Brig. Plow Takes Over At Halifax

HALIFAX, Oct. 3 — (CP) — Maj. Gen. H. W. Foster, 48, yesterday relinquished command of Eastern Army Command, to Brig. E. C. Plow, 45, one of Canada's top artillery soldiers with a distinguished record as a permanent force officer.
 Closing a brilliant career of 28 years service, General Foster will be granted more than six months retirement leave. He is planning to leave Halifax for Brussels, Belgium, shortly to take up his new appointment as chief administrator of the Imperial War Graves Commission.
 Brig. Plow, a native of Ontario, graduated from the Royal Military College, Kingston, in 1925, receiving his commission as a lieutenant in the Royal Canadian artillery. He served with distinction during the Second World War in a succession of artillery field appointments, culminating in the top gunner job of Brigadier, Royal Artillery, First Canadian Army overseas.
 Since the end of the war Brig. Plow has served as commander of British Columbia area and senior Canadian army liaison officer in London, England. He comes from the latter appointment to his new command in the Maritimes.

MacKinnon-Trainor Wedding

The Sacred Heart Church, Mt. Ryan, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on September 18, at 8:30, when Phyllis Claire, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Trainor, Donagh, became the bride of John B. MacKinnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacKinnon, Grand Tracadie. Rev. Louis P. Callaghan performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial Mass.
 The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mr. Martin Power, who also assisted the choir during the ceremony. The hymn, "Oh God of Loveliness" was very beautifully rendered by Mr. Harold Beagan.
 The bride was beautifully attired in a floor-length gown of ivory satin with fitted bodice set with emerald and pearl stones, fashioned with a round net neckline and long sleeves extending over the hands in lily points. The fingertip veil fell from a beaded coronet, and she carried a bouquet of pink gladioli, maiden hair fern and baby's breath. White streamers fell from her missal, the gift of the groom. Her only jewelry was a four strand pearl necklace with matching ear-rings, the gift of the bride's aunt in Chicago.
 She was attended by Miss Anna MacKinnon, sister of the groom, and Miss Mary White, Miss MacKinnon wore a gown of yellow net over halo nylon; her head-dress was a lime net with matching accessories and she carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli and maiden hair fern. Miss White wore a gown of old rose taffeta; her head-dress was a halo of pink net with matching accessories and she carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli and maiden hair fern.
 The groom was ably supported by Mr. Clifford Trainor, brother of the bride. Mr. Frederic MacKinnon, brother of the groom, was usher.
 For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Trainor chose a suit of grey gabardine with navy accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of navy taffeta with white accessories and wore a corsage of white roses.
 After the marriage ceremony, the bridal party motored to Charlottetown where a delicious breakfast was served to the immediate family and friends. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Roddie MacKinnon and responded to by the groom.

IN MEMORIAM

W. A. LOCKE JONES
 One of Prince Edward Island's oldest and most respected citizens, William Alexander Locke Jones, passed away at his home in Pownal, Sept. 26, 1950 at the advanced age of 87 years.
 A fourth generation inhabitant of the old Jones homestead at Pownal, the late Mr. Jones lived in the Queen's County farming community all his life. Born Nov. 5, 1863, he was a son of the late William and Margaret (McRae) Jones.
 His great grandfather came to this country as an immigrant from Hawkhead, near Paisley, Scotland and settled in Pownal in 1816. The great grandfather of the deceased was William Jones of Calthness who moved to Redfrewshire in 1758 and married Margaret Locke, a sister of Admiral Locke from whom the late Mr. Jones got the Christian name by which he was well and familiarly known.
 The late Locke Jones was for many years a director of the Hazelbrook Dairying Company and was very active in Liberal Party circles.
 He married Emily Joyce Jenkins of Pownal who predeceased him by 13 years. Surviving are a daughter, Margaret (widow of the late Herbert W. Yeo) and two sons, Frank in Charlottetown and Wilbur on the homestead. Premier J. Walter Jones is a cousin of the deceased.
 The funeral was held Sept. 28th with a short service at the home followed by service at the Baptist Church in Hazelbrook. Services were conducted by Rev. A. S. Weir of Pownal and the following were the pallbearers: Arthur Moore, Robert Brown, Layton Jones, Roy Jones, Hebr McPhail and Ambrose McMillan, all relatives or neighbors of the deceased.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MAJOR H. LOWTHER
 News of the death of Mrs. Major H. Lowther, at her home in Searletown, P.E.I., was learned with deep regret and a sense of personal loss by a wide circle of friends and relatives.
 Mrs. Lowther, formerly Janet Adeline Sinclair, who was 69 years of age was born in St. Jamesfield, P.E.I., the eldest daughter of the late Hon. Peter Sinclair and Margaret MacMurdo Sinclair and one of a family of eight.
 Although in failing health for several years she had been actively engaged in the duties of the home until she suffered a stroke Friday, Sept. 15th. Despite the tender ministrations of loving hands she failed to rally and passed on to her eternal home Saturday, September 23rd.
 The deceased was characterized by a spirit of cheerfulness and kindness. Her gentle manner, gracious hospitality and selfless service will long be remembered and cherished by those who knew her. The beauty and influence of such a life must abide.
 For many years she was a faithful member of the Searletown United Church where she gave leadership in the Sunday School and Auxiliary of the W.M.S.
 The spirit of the Master whom she served was shown in her firm faith, her devotion to duty and her unselfish consideration for others.
 The funeral service held from the home on Monday, Sept. 25th was conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. B. Crowe of Bedeque United Church. He chose for his text Luke 2:29-30 "Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace according to Thy word, for mine eyes have seen Thy salvation." Tribute was paid to the worthy

IN MEMORIAM

Christian character of Mrs. Lowther and to the contribution made by her in the home, church and community.
 The musical service, under the direction of the Bedeque Choir, included the hymns "Unto the Hills", "Abide With Me" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."
 The large concourse of people assembled and the beautiful floral tributes were evidence of the regard and affection in which the deceased was held.
 Searletown neighbors who acted as pallbearers were Edward Leard, Clayton Blackmore, Kenneth Muttart, F. L. Flatts, Walter Wright and Fred MacQuarrie. Interment was in the Searletown cemetery.
 Besides her husband there are left to mourn one daughter, Gladys Mrs. Neil Bradshaw at home; one son Carman S., assistant manager of the Royal Bank, Belleville, Ont., one brother, A. M. Sinclair, Vancouver, B.C., two sisters, Mary, Mrs. H. Saul, Winnipeg, Amy, Mrs. (Rev.) Alexander MacKay, New Mills, N.B., and six grandchildren. Two brothers, J. Norris Sinclair and Senator John E. Sinclair, predeceased her within the past eighteen months. Winnifred, Mrs. J. L. Douglas and Peter Sinclair, M.P., died several years ago.
