Atlantic Provinces Urged To Look After Their Assets

By MIKE DUFFY

"A new dynamic approach" was how Ian MacKeighan, QC, of Halifax described the federal and provincial governments' methods of dealing with the economic problems of this area, when he spoke at the regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Board of Trade at the Charlottetown Hotel last night.

Mr. MacKeighan said that in order to remedy the situation, the people of the Atlantic Provinces must look at their assets instead of their liabilities and use these assets to encourage industry to come to the area.

He went on to describe the function of the Atlantic Development Board and said that "the Board's function was a very broad one, to do and recommend the doing of anything that may stimulate economic development in a positive manner. Such programs and projects may or may not involve expenditure from the much publicized Atlantic development fund of $100,000,000.

"Projects which do not involve expenditure from the fund may involve getting some other agency or agencies to push ahead or develop and carry out a project of benefit to our area. This, I suggest, is our primary task, working with others in trying to get things done in these Atlantic Provinces".

BASIC PROBLEMS

Mr. MacKeighan said that primary consideration must be given to the basic problems of transportation and power. He went on to say that we need better highways, ports, more shipping lines, a new and different answer to the freight rate problem, new developments in air transportation, and more and better shipping lines to serve the Atlantic Provinces.

The board chairman noted that the board has committed $20,000,000 to a hydro project on the St. John River, and another $20,000,000 to the power development in the Bay D'Espoir area on the south-east corner of Newfoundland. In addition, the board is assisting in a study of the feasibility of constructing a power transmission cable to this province from the mainland.

Mr. MacKeighan pointed out that the board is assisting to the extent of $700,000 in the development of the Georgetown fish and food processing complex, and this money will be used to provide water and sewage services and a power line, to the plant.

Of the $100,000,000 fund, $41,000,000 has been allotted to various projects.

ISLAND PROJECTS

Other projects which are under consideration for this province are the establishment of industrial park areas, the encouragement of an expanded peat and Irish moss industry and the possible establishment of a glass manufacturing industry.

Summing up, Mr. MacKeighan said "generally, it is the objective of the Atlantic Development Board to do things that will make the board unnecessary—to do things that will make this whole region equal to other parts of Canada from an economic standpoint. We are a catalyst that may help things develop—a gap filler that will fill the gap that others cannot fill."

"The Atlantic Development Board is taking the positive outlook, and if everyone in the Atlantic Provinces does their share, we will succeed."

The meeting was chaired by the Board of Trade president, George Chandler, and the guest speaker was introduced by Melvin J. MacQuaid, QC, of Souris. W.R. Brennan, vice-president of the Board of Trade, thanked Mr. McKeighan for his address.

Supreme Court Allows Appeal Against Union

Mr. Justice G.J. Tweedy said yesterday that he found the Charlottetown Typographical Union No. 963 to be not a Trade Union within the meaning of the Prince Edward Island Industrial Relations Act and allowed the appeal of the Summerside Journal Publishing Company against a decision by the Labor Relations Board.

The board's decision had allowed certification of the union as sole bargaining agent of certain employees of The Journal Publishing Company Limited.

Mr. Justice Tweedy in his judgment explained that in his opinion "the constitution, rules or by-laws defining the objects and purposes and the conditions under which persons may be admitted as members thereof (of a trade union) and continued in such membership must be made pursuant to the provisions of the Prince Edward Island Industrial Relations Act (and) is a condition precedent to its making application requesting certification as sole bargaining agent of certain employees of The Journal Publishing Company Ltd."

He noted that he had searched in vain through the booklet submitted by the Charlottetown Union of their constitution and had failed to find any reference to the Prince Edward Island Industrial Relations Act. "Nor can I find any reference in the P.E.I. Industrial Relations Act to this book of laws. Nor did I expect to do so as the P.E.I. Industrial Relations Act became law on April 6, 1962; this book of laws was not effective till January 1, 1963," he continued.

Mr. Justice Mark R. MacGuigan and Mr. Justice R. R. Bell completed the bench for the Supreme Court hearings of this appeal. C. R. McQuaid, chairman of the board represented it at the sessions. Gerald R. Foster, QC, represented the Charlottetown Typographical Union Local 963, and Alan K. Scales represented the appellant, The Journal Publishing Company Ltd.

