The launch was cut down to the water level in the afternoon of the 15th. The sealer Elizabeth Boone, of Plymouth, Nfld., was in sight, and the crew were taken off the sinking vessel. THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Yachting.

The foul between the Defender and Valkyrie happened this way: When the boats got together a quarter of a mile from the start, the Englishman, in an endeavor to blanket the American boat, bore down on her and carried away one of her shrouds. This was within a half-minute of the line, and the English boat kept on over, coursing ahead of Defender. The latter eased up a bit, to see if her topmast was hurt. It was noticeably sprung, and the protest flag was hoisted on Defender. The committee boat saw it at once, and raised the flag, demonstrating that she would recognize it. The Defender then went on following the wake of the Britisher.

Another explanation is that both yachts were behind the line when the preparatory signal gun was fired, and the Valkyrie had the windward position. Both stood away on the port tack. The Defender's people thought they had enough to cross the Valkyrie's bow to get the windward position, but they failed in the attempt, and both boats stood away again on the port tack, sometimes luffing, at others falling away. Valkyrie fell off and gypped. Her boom interfered. The Defender was compelled to stand on to pass under the stern of the old Dominion steamer. The Valkyrie crossed under that steamer's bow to maintain her windward position. Both stood for the line on the starboard tack, the Valkyrie holding her course in order to cross the Defender's bow and the Sandy Hook Lightship. The Defender had to beat up into the wind under Valkyrie's lee. The latter was not pointing close because it was necessary to clear the judges boat. The yachts approached each other in the narrow channel, when it was seen that the Defender's club topsail was heading to leeward, and she was in evident trouble, falling off from the Valkyrie. The Valkyrie's main boom as stated had caught the topmast backstay of the Defender, causing the topmast to bend and crack.

Records are expected to go in the contests of the two remaining days. Harley Davidson secured a place in the one mile class A, and in the one mile record.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR HOWLAND AND MR. DILLON AT STANLEY BRIDGE.

Large and Enthusiastic Meeting.

A packed house greeted His Honor and Mr. Dillon in Stanley Hall last night. Thomas Reid, Esq., President of the Stanley Bridge Dairying Company, presided. Considerable bantering was displayed in the village and on the shipping in the port. The hall was decorated by the ladies with maple leaves, etc. On the wall to the left of the picture of the Queen was the motto "God Bless Our Queen," and on the left, "Welcome to Governor Howland," while on the side walls were suitable mottoes as "Butter and Cheese," and "Our Dairying Industry; success to Mr. Dillon." The chairman, in a neat speech, introduced His Honor to the meeting, mentioning the fact that Governor Howland was the only Lieutenant-Governor of the Province who ever came around among the farmers and talked to them on agricultural matters. He then called on Dr. McNeill to read the congratulatory address as follows: To the Hon. Geo. W. Howland, Esq., Lieutenant-Governor in and over Her Majesty's Island, Prince Edward.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR: On behalf of Her Majesty's loyal subjects in this community we welcome you as Her Majesty's representative, and on this your first visit as Governor we congratulate you on attaining to a position which you have justly earned and honestly won in the progress of your country. We also welcome you because your present visit is an evidence of the interest you are taking in the progress of your country in its various aspects.

The dairy interest of this province may be said to be in its infancy, but the example of yourself and Mr. Dillon, who accompany you on this occasion, must be productive of good. There is a natural propensity in the human mind to imitate the conduct and to adopt the sentiments of those who are respected with authority. The example of your Honor as Lieutenant-Governor and Professor Dillon as a practical cheese-maker, like the impulse of a stone on the yielding surface of a lake, diffuses its influence throughout the province, and gradually enlarging circles, to an extent which the field of our vision can neither trace or limit; and we trust it will stimulate the farmers of this Province to renewed energy in the dairy industry. A large majority of our people do not use a tithe of the power they possess. Their talents are mostly hid in napkins. Many of our farmers, in growing cereals for the foreign market, are but vegetating in the proverb, "Folly is letting down buckets into every well, and growing old in drawing nothing up." It is our sincere desire to extend the industry which you advocate. That which is well begun is half done. We are not unmindful of your visit to this locality a few years ago when you occupied the position of Senator, and your then able advocacy in furtherance of means to aid geographical unity with the other provinces as a fulfilment of the terms of union, and railway extension to this locality, situated as we are with poor harbors on the north side of the Island, deprived of steam communication both summer and winter. It is not too much to say, nor an exaggeration, that we are, in this respect, the most neglected portion of the province. We would therefore solicit the assistance of our great men in impressing on those in authority the great need which exists for extending the railway to this locality. The people cannot attain to their measure of prosperity in their agricultural, commercial and other pursuits which they would if they had facilities of steam communication. We pray that long life and prosperity may attend you, and your estimable lady, and we trust that your visit to this locality may be enjoyable and recuperative, and that it is only the beginning of many.

