

THE WEEK AT SDU

WUSC Secretary Tells Of World Wide Projects

A sudden and unusual hush has descended upon St. Dunstan's campus this week as students frantically peruse their books in preparation for their first exams of the year, the mid-semester. In short fifty minute exams such as these the work really has to be known well, as there is no time for pondering. Today and Monday are the fateful days, and the "Week" wishes the best of luck to the guys and girls writing.

Despite the studious atmosphere, a good deal of activity has been taking place at St. Dunstan's during the past week. One of the highlights was the visit of Miss Peta Tancred, associate secretary of World University Service of Canada (WUSC). Miss Tancred spoke to the various members of the student executive and several members of the faculty concerning WUSC, of which St. Dunstan's is a member.

WUSC is an international organization in which forty-four countries participate. This organization stresses unity among University communities. Those who can give should assist others who are less fortunate. The spirit of WUSC is one of mutual self-help - help people to help themselves and to act on their own initiative.

When outlining the WUSC program Miss Tancred stressed such things as: Treasure Van, WUSC seminars, Study centres, scholarship program and the International program of action. Treasure Van is WUSC's main source of revenue. It is a collection of goods from all the countries which are members of the organization and travels to be sold all over Canada. Treasure Van will be coming to Charlottetown late in October, this year under the management of Prince of Wales College.

P.E.I. DELEGATE
The WUSC seminars have been held for the past eight years. The idea is to send a number of Canadian University students to a foreign country for a period of six weeks where they come into intimate contact with the people of that country and see at first hand their problems and way of life. The seminar this year is to be held in Israel. Miss Olga Dowling of St. Dunstan's was a delegate to the seminar in last summer which was held in the West Indies.

Concerning the study centres, WUSC arranges tours for Canadian students to study at Universities in foreign countries. Under the scholarship program for students of other countries, these students study in Canada under scholarships financed through the students themselves. WUSC also helps Canada Council scholars by acting as a reception committee when they arrive.

Under the International program of action the Universities of Canada contribute to the International fund, the IPA, whose headquarters is in Geneva. The needy apply to his fund which started originally as a relief for European refugees.

Miss Tancred's visit occurred shortly after the return of the St. Dunstan's delegates. Father Adrien Arsenault and Louis Doucette, to the National WUSC Conference at McGill University. The Conference discussed the International program of action for the year, the National program, including the seminar in Israel, and the Treasure Van. On the local level the conference discussed means of raising money for the International program.

There were also several plenary sessions which dealt with the scholarship program, and which was to prepare for one of two regional meetings, one of regional Maritime Conference at Mount Allison University in January. All in all, this conference whose busy schedule extended from a Friday to Monday afternoon was a success.

Yesterday, Father Thomas McLellan, Miss Olga Dowling, President of CFCCS, and Bill Kelly, President of the Students Union left for Montreal to attend a conference of the Canadian Federation of Catholic College Students (CFCCS).

BIG GAME
Last Friday evening in preparation for the game with U.N.B. on Saturday a football rally was held in the gym to pep up student rallies. The cheerleaders went through their paces while the students learned the cheers. Several student leaders and players added their piece to the proceedings. The band was in attendance, and, to the strains of the professional, the U.N.B. effort was brought by the undertaker and his assistants to be laid in state, where the students viewed his mutilated remains with proper solemnity.

On Saturday, immediately before the game the corpse was interred with due pomp and ceremony near the field of battle. Unfortunately, however, the corpse arose, and proceeded to defeat the S.D.U. Varsity players 54-2 in the afternoon's proceedings.

Having won over St. Mary's and Mount Allison, the U.N.B. squad were heavily favored to beat the S.D.U. gang by a much bigger score, but the Red and White boys never stopped trying, and gave good account of themselves throughout the game against the league powerhouse. The mainlanders were outplayed by the Saints for the first quarter, but after that took control from their less experienced adversaries.

Stars for the Fredericton scholars were Bolitho and McLellan with three and two touchdowns, respectively other scorers were Gioti, Hughes and Boyd. St. Dunstan's grabbed their two points for the afternoon when Frank Driscoll chased quarterback Rylander into his end zone so that he couldn't get out.

The Saints gave a pretty good account of themselves despite the lopsided score. In the matter of first downs they topped the mainlanders 15-13, but their opportunities for touchdowns were bungled by over-anxiousness, and resulted in costly fumbles near the enemy line.

INJURED
Two St. Dunstan's players were taken to the hospital with injuries received in the game. Offensive guard Ian MacDonald is suffering from a bruised lung, while linebacker Parker Lund is out of action with a broken ankle. Everyone wishes these players a speedy recovery.

St. Dunstan's is scheduled to play two more games this season. Both are away from home, the first being with St. Mary's on October 31st and the wind-up with Mount Allison on November 7th.

St. Dunstan's Gymnasium was the setting on Sunday night for an instructive debate concerning the balance of science and the humanities facing present day educators.

The participants were Daniel O'Hanley and Edward Benson of St. Dunstan's, James Gordon, a graduate of Glasgow University, and Roger Tilbury, a graduate of Exeter University. The two latter students took part in similar debates at McGill, Dalhousie and Mount Allison Universities.

Lorne MacGuigan of St. Dunstan's chaired this debate the topic of which "Resolved that we are giving too much emphasis to science in education". Mr. O'Hanley and Mr. Gordon upheld the affirmative, while Mr.

Benson and Mr. Tilbury spoke for the negative. The large audience which attended this debate, thoroughly enjoyed.

Once more we come to the end of the week's activities. Best of luck in those exams, students!

Wage Increases Blamed For Rise

TORONTO (CP)—C. S. Jackson, vice-president in Canada of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Ind.), denied Wednesday that prices of manufactured products have gone up mainly because of union wage increases.

Mr. Jackson was referring to a statement made to the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce Tuesday by J. H. Smith, president of Canadian General Electric Company Limited.

Mr. Jackson said Dominion bureau of statistics figures from 1945 to 1956 show that the wage cost per output dollar in the electrical industry dropped to 16.8 cents from 21.9 cents—a decrease of 23.3 per cent.

He said in a statement that in the same period "taxation statistics show that profits before taxes for the electrical manufacturing industry . . . increased from $21,300,000 to $67,100,000 and depreciation charged to costs increased from $4,000,000 to $22,500,000."

IKE GOES GOLFING
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower left by plane Wednesday for a five-day visit to Augusta, Ga., hoping that golfing in sunshine there would help him shake off a lingering cold. While Eisenhower still has lingering traces of the cold he caught last month, press secretary James Hagerly said this was not a major factor in the decision to go to Augusta. He also said the president's general health is excellent.
