ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Mr. R. E. Stevenson Remembered by His Friends—Addresses and Replies.

Mr. R. E. Stevenson, who has taught as Principal in the New Glasgow High School for the past four years and three months, was presented with the following addresses by the ratepayers and pupils on the eve of his departure for Lexington, Kentucky, where he intends taking an art course in Kentucky University. Accompanying the address was a beautiful and costly watch chain and charm, the gift of the pupils. Mr. Stevenson was also the recipient of other presents from friends in the country and city, which go to show the esteem, in which he is held by his large circle of friends:—

ADDRESS.

To Mr. R. E. Stevenson, Principal of School:

Having heard with regret that you have decided to sever connection with us, we the undersigned ratepayers, feel that we would be remiss in our duty by letting you depart without expressing some manifestation of the esteem in which you are held. You have conducted our school for the last four and a quarter years with marked success, enjoying the confidence of parent and pupil alike, and by your tact and skilful school management, cases for the interference of the school officers have been almost unknown, while everything has moved harmoniously along. By your manly deportment and upright christian character, you have never let an opportunity of inculcating lessons for the advancement of all things, moral, intellectual and religious.

During your stay amongst us you have taken an active part in all our meetings whether of church, Sunday School, Temperance or Association of Farmers, and Dairyman, in all of which you have been most strenuous in your exertions to make them a success.

In our Farmers Association we have been interested and instructed by you on subjects pertaining to agriculture, fruit growing, etc. Under your direction a society of Loyal Crusaders of Temperance has been established among the scholars, of which you are worthy commander. As a Sunday school superintendent you have striven to impress upon the minds of the scholars the great truths uttered by the Divine Teacher.

In conclusion we all most heartily join in wishing you even greater success in a wider range of thought and work; and although we part now for a season we hope ere long to see you amongst us again, bring many honors to your native village and island home; but if in the dispensation of Providence, it should be so ordered that we should not meet again in this life, we hope and trust that you may meet beyond on that high and holier sphere. Brad-haw, M. D., Peter Doucette, R. E. Bagnall, W. H. Stevenson.

REPLY.

To Messrs. W. D. McCoubrey, C. A. Stevenson, Elijah Hill, James Dickieson and others:—

Dear Friends,—I feel grateful to you for the words of good will expressed in your kindly worded address, which you have honored me with today. It affords me considerable gratification to know that my labors with you for the past four and one-quarter years, have been appreciated. This true that a fair measure of success has attended my efforts in the school; but the credit does not belong to me alone but a part must be given to the pupils for the zeal with which they worked and to the parents for their interest.

You have kindly referred to my efforts outside the schoolroom, in church and secular affairs. In these my meetings, I did no more than it was my duty to have done.

The recollection of those meetings will always remain fixed in my mind.

In our farmer's meetings we had pleasant sessions when we debated some agricultural question, and if I was able to give information, I did so gladly. The Society of Loyal Crusaders among the scholars I feel sure will be a most profitable thing for them, because by this means they may be kept in the paths of rectitude, since many a life has been ruined by strong drink. I thank you dear friends for your good wishes as to my future course, and I assure you that I shall endeavor not to disappoint you in your anticipations of my success, but shall endeavor to reflect credit upon my native village.

Now in bidding you adieu I wish you all a large measure of prosperity in this life, and an inheritance beyond incorruptible and undimmed and that fadeeth not away.

ADDRESS.

To our dear Teacher:

We learn with regret that you have decided to give up your position as teacher in our school.

We shall lose, at your departure, both teacher and friend, one who has worked diligently and patiently for the advancement of our school, besides taking an active interest in anything we undertook apart from school work, and who has invariably treated us with kindness wherever we met.

We ask you to accept this chain as a small token of the esteem in which you are held by us. Wishing you every success in whatever calling you may pursue, we remain your sincere friend and

REPLY.

Dear Pupils: I thank you most cordially for this kind address and accompanying presents which you have bestowed upon me today. Words seem such frail mediums to convey to you my heartfelt thanks for such unexpected presents. I too, on this occasion, feel deeply the situation I seem now to be severing myself from, and putting behind me a most happy period of my life. The year that I have spent studying and teaching in those old walls, which are almost sacred to the memory of many who have gone before us into various walks of life, some to the farm, some to the trades, some to the bar, others to the bench and not a few to fill the pulpits of this fair land of ours and the neighbouring republic.

I want you all to do the best you can in whatever your calling may be when you leave the schoolroom. Always keep the desire to excel before your minds so that you may grow up useful men and women in the great and busy world.

I thank you for the kind wishes you express regarding my success in life, and they shall always be an incentive to me wherever I may go, and, in bidding you farewell, which is a sad duty to perform, let me say that though now our way must diverge somewhat, yet we may in the providence of God meet many times in the days to come.

SOURIS NOTES.

The funeral of the late Mr. Frank Murphy, Inspector of schools, on Thursday last, was, perhaps, the largest ever seen here there being besides many pedestrians one hundred and twenty-five carriages in the procession. At the church six clergymen, the Rev. Fathers McIntyre, McEldan, Gillis, Walker, McDonald, and McMillan took part in the service, the latter giving the funeral oration which was highly appreciated by those present. The deceased was a young man of irreproachable character in every relation in life. Much sympathy is felt in the community for his widowed mother in this her latest sorrow.

The new hymn books were used for the first time by the Presbyterian congregation on Sunday last. The old version of the psalms and paraphrases gives way to this new book of praise.

The sittings of the County Court which occupied several days of last week were characterized by the usual number of knotty cases which only one possessed of a clear insight into human nature like Judge Reddin, is able to satisfactorily untie.

