Unidentified firemen check the ruins of a chesterfield thrown from a third floor apartment on Kent Street following a fire last night. The fire is believed to have started in the chesterfield and spread to a nearby chair. The two-room apartment, located above the office of Dr. J. A. Garruthers, suffered severe smoke and water damage. Woodwork located near the burning furniture was badly chewed by the intense heat. The fire broke out at 7.40 and firemen were back at the station three-quarters of an hour later. Two engines and the aerial ladder truck responded to the call.

PC Party Retains Seats In N.B. Byelection Vote

HAMPTON, N.B. (CP)—Progressive Conservatives retained two Kings County seats for their party in a provincial byelection Monday.

John B. M. Baxter and George E. Horton defeated their only opponents. Liberal candidates Miles V. Jenkins and John W. Turbull.

The results left the legislature standings unchanged from those after the last provincial general election June 27, 1959. Liberals 21, PC 21.

Mr. Baxter, 38, Kingsharrow lawyer, is a son of the late Chief Justice J. B. M. Baxter, once Conservative premier of the province. His successful running mate, Mr. Horton, 52, is a Sussex merchant and former mayor of the town of Turbull.

Lower Kars, became a four-time loser. His Kings County bids for the legislature also failed in 1952, 1956 and 1960. The other unsuccessful candidate, Mr. Turbull, 26, is the youngest of the contestants. He was admitted to the New Brunswick bar in 1960 and lives at Fair Vale.

Kings has three seats in the 32-seat legislature. The other is held by PC leader C. B. Sherwood.

OPENED VACANCIES

The two vacancies occurred when Mr. N. J. O'Neil resigned April 27 to become a county court judge and R. G. L. Fairweather resigned May 4 to accept Royal commission, comprising Kings and Queens Counties, in the June federal election. He won.

are processed per week, with about 40 per cent of the crop going to the United Kingdom. In November, growers were getting 100 per cent of the crop. The plan, one dollar for each 75 pounds, not enough to cover production cost. The Liberal plan calls for price support to start five days after the election and continue until March 15, being extended if necessary.

A seven man board — four farmers and three dealers — would administer the scheme. Mr. Matheson said the Conservative government of Premier Walter Shaw has talked about

U.S. Satellite Debate Sparked

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States (AP) defended as consistent with international law the use of satellites in space for collection of military information. It met with an immediate challenge from the Soviet Union.

The declaration on so-called spy satellites was made in the United Nations main political committee by U.S. Senator Albert Gore (Dem. Tenn.).

Gore also said that "even although it now is feasible," the U.S. has no intention of placing weapons of mass destruction into orbit, unless compelled to do so by the Soviet Union.

Gore closed in the committee with Soviet Ambassador Platon Morozov as debate opened on measures for promoting peaceful co-operation in exploration of space.

There were U.S.-Soviet differences also on the role of private enterprise in a global system of communications satellites. In an apparent reference to U.S. high-altitude nuclear tests, Morozov said the Soviet Union opposed "all operations of satellites" which might hinder peaceful exploration of space.

TAKE SAFETY MEASURES

Gore said it was U.S. policy to take all "reasonable and practicable" steps in developing a global system of communications satellites. He said such activities violated the UN charter.

Gore said two additional U.S. communications satellites, Relay and Syncom, will be launched soon to join Telstar. He stressed that U.S. participation in the system would be by a communication satellite corporation "private in character, but subject to government regulation."

Morozov's reaction was that "all states should participate in space communications systems in the interests of all peoples of the world in the interest of the whole mankind."

But in this field, he added, "we should rise above the selfish and private commercial interests."

Libster Aid Not Planned

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

OTTAWA (CP)—There does not appear to be a need of federal financial aid to lobster fishermen in the present time, G. W. Crossman, New Brunswick Liberal MP, was told Monday.

Mr. Crossman was asked a question on the Commons' order paper having to do with lobster fishermen in recent storms.

The fisheries department said that field officers of the department report regularly on storm damage and the need for equipment, as it may occur.

"Reports received to date do not indicate a need for special government consideration," the reply stated. "The fishermen's community plan provides an opportunity for fishermen to use private vessels and lobster traps against storm and other damage."

The fleet is being shepherded and from Toronto by a driver and three civic employees, Hawley Crockett, Ben Doiron and William Perry.

There are no special ceremonies planned on the float's arrival here, other than a greeting by the Prime Minister, but the float will be quite an attraction in the city ball day as it will later be taken out in the Ottawa city hall.

Island Vote Delays Plans For Meeting

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

REGINA (CP) — Arrangement of definite dates for federal provincial talks on financial aid for highway construction has been held up by the Prince Edward Island general election campaign, Saskatchewan Highways Minister C. Willis said Monday.

The president of the Canadian Good Roads Association is Highways Minister Philip Matheson of Prince Edward Island.

Highways ministers from all provinces attending the recent Good Roads Association meeting at Quebec agreed to accept for continued federal aid on provincial highways networks rather than on a single road such as a second trans-Canada highway.

Highways Minister C. Willis said Monday that the province would be applied more effectively and attention given to intra-provincial highways.

"We hope the future talks will produce continued federal financial aid which will not be held until after the Prince Edward Island election," Mr. Willis said.

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

A growing financial picture of businessmen from the O'Leary, Alberton and Tintin areas met in the Alberton Library last night to discuss the establishment of a food processing plant in the area.

Following remarks by Harry MacWilliams, chairman of O'Leary commissioners, the meeting was presided over by several other speakers, the meeting went on record as strongly favoring the project.

The proposed plant, costing in the vicinity of a million dollars, would require a 16-acre site on the railroad with good access roads and one hundred acres of land for experimental purposes. A group of ten men, including three from the area, were recruited for the project.

"It is planned," Mr. MacWilliams said, "to have a high quality product, and to be extended to Bloomfield Corner and O'Leary under ARDA."

Following remarks by several other speakers, the meeting went on record as strongly favoring the project.

Phillips Concedes Defeat in Toronto

Ottawa's firebrand in a year elected for another two-year term with what appeared to be a larger margin than the 1,816 votes she held over lawyer Sam Berger in 1960.

With 209 of 537 polls reported, Miss Whitton had 29,014 votes, and Mr. Berger 25,291.

In other big city mayoral contests, Mayor Nathan Phillips of Toronto, conceded defeat to Controller Donald A. Barron in 1962.

Phillips' Toronto victory was seeking an unprecedented fifth term.

The issues of fluoridation and Sunday activities helped bring in 48 of 1,338 polls reported. Mr. Summerville had 37,509 votes, and Mr. Phillips 37,514.

Four other candidates were left out of sight.

Russia Rejects Test Ban Plan

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

GENEVA (AP) — Russia

rejected a proposal for a test ban on nuclear weapons, including Canada, to halt all nuclear tests in the present time, G. W. Crossman, New Brunswick Liberal MP, was told Monday.

The nuclear Indian, Swedish and Mexican delegations clearly were disappointed. Representatives of the Kremlin along with Canada's Gen. E. M. Burns, had offered a proposal for a test ban on the 17 - nation disarmament talks.

Burns and Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin clashed during the 3½-hour session. Objecting to a partial test ban which did not cover underground blasts, Tsarapkin argued that a test ban is a resumption of the nuclear arms race "by providing an illusion that progress had been made and give the West a military advantage.

While the Western powers are willing to have any test ban incorporated in a broader detection system, they do not regard these unmanned instruments as a substitute for international on-site inspections.
