THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 8, 1895.

A CONCLUSIVE ANSWER.

THE GUARDIAN complains that THE EXAMINER has not answered its questions relative to the tariff issue. If THE EXAMINER has overlooked any pertinent question in this regard, we apologise for the oversight. Perhaps our contemporary will ask it again!

In a general way, it may be said that a conclusive answer to all questions is to be found in the comparative success of Canada under the National Policy. While other countries, whose people are generally industrious and enterprising, have repeatedly suffered commercial upheavels and depressions, involving incalculable losses, Canada has gone on progressing, rapidly in some localities, slowly in others, and surely all over. This may be taken as conclusive proof that the conditions maintained by the party in power are suitable to the circumstances of this country.

THE RECORD OF FAILURES.

IN all Canada there were 1,851 failures last year, as compared with 1,766 in 1893; and the liabilities of those involved were $17,724,633, against $14,762,574. This increase is, without doubt, due to hot home competition and losses arising out of commercial relations with the United States, where there was last year a veritable cyclone of commercial disaster. Under the circumstances, the record is better than many financiers and commercial authorities anticipated. In this Province there was a falling off in the number of bankrupts from 22 in 1893 to 7 in 1894; and the liabilities here were $126,300 in 1893, and only $49,250 in 1894. The commercial conditions of Nova Scotia and the Northwest, as measured by the test of the failure list, also show a marked improvement. Still there is cause here, as elsewhere, for strict economy and for careful dealing. Competition in this Province and throughout the Maritime Provinces is tooken for profitable business though, so long as merchants, traders and manufacturers can bear it, competition undoubtedly tends to benefit farmers and other purchasers. The record of Newfoundland ought to be a warning for all. There liabilities of bankrupts reached, in 1894, the sum of $6,260,050, business is prostrated, and thousands are upon the brink of starvation. Such an experience as that of ye ancient colony is not desirable; and the way to avoid it is to avoid extravagance.

THE TARIFF ISSUE.

PRICES throughout Canada are as reasonable as any reasonable purchaser could desire—indeed, the wonder is how articles so good can be produced in Canada for so little money. The credit of the country at large, and of the corporations and people in particular, stands higher than ever before,—higher than that of any other British colony. Money is abundant and cheap. But two banks in all Canada have failed within the past fifteen years, the failure of one of these being due to gross mismanagement, and the failure of the other (the Bank of Rustico) to the fact that it had outgrown its usefulness. By the strengthening of the home markets, our farmers have been able to stand against the hot competition of the great Western States, before which they must, under other conditions, have fallen, as the farmers of New England have fallen. These facts are conclusive evidence that the moderate incidental protection afforded under the National Policy is suitable to the present circumstances of the people. The existing condition of Canada, in comparison with that of Australia, Newfoundland and other sister colonies of the British Empire, is a sufficient warrant to a reasonable people for the continuance of the National Policy and the maintenance in power of the great Liberal-Conservative party under which these conditions have been obtained.

What is to be gained by the elimination from the tariff of the principle of incidental protection? The Patriot and the Guardian—organs both of the Opposition—are in duty bound to answer this question. They ask us to change the existing conditions; they ought to tell us the reasons why! Why have they not done so? Is it expected that prices will go lower under a tariff from which "every vestige of protection has been rooted out?" That is not likely. Is it hoped that the credit of the country will go higher? That is all but impossible. Is it believed that foreign and domestic trade will, upon the whole, greatly enlarge in the face of the protective tariffs of the United States and every other country except Great Britain, to which latter we have free access? The man who looks calmly over the whole field and says that this is probable is not reasonable.

It is needless to add that the people of Canada will not act with wisdom and discretion should they consent to a change in the tariff and the government before they are clearly shown that it will be beneficial beyond a doubt. The Patriot and the Guardian have a heavy contract on their hands. We shall see how they will perform it. In the meantime it will be well to remember that "it is wise to let well enough alone," and that, speaking generally, "it is better to bear those ills we have than fly to others we know not of." At any rate, no prudent man will care to run the risk of a return of the misfortunes which beset the country in the distressful period of 1874-78.

