A PROTEST.

The following resolution was unanimously passed at a meeting of the Charlottetown Temperance Alliance on Saturday evening:

"Whereas, this Alliance has been given to understand that it is the intention of members of the Legislature to introduce legislation licensing the sale of liquors in Charlottetown by taxing those engaged in the business:

Therefore Resolved, that this Alliance do protest against license, tax or any other system of raising a revenue from the liquor traffic; and further

Resolved that we urge upon the Legislature to pass the amendments to the Liquor Regulation Act (submitted by this Alliance) and now before it."

THE SPELLING TEST.

SIR,—In Saturday's DAILY EXAMINER an item on spelling, evidently from West Kent School, compares West Kent and Queen Square Schools on "Tests." At the "Spelling Bee" between those schools the West Kent boys, knowing beforehand half the words given but sitting with Queen Square boys, made only 75 per cent., while at the "Test" since, knowing none of the words beforehand but sitting by themselves, made 86 per cent. With such an increase where there certainly should be a decrease, we do not wish to be compared with West Kent on "Tests."

At Fairville, Lot 49, on the 5th inst., Ronald Carmichael, in the 66th year of his age. The estimation in which the deceased was held was shown by the unusually large procession of over 70 carriages which accompanied his remains to their last resting place at Vernon River. May he rest in peace.

EXPOSING UNWHOLESOME MEAT

Prosecution Before Stipendiary Magistrate Haszard To-day.

This forenoon George Lund and James Rankin, of Lot 48, appeared before Supendiary Magistrate Hazzard on a charge of exposing meat for sale in the market place that was unfit for food. The meat exposed was a carcass of veal which was purchased by Marshal Cameron at the market on Friday last.

Dr. Richard Johnson, health officer for the city, deposed that the animal must have been very young. It was so ill-fed and ill-nourished that it was unfit for food and should not have been exposed for sale.

James McMillan, V. S., said he inspected the meat which he would neither eat himself nor give to any person else to eat. It was soft flabby and immatured. If the calf had any nourishment at all from its mother it must have been limited.

Maurice Blake swore that the carcass was unsaleable, and he did not consider it fit for food. From its appearance he would say it was killed after being dropped.

Frank Drake said he would neither eat nor sell the veal. It was unfit for food. He did not think the calf was many days old.

Henry Balls did not think the veal was fit for food. The calf might have been an hour old or it might be two days old.

Marshal Cameron testified to buying the veal on the market square. It was unfit for human food.

At the request of the prisoner the case was adjourned until this day week. Rankin, in reply to the court, said he bought the calf from a man named Brazil, who said it was nearly a fortnight old.

The attendance of citizens generally was very large.

A GRAND ENTERTAINMENT directed by Prof. McQuarrie of Halifax, assisted by our popular teacher Miss. H. McDonald, and her pupils, will be given in the Opera House, the last of May. This performance entitled "A Carnival of Nations", will consists of a variety of National and Fancy Dances, Tableaux, etc. One of the chief attractions will be a Burlesque Coon Cake Walk in which 25 ladies and gentlemen will take part. Prof. McQuarrie is one of Canada's leading teachers of dancing and banjo, and his experience in directing and stage management should assure the public that this "Carnival" will eclipse any entertainment ever given in Charlottetown.

BIG CATCH OF TROUT.—The first big catch of trout this season was made by Mr Russell J Coles, of Danville, Va., at Sentner's Pond a few days ago. Mr. Coles, who is a member of the firm of Coles & James, in company with a friend drove out to Sentner's and in one hour and a quarter landed 78 of the speckled beauties, ranging in weight from a half pound to a pound. This is more than a trout a minute, a catch that it would be hard to beat (or equal) anywhere. Mr. Coles, who is a fisherman of skill and experience, says he never met with such success before and is loud in his praise of Sentner's as a fishing resort. It is probable that when Mr. Coles returns to Danville and tells the fishermen there of his phenomenal success in Prince Edward Island many other fishers from that section will come this way.
