

Aussies Crush Canuck Golfers

JOHANNESBURG (CP)—Australia crushed Canada in the second round of the Commonwealth golf tournament Wednesday, winning eight of the nine matches played.

Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., 26-year-old runner-up in the 1958 Canadian amateur championship, picked up Canada's only win in the day, defeating J. Seward 5 and 4.

The loss dumped Canada to the bottom of the five-country round-robin standing.

Standings are based on one point for a victory in each match and one-half point for a tie.

South Africa, winner over Canada by 7½ points to 1½ Tuesday and favorite in the tournament, solidified its first-place standing by defeating Britain 5-1 in Wednesday's other match.

NEW ZEALAND HAS BYE
New Zealand, 6-3 victory over Australia Tuesday, had a bye Wednesday.

Only veteran Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., and Doug Silverberg of Calgary came close to winning in Wednesday's singles matches against Australia.

Weslock went down by one hole to K. Hartley while Silverberg lost 2 and 1 to J. Coogan.

In the other singles matches, Peter Toogood beat Johnny Johnson of Vancouver 7 and 6; D. Bacchi defeated Ron Willey of Vancouver 6 and 5 and V. Bulgin beat Bert Teehurst of Vancouver 5 and 3.

Canada fared no better in the three foursome matches. Coogan and Toogood beat Silverberg and Teehurst 5 and 4; Bacchi and Bulgin beat Johnson and Weslock 4 and 2 and Seward and Hartley beat Cowan and Willey 2 up.

Riders Are Ready Says Coach Clair

OTTAWA (CP)—Coach Frank Clair said Wednesday that if his Ottawa Rough Riders are not ready now for their semi-final game against Montreal Alouettes Saturday, they never will be.

"The boys know this is the big game and I'm sure they won't need a pep talk," he said, "if they have the burning desire to win they will."

Clair said backfield coach and scout George Terlep, who scouted Montreal's last couple of games, reported Alouettes a much improved team with a lot of players playing both ways.

"In cold weather you can play 50 or 60 minutes and still do a good job," Clair said. However, he plans to platoon his offensive and defensive squads just as he has done so far this year because "the system has worked well."

Rehashing last Saturday's 31-21 win in Toronto, Clair said Riders "did not play a real good game."

hook, but opponent Cliff (Bobo) Fiddler of Prince Albert, Sask., isn't taking any chances as he backs away. Richardson won the middleweight scrap when he stopped Fiddler in the eighth round. The 19-year-old Richardson is No. 1 contender for the Canadian middleweight title.

Henry Cooper Will Marry

LONDON (AP)—Henry Cooper, British heavyweight boxing champion, announced Wednesday he's going to marry an Italian girl who hates the prize fight business.

The 25-year-old Cooper said he would marry 21-year-old waitress Albina Ghinprì after his title fight against Joe Erskine Nov. 17. "I hate boxing," Albina said. "It is cruel. But it's Henry's career—and I won't ask him to stop fighting."

SPORTS FRONT
By PIUS CALLAGHAN

HOCKEY FANS throughout Prince Edward Island got good news Tuesday night with the formation of an Island Hockey League.

We sat in on the meeting and were certainly impressed by the way the boys went about their work. There wasn't the slightest trace of wrangling. Everybody seemed to appreciate there was a job to be done and they went about doing it.

It was a far cry from some of the scenes we witnessed before and during last season's operations.

FIVE TEAMS entered as starters. Grant Grady was spokesman for a new entry from Summerside. Layton Schurman threw the Aces back into the battle, Sandy Fritzell submitted a Charlottetown team, the Aces and Father Ledwell agreed to ice his Saint Dunstan's Varsity squad. All seemed happy about the prospects and all were agreed it was five teams or no league at all.

With that, we must agree.

THOSE WHO HAVE FEARS that Summerside Aces will be weakened considerably shouldn't be too quick to draw conclusions. It's true they are losing Grant and Benny Grady, but they still have a lot of great hockey players.

Nobody forced Grant and Benny to take the step they are taking. The boys are determined to line up a new outfit for league competition and that's that. They think they can muster a good club—that is capable of taking care of itself in this five-team loop. If the two Grady's think that, we certainly won't disagree because we feel confident both these boys can evaluate hockey talent as good as the next fellow.

THOSE AROUND Summerside who were opposed to two teams from the western capital should realize that such a move was necessary for the operation of a league. It just wasn't going to get going if five teams were not available. Those at Tuesday's meeting were well aware of this fact and they took the only course open to them. As a result, the Island Senior Hockey League came into existence.

SUNDAY NIGHT in Summerside another meeting will be held and at this meeting a league executive will be chosen. Much thought has been given to the selection of this body and the best persons available are being sought to operate the business of the new league. This executive will elect its own officers and the group will be all powerful in matters pertaining to the operation of the league.