Garbage Collection Service In Parkdale Starts April 1

Compulsory garbage collection will start in Parkdale April 1, it was announced last night by Frank MacDonald, chairman of the village commissioners.

A collection contract has been awarded to the firm of Jenkins and Clark, who submitted the lowest tender.

Collections will be of the back door, pickup type. They will be once a week between Nov. 1 and April 30 and twice a week from May 1 to Oct. 31.

Parkdale will pay to the City of Charlottetown on a per capita basis for their share of the tepee incinerator amortization costs and operating expenses.

The per unit charge for garbage collection and disposal service in Parkdale for the first year will be $18. This will be paid by property owners quarterly and in advance as a separate charge which will be included in their tax bill. Trailer park operators will be responsible for the payment for each unit situated in their parks.

All units, regardless of business or household, will receive the same service and those requiring extra pickups will make their own arrangements with the collection firm at their own expense.

Mr. MacDonald said a proper closing and treatment for the old dump has been arranged with the department of health and the city of Charlottetown.

An advertisement in this paper is planned early next week to list collection routes, schedule and regulations.

Canadiens Picked To Win

TORONTO (CP) — According to Toronto bookmakers, Montreal Canadiens are almost prohibitive favorites to win this year's Stanley Cup series.

The gambling men established the odds Tuesday as 8 to 5 on the Canadiens to win the cup, 7-4 odds-on favorites to take the semi-final series from Toronto Maple Leafs and 8-9 choices to win Thursday's opening game in Montreal.

Chicago Black Hawks, second-place finishers behind the Habs over the season, are second choice to win the cup at odds of 2 to 1. The Hawks are picked to beat Detroit Red Wings in the semi-final 2½-3 and are 12-14 favorites in the opening game at Chicago Stadium Thursday night.

The oddsmakers, who based their calculations strictly on performance over the season, admit that their figures could change rapidly. The prices on the Leafs and Wings will be regarded as extremely attractive in some quarters.

If you want to back the underdogs, the Leafs are 3 to 1 to win the cup and the Wings a lopsided 8 to 1.

Customary "puck prizes," by which bettors spot goal spreads instead of odds, are dropped in the playoffs because all ties are settled in overtime.

Bobby Hull NHL Player Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Goal-scoring leader Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks was named the National Hockey League's Player of the Year for 1963-64 by The Associated Press Tuesday.

The dynamic left winger beat out teammates Stan Mikita and Ken Wharram, Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens and Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings.

Hull, who sparked Chicago's early-season drive, scored 43 goals. He also collected 44 assists for 87 points, finishing behind Mikita, a center, in the point race. Mikita had 39 points on 39 goals and 50 assists.

Beliveau, veteran center and captain of the Canadiens, collected 28 goals, most of them in the first half of the season. An injured wrist hampered his play in the second half.

Wharram, a right winger, reached a personal high of 39 goals while Howe, totaled 36 for the Wings.

Hull's selection was made in a vote of Associated Press hockey writers.

Canada Opposes New Trade Body

CP from AP-Reuters

GENEVA—Canada has told the United Nations world trade and development conference here that it is opposed to a new world trading body, preferring to adapt existing world trade machinery to aid developing nations.

The Canadian position was put before the 122-nation conference Tuesday by External Affairs Minister Paul Martin, who listed seven ways in which the richer countries could help the poorer ones.

Among these was abolition of tariffs and other restrictions on tropical foodstuffs and industrial raw materials.

Martin was the first representative of the industrialized countries to address the conference, most ambitious world trade meeting yet convened.

He spoke after Paul Prebisch, Argentine UN economist and secretary-general of the conference, had attacked the "fundamental weakness of the entire postwar" trading structure and called for formation of an international trading organization with powers to regulate world trade.

FEEL PRESENCE

Later, the shadow of French President de Gaulle was cast over the conference as French Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing placed before the world's poor nations a program for raising their incomes and building their industry.

The French plan deals with two major problems agitating the poorer nations at this conference—the declining prices of raw materials which account for 80 per cent of their income; and the difficulty of selling the products of their infant industries in Western markets.

France proposed that the conference draw up a list of raw materials on which international agreement can be reached to fix prices—at higher levels than they now are. With this would go import targets set by the rich nations so sales wouldn't drop because of higher prices.

Kingston Downs York Team 6-3