Mr. William Burke, of Bay Fortune, after many years of successful operations, has made up his mind to retire from active work, and with this in view is building on Main Street in the eastern end of the village, a snug cottage in which he and Mrs. Burke intend spending the remainder of their days.

Eastern farmers are nearly all done potato digging. They report the quality good, but the crop rather a light one.

Sunday's northwesterly gale, with its showers of snow and hail, was the first reminder this fall that winter is not a very great distance away. Some of the vessels in port had rather a rough time of it while the storm lasted, but no damage was sustained around here except the throwing down of some fences and the unroofing of one or two grain barracks.

Mr. John Morrow is having a hot air apparatus and two plate glass windows put in his store.

Mr. Thos. Rose, of Lakeville, is in town today.

Mr. E. McKenzie has some of the largest oysters ever seen in this part of the island. The schr. Satellite owned by Thomas Kickham, Souris West, is loading with produce for St. Pierre.

The arrivals at the Sea View are Lyman W. Cox, St. John; A. Murphy, St. Catharines; D. H. Mingay, Detroit; D. C. Gardner, Calais, Maine; G. E. Powers, Fredericton; A. S. Hewitt, Charlottetown.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

Congressman "Jerry" Simpson of Medicine Lodge, Kan., predicts another panic for this country before long. According to Mr. Simpson, England is paying for American exports in American securities, and the banks are bolstering up the securities by borrowing. He predicts that the banks will be obliged to unload in the near future, and this will cause the crash.

SHOULD BE CANCELLED.—A correspondent asks us to call the attention of the proper persons to the fact that there are in circulation a number of Dominion notes of the smaller denominations that should be cancelled and a new issue made. He says some of them are positively filthy and should not be in circulation.

Y. M. L. A.—The opening event of this sea-ou's entertainments and lectures in connection with the Young Men's Literary Society of St. James' Church will take place on Tuesday evening next the 26th inst. Those who wish to enjoy a pleasant evening should make no other engagement for that night. Something good is in prospect. Particulars will be announced later.

SOME LAMBS.—The Summerside Journal says: On Friday last Mr. John McDougall, O'Leary, shipped 205 lambs, from here to Mr. John McGrath, St. John Mr. McDougall will purchase lambs till the close of navigation. Mr. S. H. Jones shipped a carload, two hundred in number, to Boston, on Monday last. Mr. C. A. McNutt, Kensington, shipped 181 yesterday morning, to Messrs. J. A. Leaman & Co., Halifax.

SAFE ROBBED.—The safe in the post office at Westmoreland Point was blown open yesterday morning or Sunday night. The office is kept by Mr. Edwin Oulton, who on going to open the post office on Monday morning found the windows smashed out and the safe upside down and the contents, $22, missing. There is considerable excitement and the work is thought to have been done by novices. As yet there is no clue to the perpetrators of the deed. The postmaster will have to make good the damages.—News.

Mex-o still reigns supreme. The people ask for Mex-o and Mex-o they must have. Consequently the Mex-o Medicine Company in Market Hall are disposing of Mex-o in large quantities. Nothing like Mex-o for the blood, stomach, liver and kidney weakness. It has cured millions and will cure you. While the Co. are here they will sell the large $1 bottles of Mex-o for 50 cts to advertise it and if not satisfactory you can return the empty bottle and receive your money. The concert given each evening by the Company are drawing large audiences. Tonight a big special show with no medicine lecture, a lot of singing and dancing fun and mystery. Admission 10c.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER.—The complimentary dinner tendered Mr. D. R. Laird at the Clifton House, Summerside, a few evenings ago, was a distinct success. About forty gentlemen sat down to the table, which was presided over by Hon. John Yeo, who had on his right the guest of the evening, and on his left his father, the Hon. David Laird. Before the dinner began the chairman read a highly complimentary address to Mr. Laird, and after dinner an interesting programme of toasts was disposed of. All the speakers referred to Mr. Laird's career as a banker and a citizen in the most complimentary terms, and expressed their regret at his departure from amongst them.

POWELL DISTRICT LODGE.—The semi-annual session of Powell District Lodge, I. O. G. T., met with "Morning Star" Lodge, Kinross, on Wednesday, Oct. 13th. The attendance was large although the enthusiasm was unbounded. The District degree was conferred on eleven candidates. The reports of the various officers showed Good Templary to be in a flourishing condition in all parts of the District. The spacious hall at Uigg was filled to overflowing at the public meeting in the evening. District Templar F. B. McRae, occupied the chair, while a carefully prepared programme, made up principally of local talent, was creditably carried out. The existence of a strong temperance sentiment in this favored locality was evidenced by the intense interest taken in the whole day's proceedings. The next session will be held at Vernon River Bridge next March.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.—The concert given in St. Peter's Schoolroom last evening was a decided success in every respect. The vocal solos by Miss Winnie Cotton and Rev. J. W. Godfrey were well given and deservedly encored. Mr. T. A. McLean and Major Weeks each gave excellent readings. Mr. McLean's reading was entitled "The Fireman," and Major Weeks' "The Baldheaded Man and the Little Boy." Mr. Vinnicomb's violin solo was exquisitely played, and rapturously encored. Mr. Reginald Stewart's clarinet solo with orchestral accompaniment was another good number and was greatly enjoyed. The rendering of the several items by Vinnicomb's orchestra was excellent, especially Mr. Vinnicomb's own composition which he named "Charlottetown." This latter number had to be repeated. On November 2nd. Rav. J. T. Bryans will deliver a lecture entitled "Things That Interested Our Forefathers."

Sewing Machine at a Bargain.—There will be sold at Mr. Bearisto's auction room on Friday at 12 o'clock an almost new Singer sewing machine. This and other articles have been seized for rent. Bargains may be expected.
