TORONTO

TORONTO (CP) — Western oils, particularly those with natural gas interests, and natural gas pipelines Wednesday scored a strong advance to feature moderately active stock market trading.

Brokers attributed the interest in gas stocks to rumors that the federal power commission of the United States might this week hand down a recommendation which will be favorable to Canadian gas companies on the subject of imports to the western states.

Some observers also thought that gas stocks were underpriced and investors were making a technical readjustment to remedy the situation.

From the opening the gas issues were strong and steadily improved throughout the session, closing at or near their peaks for the day.

National Pete had one of the biggest gains in western oils, jumping 70 cents to $3.90 in moderate trading. Central Del Rio was up 45 cents to $5.75 in active trading and several other issues showed gains ranging to 35 cents.

Mining stocks were generally higher but coppers ran into some profit-taking. Hudson Bay was the leading senior, up 1¼ at 51¾.

Index changes: golds off .33 to 8.97; base metals up .72 to 169.55; western oils up 2.57 to 105.33.
