Europe be placed in such a position as would enable them easily to regain their independence. For these reasons the lecturer expressed his regret that the war had been so prematurely brought to a conclusion. After which an animated discussion followed which was well sustained by Frederick Brecken, Esq., and others who concurred in general with the views so ably advanced by the lecturer.

Thus terminated the present course of Lectures at the Mechanics' Institute.

Prospectus.
The Colonial Times.

AT an early date after the opening of the navigation, we intend publishing in Chatham, under our own immediate superintendence, a large quarto weekly newspaper, called the

COLONIAL TIMES.

We consider it quite disreputable to this section of the Province, possessing as it does so much influence and talent, that it has allowed its interests to be represented for nearly half a century by one paper, while another well-conducted Journal could be supported with so much ease. We have resolved, that this state of things shall exist no longer, and are gratified with the cordial reception our proposal has met from all classes of the community

The COLONIAL TIMES shall be devoted to the advancement of Education, Agriculture, the Fisheries, Commerce, Literature and Science.

Eschewing all sectarianism, we shall represent equally the different denominations of Christians.

While we avoid, as much as possible, entering the arena of politics, our colums shall be open to the discussion of all important questions, with this proviso, that no scurrilous attack on any man's private character shall ever disgrace our pages.

We intend, as far as possible, to encourage and develope local talent. With this object in view—as well as to make our pages the more interesting—we shall endeavour to procure one or more original articles weekly. When desired, the names of contributors will be kept strictly private.

Our best efforts shall be used in the advancement of every useful local institution: all, therefore, who take an active part in promoting the welfare, elevating the character, or advancing the interests of the people, will find in us a faithful friend; their efforts shall not be allowed to pass unnoticed.

We shall advocate the introduction of Railways, and other internal improvements, best calculated to develope the resources of this most valuable, though much neglected, section of the British American Colonies.

We shall furnish our readers with the latest news, foreign and domestic. Selections from the English, Irish, Scotch, American and Colonial papers will be given under their respective haeds.

The market prices current shall be revised weekly for the benefit of our country subscribers.

For the entertainment of those who love a good story, every issue of our paper will contain one, carefully selected, and attractive; its length however, will be limited.

The COLONIAL TIMES shall sustain an unquestionably moral tone, so that parents may safely place it in the hands of their children; and as we have always felt a particular interest in this class, we shall not fail to reserve a corner for their special perusal

Confident that we shall be nobly sustained in our present enterprise by an intelligent public, our preparations for publishing are going forward with all possible haste.

Our terms will be Ten Shillings per annum, payable half yearly in advance, or Twelve and Sixpence at the end of the year.