Teams will not be represented on the executive and this is as it should be. An independent executive, comprised of fair thinking persons, can easily look after the interests of all five clubs. Team representatives on the executive only created problems in the past and we know they would do the same if given an opportunity in the future.

THOSE PROMOTING the league this season intend to put into office the kind of citizens that will run the loop with a firm hand. The players are a most important part of any league but league policy and league administration should be out of their sphere. Too long have players (some of them) run the show, and as a result things got out of hand. The promoters of this league do not intend to let that happen in the 1959-60 season.

We are convinced that a strong executive is a tremendously important part of any league. Their efficiency or lack of it can make or break a loop. If the men chosen for this season's running of the hockey show let everybody know who is running the league, most of the difficulties encountered in past seasons will be erased.

IT'S BEEN a long, long time since we saw a meeting as cordial as the one we attended Tuesday night. Those present appeared to fully appreciate the problems and to do so man they were doing everything in their power to solve them. There was no evidence of petty jealousies and the thought of everybody was to get a loop formed that would do the job best for hockey here in this 1959-60 season.

We compliment these gentlemen on their preparatory work and express the wish that their efforts may bring about the best hockey season that Prince Edward Island has seen for many a year.

And honestly, we are optimistic about the coming season.

A NEW FACE will be among this season's coaches.

We refer to Father Frank Ledwell of Saint Dunstan's who is making his first start as pilot of the Varsity squad. But coaching teams is not new to Father Frank.

Since his ordination, he has been stationed at the university where he has shown a tremendous interest in every branch of sport. Last season his Saint Dunstan's Juveniles captured the Prince Edward Island crown and in the fall of 1958 his Junior Varsity boys went through the football season without a loss. This fall he is again in charge of the Junior Varsity and to date they are undefeated. They need one more victory to win their best-of-five series from Prince of Wales in three straight.

Although handling a senior team will be a new experience for the high school principal, the job shouldn't present any problems that will bother this young clergyman. He is well up on his game and rival coaches had better not get the idea that they are dealing with any novice.