SUPREME COURT.

The Supreme Court met at noon to-day. Present, the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Hodgson, and Mr. Justice Fitzgerald. The following gentlemen compose the Grand Jury: John Newson, city, foreman; John Aylward, Southport; Henry Holl, city, George B. McKay, Sr., Clifton; Arthur Holroyd, Lot 33; Donald McMillan, Covehead; Joseph Bagnall, Hazel Grove; Geo. Clow, North Wiltshire; John Hughes, Emerald; Charles Warren, North River; George Mellett, Graham's Road; T. A. Stewart, Long Creek; George Hughes, city; Peter P. Gillis, city; John Gill, Little York; Neil McNeil', Milton; Robert Sutherland, Park Corner; Henry Weeks, city; A. B. McKenzie, city; James McDonald, Emerald.

The Chief Justice in his charge to the jury spoke of the various cases that would engage their attention, and referred to the evidence and the law bearing upon each. His Lordship also made a feeling reference to the death of the Right Honorable Sir John Thompson, and the loss which had been susained by his death.

Robertson vs. Kennedy.—Action of trespass quare clausum fregit. Tried Hilary term, 1894. Judgment for the defendant given Easter term, 1894.

The Chief Justice delivers written judgment discharging rule for new trial with costs. Judge Hodgson and Judge Fitzgerald also gave written judgments concurring with the Chief Justice.

MERCHANTS BANK OF P. E. ISLAND.

The regular annual meeting of the above Bank was held to day. There was a good attendance of shareholders. The President, Mr. L. H. Davies, M. P., opened the proceedings by submitting the financial statement for the year (which has already been published) as the report of the directors. The statement is a very gratifying one, showing that the board was able to meet the shareholders with a net profit on the year's business of $19,450.11, out of which two dividends aggregating $16,000 were paid, and the balance of $3,450 carried to the credit of profit and loss.

A discussion respecting the statement took place, which was participated in by Charles Palmer, Senator Prowse, Senator Macdonald, W. Welsh, M. P., W. W. Beer and the directors.

The old board of directors was re-elected as follows: President, L. H. Davies, Vice-President, L. L. Beer; Directors, B. Heartz, D. Farquharson, F. Peters.

CRIME IN MAINE.

According to a recent despatch from Augusta to the Boston Journal, an examination of the returns from the jails of the State of Maine the past year, with those of previous years, gives some striking figures, which are worthy of study. The number of commitments for the year ending Nov. 30 was 6176, more than were ever before sent to jail in Maine in one year. In 1893 the number was but 4987; 1892, but 3723. In previous years the commitments had not exceeded 4000 for a long period. The number committed for drunkenness was also largely in excess of former years, in 1894. For intoxication 2808 went to prison. In 1893 there were but 1913; in 1892, 1714; in 1891, 1468. A total of 923 tramps went to jail in 1894; in 1893 but 552; in 1892 but 405.

There were increases in nearly every variety of offence over previous years, for which jail sentences are given. These figures are suggestive and indicate an amount of crime and lawlessness which is to be regretted. The cause of it, however, is assigned to the hard times. Through lack of work men have been driven to idleness which is a very prolific source of crime.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John P. Sullivan, ex-M. P. P., St. Peter's Bay, was registered at the Queen Hotel yesterday.

Captain W. H. Barnard and H. J. Massey, Summerside; William Richards, Bideford, and Senator Prowse, Murray Harbor, were among those registered at the Hotel Davies last evening.

Mr. Alex. Strang and Miss Strang, of the Landsdowne Hotel, Cape Traverse, were registered at the Hotel Davies yesterday. Miss Strang will leave this evening for Mount Allison Ladies' College, Sackville.

The friends of Colonel Waring—well known to our waterworks promoters—will be glad to learn that he has been appointed the engineer of New York city, at a yearly salary of $6000. Colonel Waring was appointed on his merits—not on account of his politics.