Signed on behalf of the community. THOMAS REID, R. C. McNEILL, M. D. DONALD MCKAY, W. R. TAYLOR, A. K. HENRY, ARTHUR SIMPSON, JOSIAH HOWART, JOHN SIMMONS.

In reply to which His Honor delivered a very able, instructive, and eloquent speech, on agriculture in general and dairying in particular. He referred to the presence of the ladies and their presence always assured the success of any enterprise. He complimented the farmers on the great advance made in dairying in the short time they had been engaged in it, and also, on the excellent success that they had shown in the management of the companies. He spoke very confidently of the success of the proposed Central Creamery, Cold Storage and Canning Company and was very enthusiastic in his remarks on the great opportunity, the fruit canning would afford to add to their income. At the conclusion of his Honor's address the choir sang "Home Sweet Home."

Mr. Dillon was being introduced came forward and delivered a practical address on dairying, with a special reference to carrying on the industry in the winter months. He explained the scheme of the proposed Central Creamery and Cold Storage Co., and asked the farmers to take hold of it and make it their own. He complimented the dairying company on the excellent showing they had made the first season of their business. He spoke highly of the cheese which he, in the company of the Governor, had inspected, and quite a compliment to this locality by saying that the best agricultural meeting he ever attended was held at Stanley Bridge. At the conclusion of his address Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McKay delivered the address to the audience by singing "Time will roll the clouds away." Dr. McNeill, J. C. Clarke, A. Simpson, Mr. Leslie and others made a few remarks, after which a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to His Honor and Mr. Dillon for the great interest in the industry that has prompted their tour among the farmers. Governor Howland in acknowledging the vote of thanks spoke of our great heritage and encouraged the young men to emulate the spirit of patriotism.

R. Lannon being called for came to the platform and to the great delight of the audience sang the "Hibernian's Toast." A vote of thanks to the choir and the ladies who decorated the hall was acknowledged by Duncan McKay with a few appropriate remarks after which the meeting closed with "God Save the Queen" and cheers for His Honor and Mr. Dillon. WALTER SIMPSON, Secretary.

NEWS NOTES.

The Toronto Globe reports that money is plentiful in that market and offering rates are at 4 1/2 per cent. No higher rates are looked for.

Hamilton Spectator: Hon. Mr. Foster is flying through the maritime provinces on a wheel. And that is the first time that that able financier and statesman has been known to favor a fly-on-the-wheel policy. The deposits at the St. John Savings Bank and call at the bank throughout the province during August exceeded the withdrawals by $32,827.99. The figures were: Deposits, $117,607.44, and withdrawals $84,779.45.

A Winnipeg despatch says: It is almost impossible to exaggerate the grain yield of Manitoba this year. On the farm of William Seebach, near Boissevain, last week, oats yielding one hundred and two bushels to the acre were threshed.

There is no satisfying the commercial Englishman's thirst for cheapness. An agitation has been started for a halfpenny letter post on the ground that the penny post is not cheap enough. If what a man has to say is too important to be trusted to a post card, it ought to be worth two cents.

Mr. Balfour says there is no hope of an international money conference unless the governments taking part in it arrive at some sort of entente before calling it. He also thinks there is no chance of such an entente being reached. The silver theorists seem to be powerful only where they do not influence governments and with their lungs.

British Board of Trade returns for August report an increase in imports of £271,000 and in exports of £1,900,000. Increases in foreign trade have been the rule for several months now, and are among the best evidences of recovering commercial activity that are to be had. The world has started on a period of business improvement.

Whatever is transpiring on the island, the Cuban rebels are getting the worst of the fight in the despatches that are sent out of it. The fights are not great ones, but a series of small reverses is calculated to be quite as discouraging as a large defeat, and not even the sign of a burning sugar plantation, which the rebels now and again provide, will keep up their spirits long if the tide of war does not take a turn.

The revenue-tariff papers in the United States are parading a defense of the factory work of the Wilson duties, a letter from the Dow River woolen Mills company who say that "we have all the protection we want in free wool." Quite so. It would be strange if the woolen manufacturers were not satisfied with the American revised tariff, which removed the duty of 10 to 14 cents a pound on wool, and has replaced duties of 35 to 50 per cent. on manufactures thereof. This is surely adequate protection enough.

PROTECTION FOR POLICEMEN.

The Montreal policemen will find themselves well equipped this year for facing the raw, damp air and chilling winds of the autumn season, in which they must needs be out. Their uniforms are to be lined all through the body and sleeves with Fibre Chamois, an interlining which is warranted to be absolutely wind proof and impenetrable to the cold; while its light weight and porous nature, which will absorb the natural moisture, make it far more healthful than anything else that could furnish the same amount of warmth.

The use of Fibre Chamois to add warmth to clothing is an innovation which will be greatly appreciated by every man, woman and child, and especially so by those who flow outdoor pursuits in the cold weather. sep12