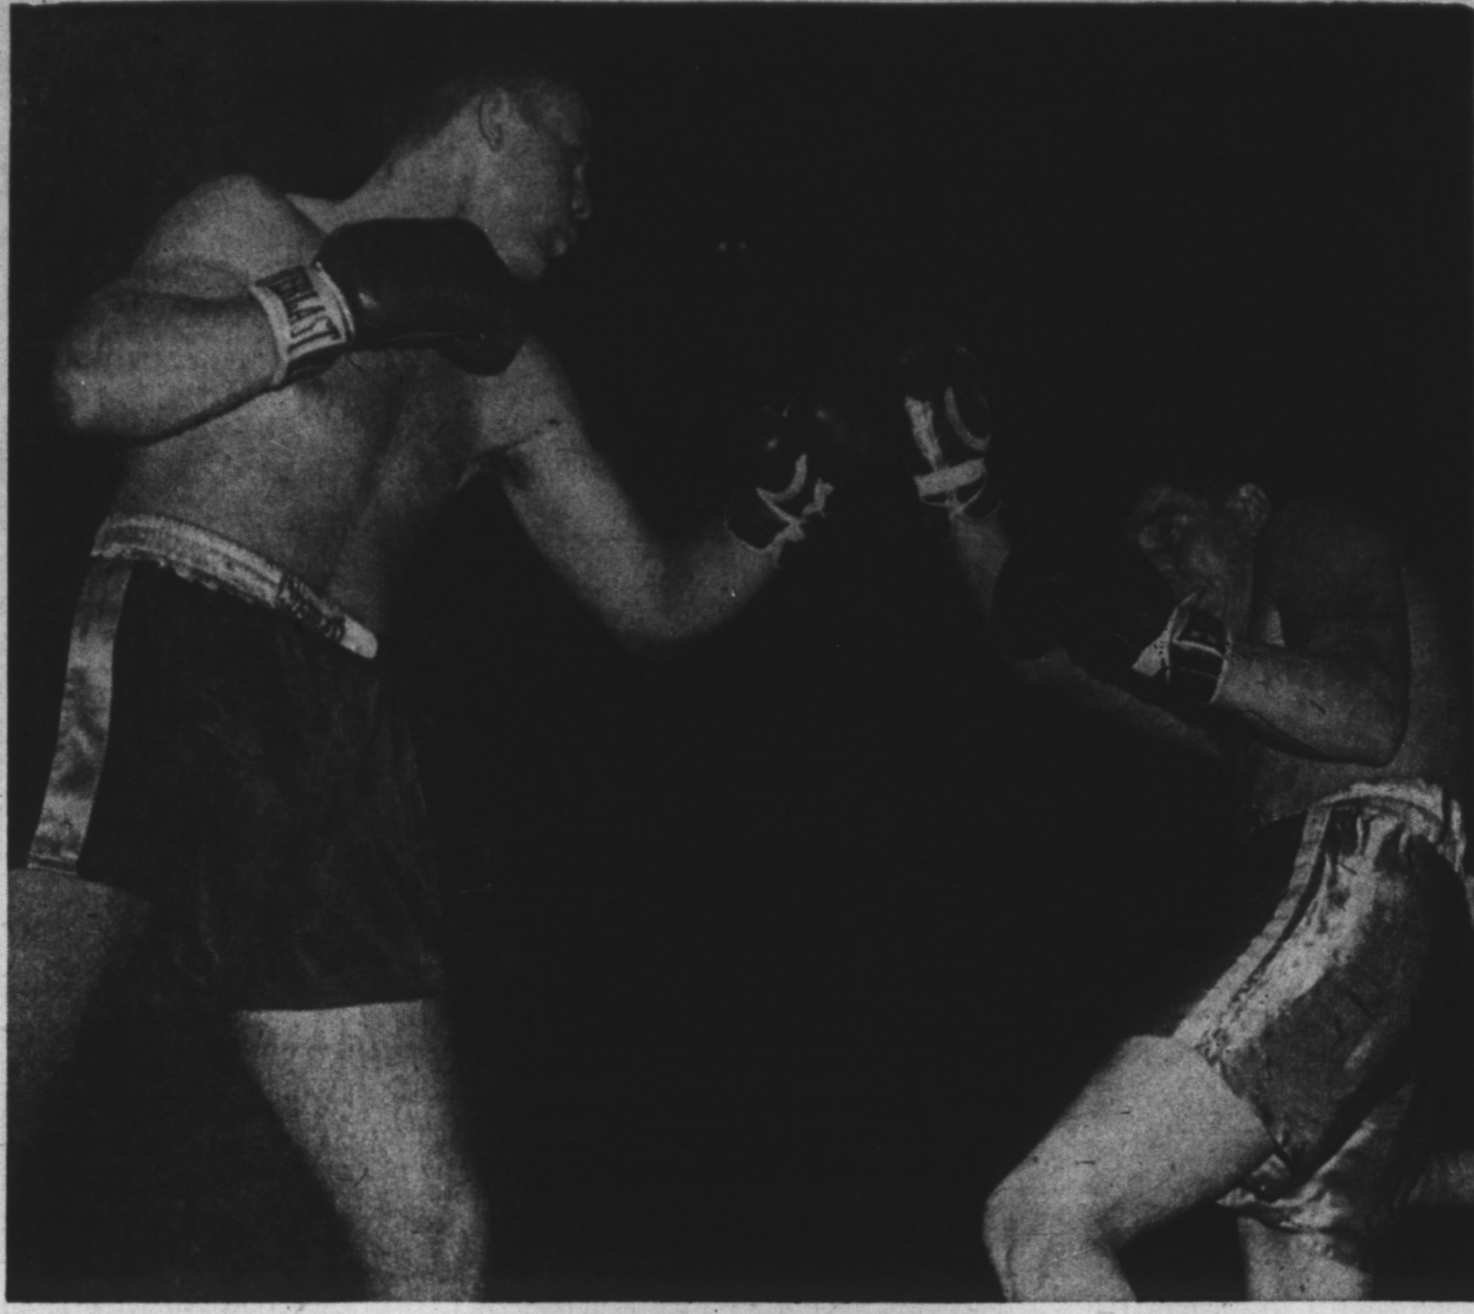

It's still too early to tell what kind of a team the college will have but you can be sure that Father Ledwell will get the most out of them.

We look for the Red and White to hold their own in this five-team loop.

LORNE HENNESSEY will have a good sprinkling of young players on his lineup.

That was his comment on Tuesday night when he agreed to handle one of the Charlottetown teams. Lorne seems far more interested in developing these boys than he does in coming up with a winner. However, after they are under Hennessey's wing for a few games, they may indeed turn out to be winners.

Remember what he did to those Navy Tars last season? And his record as pilot in Summerside is a pretty fair one.

FIDDLER ON THE RETREAT
Blair, Richardson, Eastern Canadian Middleweight champion (left), is short with a left hook, but opponent Cliff (Bobo) Fiddler of Prince Albert, Sask., isn't taking any chances as he backs away. Richardson won the middleweight scrap when he stopped Fiddler in the eighth round. The 19-year-old Richardson is No. 1 contender for the Canadian middleweight title.

time Football Union hinted here Wednesday some big changes may take place in Maritime leagues before the kicking starts in 1960.

Mr. Hammond said in an interview that he stresses the possibility of a Maritime football conference that would embrace— but rearrange—all civilian, armed forces and college teams now playing.