A New York newspaper man says he at one time set type in Canada alongside Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Canada's Premier, back in the early sixties, when he was called "Mac" by everybody in the office, from the "devil" up. Before Mr. Bowell entered Canadian politics he mastered the art preservative, and founded the Intelligencer, a newspaper in Belleville, Ont., which helped him on the road to the highest position in Canada.

NEWS NOTES.

Russian exports of breadstuffs show a heavy increase during the last three years. In 1892 they were valued at $19,177,000, in 1893 at $59,281,000, and in 1894 at $103,667,500. The increase in the wheat export is remarkable.

According to the returns collected by the Department of Agriculture of the United States the average value of horses in that country has been gradually decreasing since 1889. In that year, the average value was $71.89, from which it had fallen to $61.22 in 1893, and then to $47.83 in 1894, a reduction of about 35 per cent. in five years. A natural result of this decline in value has been to check the breeding of horses, and for the last two years the number of animals in the United States has lessened.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD. — The regular meeting of the School Board was held last evening. Sub-committees for the year were appointed, and the usual reports, prepared for the Government and for the City Council, were submitted by the Secretary. The subjects of drawing and music were discussed, and the importance of teaching them in our schools was commented upon. The opinion was expressed that in future applicants for positions as teachers in the city schools should be capable of teaching these subjects. The monthly reports of the Principals for December show an enrolment of 1,407—804 boys and 603 girls. The percentage of attendance for the three schools was 89, viz: Prince Street, 91; West Kent, 89; Queen Square, 88. The number of cases of tardiness was 105; of corporal punishment, 15; and of visits made by teachers to parents, 113. The question of the teachers salaries was postponed until the next monthly meeting of the Board.

OBITUARY.

It is with much regret and sympathy we chronicle the death of the late Capt. Alex. MacLeod, which occurred at his home in Point Prim, on Wednesday, the 26th day of December. Capt. MacLeod, who had been troubled somewhat with rheumatism for the last two years, was confined to the bed for two months prior to his death, and during that time suffered greatly from the pain of a swollen leg, which was, after the failure of all other medical skill, amputated, which operation he only survived a few hours, and which he consented to bravely, placing himself as his own words were, "in the hands of God." Of death he had no fear, as his last words, "Thy will be done," plainly showed. He had strong hopes of a blessed eternity.

He was highly respected in his position, in which he proved himself to be a successful and esteemed navigator. He sailed master out of Charlottetown for quite a number of years, and was well known at home and abroad. His courtesy as a friend and manliness as a neighbor will long be remembered, and his death will sadden many hearts. He was 48 years of age, and leaves a widow and three sons to mourn the loss of a dutiful husband and loving father. We earnestly sympathize with the bereaved in this their hour of sorrow. His end was peace.

A correspondent writes: "It was our sad privilege to visit Southport on December 20th, 1894, to pay the last tribute of respect to the late Mr. Allan Hamm, of that place. Deceased had been ill just three weeks when the cold hand of death swept over him and took him away to be with Jesus. To those who knew him best he was indeed a general favorite, kind hearted, whole-souled man, a good neighbor, a loving father and brother. He was always ready to lend a helping hand to those who needed it. But we mourn not over him as those who have no hope. We feel assured he has gone home to be with the Saviour, whom he loved on earth and whom he served. Truly it can be said "this end was peace." And to his sorrow-stricken widow, four daughters, brother and sisters, we extend our heartfelt sympathy in their very sad bereavement."

IN AND AROUND SOURIS.

The breakwater was again damaged by the late storms. The southerly gale made a gap in it about eighty feet wide near the middle of the work built recently by Messrs Mellish and Wightman. This break will require repairing at an early date. The outer end where the light is erected has also been shaken and requires attention.

The skating rink was opened on Friday night. The band discoursed sweet music and the skaters kept time. Mr. Albert McDonald is manager, having leased the rink for the season. His management last season gave general satisfaction, and the same may be confidently expected of him this year. Monday, Wednesday and Friday are the nights of skating for adults, while Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons are devoted to the juveniles. This favorite place for exercise and recreation deserves to be patronized both by old and young.

