NOTE TO STUDENTS

Intending students should note carefully the following: Candidates whose names are marked with a star have not completed Grade X but will be allowed to attend Grade XI. They will be required to write supplementary examinations in the subjects in which they have failed before they receive a licence to teach in the public schools.

Students whose names are here published will be admitted to First Year Classes in Prince of Wales or to Grade XI classes of other schools. At Prince of Wales College they may take: (a) the Academic Course, qualifying for entrance to university or entrance to the Normal Training class or (b) the course in Commerce which extends over two years.

Young and immature students making low pass mark in these examinations should hesitate to come at this stage to Prince of Wales College, but should remain another year in Grade X and obtain better educational ground work.

Every student that proposes entering Prince of Wales College must fill out and return to: "Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown" the form which is found enclosed with the report card received from these examinations. This should be done not later than August 15. Those proposing to enter Grade XI in any of the other schools should make application immediately to the Principal of the School they expect to attend. All former students who intend to return to college should also notify the College office (if they have not already done so) on or before the same date, stating the course they intend to take so that arrangements may be made for for classification and accommodation.

Students who have passed the Atlantic Provinces examinations, and intend to enrol in Prince of Wales College should notify the office early. All applications for admission to Second, Third, and Fourth Year classes should be accompanied by a transcript of the marks made in these examinations, and a list of the subjects the applicant intends to take. Normal Training students should also send applications and list of marks.

Assault Umpire In Brawl At Halifax Baseball Game

HALIFAX (CP)—Veteran umpire Gerald (Hoppy) MacDonald was pummelled by half a dozen players Saturday in the worst brawl in Halifax's long baseball history.

Two American League scouts described the seven inning game between Halifax Cardinals and Dartmouth Arrows as the most "disgraceful exhibition" they have ever seen.

MacDonald, 47, received a gash over the right eye and numberous bumps and bruises when a pack of strapping Arrows jumped him at second base before 3,000 fans, thumped him to the ground and began flailing away.

Sam Stell of Farmville, N. C., and Bill Bergeron of Greenwich, Conn., the team's top batters, were banished and more would have been except that the slight umpire was so busy defending himself that he couldn't remember their faces. Stell and Bergeron are Americans like all but three of the players in the six-team league.

MacDonald, who admitted punching back when "Bergeron hit me hard in the stomach," said in an interview he wasn't contemplating legal action. A strong protest would be made instead to league president Harry Butler who was not available for comment.

Bergeron, who was indefinitely suspended Sunday, denied that he had struck MacDonald because "one thing I would never do is hit an umpire." He admitted, however, that his actions might have been regarded by officials as sufficient grounds for bouncing him from the game.

The fracas started when Cardinals' Jerry Cline smashed a ball toward the front-row rightfield bleachers where an elderly man and three youngsters were sitting. Stell raced in, the man stood up and the kids scooted out of the way. Stell didn't get the ball.

The league-leading Arrows, trailing second-place Halifax 10-0 at the time, claimed at first that the ball bounced into the bleachers but later said there was interference on the play.

MacDonald, at first, ruled it a homer—and most sports writers agreed — but third base umpire Frank Karlich said it should be a ground double. MacDonald's decision stood.

Dartmouth players began jostling MacDonald. Within a minute he was flat on his back and the dust made him invisible. The field filled with fans. Police were called to restore order. No Halifax players took part.

A Canadian Press reporter was forbidden by police to take pictures. They claimed he had to be authorized first by the Cardinals management. A club spokesman declined comment on whether police had been instructed to do this.

Clare Hoose, Detroit Tigers scout watching the game with New York Yankees' Pete Gabrien, said it was "the worst exhibition I've seen in all my years of baseball." Gabrien said it was "disgraceful."

Halifax won 15-1.

The worst that could happen to Stell and Bergeron is suspension from the league. They couldn't be banned for life from organized baseball because the H-D league, the province's best, does not come under the terms of organized baseball.
