Transport Workers Threaten Strike To Paralyze Seaway

OTTAWA (CP) - A strike that would paralyze the St. Lawrence Seaway was threatened Thursday by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CBRTG) if a wage increase of seven per cent this year and a further seven per cent in 1967 for the Seaway's 1,200 workers. Basic rate for laborers now is $2.13 an hour.
A CBRTG spokesman said the recommendation did not come close enough to the union's demand for a 35-per-cent boost that would put Canadian Seaway rates on a par with those paid on the U.S. side of the international waterway.
He said the committee will ask all members to reject the offer when it is put to a mail vote. If two-thirds of the members did so, a strike would be called.
Dr. Pierre Camu, president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, said the Seaway is willing to accept the wage recommendations, which was signed by chairman F. J. Ainsworth of Toronto and company nominee A. J. Bates of Montreal.