The Rev. Mr. Weaver spent part of his Xmas holidays with his friends of the South Lake Church. On resigning that charge last fall, he went to Dalhousie College, where he intends taking an arts course. He returns to Halifax this week. Mr. Duchemin, another student of that college, spent the holidays in the eastern capital. Music hath charms, etc.

In appreciation of his services, and to show that they are not unmindful of his bodily comforts, the congregation of Kingsboro Baptist Church presented their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Shaw, on New Year's Day, with a valuable fur coat, cap and gloves. The presentation took place at the residence of Deacon Scott.

Some of the mill dams suffered severely during the last rain-fall. About thirty feet of Mr. Anderson's, at Black Pond, were carried away. This will prove quite a loss to Mr. Acorn, who has the mill there leased for a term of years. A crowd of men have been at work repairing the break, and if the weather does not become too severe, they will soon have the water dammed again.

A few nights ago a cowardly attack was made upon Capt. Johnson by two characters who do not belong to the village. Capt. Johnson was about retiring to bed when a rap was heard. On going to see who was there the door was pushed in and he was struck by the butt end of a heavy revolver, breaking his nose and knocking him senseless to the floor, where, he says, he was afterwards jumped on and otherwise maltreated. Warrants were sworn out for their arrest.

The down pour of rain on New Year's Day prevented the "Horribles" from showing off to advantage. As it was, about a score of them, in fantastic dress, turned out, but had to beat a hasty retreat homeward on account of the drenching northeaster which came down at the time they intended parading.

Now that the festive season is over for this time, people are down to solid work again. With good sleighing and moderate weather and knowing that there is enough for both for man and beast, even the most discontented must admit that this is not the worst country in the world to live in after all.

Charles Coghlan, Esq., wife and daughter, are still sojourning at Bay Fortune. Mr. Coghlan is now enjoying the best of health, and has recently completed, report says, a highly interesting play, which will be put on the boards at a leading American theatre before the present season closes. Mr. Coghlan leads a quiet life, and appears to be perfectly happy in the love of his devoted wife and daughter.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs, will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

A St. Petersburg despatch says Russia is anxious to amicably settle the Pamirs difficulty, and will make concessions to Great Britain. The Prince of Wales seems to have been a much better diplomat than he pretended to be, after his return from the great Russian funeral and hymeneal ceremonies. The idea of Russia being anxious to satisfy Great Britain in a dispute about Asiatic territory is one hardly dreamed of by London statesmen.

Priestley's Cravenettes may be had in all the newest fabrics. Absolutely rain-repelling they are not to be distinguished from the same goods not waderproofed. This is their great merit. Cravenette includes serges and all dress fabrics. They are perfectly porus, non-odorous, and they never change in appearance. These are merits which no other waterproofing process has been able to demonstrate. They are rolled on "The Varnished Board" like all Priestley's dress goods.

Words of Wisdom

Do Not Use Medicine for the Baby; Pure Lactated Food is the Best.

Dear mother, is your child ailing? Is it getting thin and weak, and decreasing in weight? If it is, be assured the trouble is with its present diet—its form of nourishment or food is lacking in bone-producing elements.

Your child requires not medicine, but a health-giving diet to build it up. Pure Lactated Food does the good work in a way that no other agency can accomplish and hundreds testify to this effect every month. A father, who has seen the happy results given by Lactated Food, writes as follows:

"We commenced using Lactated Food for our baby two months ago. He then weighed 12½ pounds, and was four months old, having but very little life or activity. I think we were starving him, as we could not find any food that would agree with him. We tried half a dozen different prepared foods. Our baby was fast losing in flesh, and at last my wife took him to Dr. ——— who prescribed Lactated Food. He gained 8½ pounds in less than two months, and now weighs 21 pounds, and is as lively as a cricket. This is certainly the result of using your Lactated Food.
