OUR NEWS BUDGET for OUR SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

MONDAY

Albert Woodington, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Woodington of Spring Park met his death Saturday afternoon at 1:35 when he was crushed against a telephone pole at the corner of Edward and Euston Streets. Police report that the boy was riding on the running board of a delivery truck owned by Lane's Bakery and driven by William Dunn, twenty year old Charlottetown youth.

WEDNESDAY

The death occurred suddenly at his home in Peters Road last evening of Malcolm A. Beaton, one of Peters Road's oldest residents. Left to mourn his passing are his widow, three daughters; Anne in Charlottetown, Helen of New York, Elsie of Boston; and two sons, Lyle, Peters Road, and Veronique of Quebec. A son, Forrest, died several years ago. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

TUESDAY

Saint Dunstan's College began to gather its sons and daughters together yesterday for the 100th birthday party of an alma mater whose emigre priests have made a little Ireland of Prince Edward Island. The College was founded a century ago primarily to meet locally the need of the Island's Roman Catholics for religious leadership. Over the years, it went far beyond that until—as in Ireland—the priest became a staple Island export and 80 per cent of the College's graduate priests now living were serving outside their native Province. Generation after generation, the Kellys, Nelligans, MacDonalds, Campbells and other sons of the Island's Irish and Scottish farmers, fishermen and small-townsmen graduated and left for the reaches of the continent to become missionaries, bishops, archbishops and plain village priests. The process finally reached its climax in 1946 when James MacGuigan of the class of 1914, son of a Hunter River grocer, became one of the six Cardinals on the North American continent and St. Dunstan's most illustrious son. He's one of 125 priest-graduates now serving outside the Island. Yesterday they were coming back again to the campus on the gentle hillside outside Charlottetown, from His Eminence James Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto down to the priests in from the Island's own villages. With them were many of the non-religious graduates who have come over the years to outnumber the priests ten to one and like them, to scatter all through Canada and the United States as doctors, lawyers, businessmen and even policemen.

THURSDAY

The Hon. Paul Martin, Federal Minister of Health and Welfare who is visiting the Province for a few days, was entertained last evening by the Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, Provincial Health and Welfare Minister, at his home on North River Road. Provincial and civic dignitaries together with other guests had an opportunity of conversing with the distinguished guest. Mr. Martin expressed himself as delighted with the North Shore beaches and the hospitality extended, and stated that he thoroughly enjoyed his visit. Here for the Centennial of St. Dunstan's College, he also hopes to take in the annual Gathering of the Clans on Wednesday.

The death occurred suddenly last night at the Prince Edward Island Hospital of Captain Murray L. Willgar, Master of the Wood Islands Caribou Ferry, Prince Nova. A native of Parrsboro, N. S., he was 55 years of age. Captain Willgar entered hospital for treatment a week ago and had intended returning to his ship today but a sudden attack caused his death unexpectedly.

A verdict of death near Pownal en route to the Prince Edward Island Hospital following a motor accident at Melville School was reached by a Coroner's Jury last night after they heard evidence regarding the death of Roderick Macbeath MacFadyen. Dr. L. E. Prowse was the Coroner with Mr. John Nicholson representing the Crown. The accident occurred on the night of July 26.

Louis Leroy Smith, age 42 years, of Central Bedouque, was drowned yesterday afternoon about two o'clock in the Summerside harbor. Shortly before that time he was seen alive by several boys who were proceeding down the wharf for a swim. They had stopped to talk to him for a few moments on their way further down the wharf. He was then sitting on the edge of the wharf with his back against one of the posts used by fishermen to tie up their boats.

That brought new tributes to his alma mater, St. Dunstan's College, on its 100th anniversary. None of the tributes matched the warmth and the emotion of his own. —The death of Miss Maureen Gavine occurred at her home in English yesterday afternoon. Maureen, who was in her 20th year, was stricken with an ailment almost eight years ago. Besides her mother, Mrs. John R. Gavin, there are left to mourn six brothers and five sisters: Terence of English; Clifton, Raymond and Lester of Montreal; George and Arnold in the United States; Pearl, Mrs. Ralph McInnis, Anglo, English; Dulcinea, Mrs. John Gavin, Jane, Lena, R.N., all of Boston, Mass., and Elinor of Halifax.

Sgt. P. L. Keyes, who has been serving with the RCMP on Prince Edward Island since 1932, and for the past several years in charge of the Summerside detachment, left yesterday accompanied by his wife and family to take up new duties with "K" Division in the Peace River district of Alberta. Cpl. T. J. Keefe of Charlottetown is to take over command of the Summerside detachment.

Members of the Summerside Y's Men's Club held a summer meeting last evening with Y's Charles Linkletter in the chair. The occasion was to hear Y's John Quist, Danish International delegate who is at present visiting various clubs in the United States and Canada.

Words of welcome were extended to Sir Edward Bruce, 10th Earl of Elgin head of the House of Bruce and his Countess. But amid it all, the heartiest welcome came from the wee Highland dancers and pipers who warmed the hearts of a large crowd of more than 3,000 and dampened by lowering clouds and the occasional shower.

Hon. Paul Martin, Canada's Minister of Health, today urged all the nation's Christian religious faiths to "draw more closely together in tolerance and friendly collaboration" to meet the Godless drive of Communism. Speaking before a distinguished academic assembly which showered congratulations upon St. Dunstan's College on its 100th anniversary, French-Canadian family from Ontario said the stark facts of international life now imperil any nation which dwells on the differences of race, class and creed.

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's population is more than eight per cent higher than the 1951 census figure and now is well over 15,000,000. The Bureau of Statistics reported today that at June 1 the population was estimated at 15,995,000. This was a 414,000 gain over the previous year, 1,186,000 over the 1951 census figure and 3,123,000 over June 1, 1945. Ontario's population passed the 5,000,000-mark for the first time, pacing the nine provinces which showed increases. Prince Edward Island recorded the only decline to 105,000 from 106,000 the previous year.

His Eminence James Cardinal McGuigan looked beyond the darkness of the modern world last night to a time when all mankind would be linked in a happy and universal brotherhood under God. He uttered this optimistic prophecy in an address to a dinner