He said there was one major hurdle to be cleared. The collegiate eligibility rule would have to be revamped. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia now have their own interpretation of a rule which prohibits college and civilian teams from registering in the same league.

As it is now, the colleges register separately in the leagues they play in.

If this barrier can be knocked down, Mr. Hammond says it's possible that the power-laden colleges—St. Francis Xavier, Dalhousie, University of New Brunswick and Mount Allison, could join with the navy teams from Stadacona and Shearwater in a six-team section to form the top level of the new conference.

UNB and Mount A. now play in the New Brunswick Intermediate league. The others from the Nova Scotia loop.

Mr. Hammond outlined a possible Provincial split for the rest of the teams in the maritimes. St. Mary's University, Acadia University and St. Dunstan's University, now members of the Maritime Intercollegiate League, would join with Dalhousie Juniors and St. F. X. Juniors in the Nova Scotia section of the league.

The New Brunswick circuit would include Moncton, Oromocto, Saint John, St. Thomas college junior Varsity teams from UNB and Mount A. Mr. Hammond said that teams from the two-league conference would be promoted or demoted at the end of each season according to their records.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .
Greg Kabak, quarterback and ace field-goal kicker for Winnipeg Blue Bombers, was awarded the McKinney Trophy as the most valuable player in the Western Interprovincial Football Union 19 years ago today. There was no east-west final that year because the west did not conform to CRU playing rules, and Ottawa won the Grey Cup in a two-game series against Toronto Balmy Beach.

Brian London Announces Plan For Comeback

LONDON (AP)—Brian London, former British heavyweight champion knocked out by Floyd Patterson last May, said Wednesday he would start a comeback campaign by meeting Nino Valdes of Cuba, here on Tuesday, Dec. 1.

London was suspended by the British Boxing Board of Control for fighting Patterson because the board held he was not a fit opponent for the then world champion. He was fined $2,800. The suspension ended Nov. 1. Patterson knocked out the Briton in 11 rounds.

HOSPITAL FUND DRIVE
GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—A campaign to raise $350,000 by public donations to construct a modern hospital in central Newfoundland got under way here Wednesday.

Leafs Regain Third Place; Whip Hapless Rangers 4-1

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto won two and tied two, losing the third period. No scoring. Penalties: Sullivan, Ehinan 4:25. Stops: Worsley 7 15 7-29 Bower 11 10 7-28

He was named on every ballot and drew a total of 232½ points. Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's third baseman, drew five first-place votes, was named in a tie with Banks on another and finished second in the balloting with 189½ points.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Los Angeles' Wally Moon got the only other first-place votes, Aaron, the National League batting champion, collected two first-place selections and 174 total points, while Moon was named first on four ballots and had 191 total points.

Chicago Cubs' hard-hitting infielder who set a major league fielding record for shortstops this season, Wednesday was named the National League's most valuable player of 1959.

The 28-year-old slugger, who set a major league mark by committing only 12 errors in 155 games, drew 10 of the 22 first-place votes cast by the Baseball Writers' Association of America in the eight National League cities. Banks was listed in a tie for first place on another ballot.

Banks also won the award last year.

Worsley could not be faulted for the defeat. He did look a bit slow on Stanley's long shot but he also kept the club in the game with some miraculous saves. Bower, too, had his great moments. But Rangers ruined many changes before they even got to the Toronto blueline.

SUMMARY
First period: 1. Toronto, Armstrong (Regan, Duff) 0-13; 2. Toronto, Olmstead (Horton) 4-00; 3. New York, Sullivan (Schinkel) 15-09. Penalties: Shack 7:10, Horton 12:02, Shack (2), Horton (2) 14:47, Bartlett, Brewer 17:16.

Second period: 4. Toronto, Stanley (Wilson, Hampson) 12:56; 5. Toronto, Armstrong (Regan, Baun) 16:15. Penalties: Olmstead Third period: No scoring. Penalties: Sullivan, Ehinan 4:25. Stops: Worsley 7 15 7-29 Bower 11 10 7-28

Rangers, who fell behind at the 13-second mark of the first period on Armstrong's first goal and never recovered, had a few chances to add to their one-goal total but Leafs' Johnny Bower thwarted them.

Besides Armstrong, veteran left winger Bert Olmstead and defenceman Allan Stanley scored for Toronto. Captain Red Sullivan got the New York goal late in the first period to keep Rangers 3-28, Sullivan, Pulford 19:53.

Action dragged after the first four minutes, when Leafs had a 2-2 lead, and the fans kept up a continuous din of stamping and clapping for action.

The victory moved Leafs one point ahead of the idle Boston Bruins, who have played one more game than Toronto. It also kept Leafs' undefeated record at home intact. In six home contests Leafs have won four and tied two.

The loss left Rangers in fifth place, nine behind Boston. In 12 starts this season, New York has
