Great Britain Prepares To Unveil Jet Might

By FRASER WIGHTON

FARNBOROUGH, England, Aug. 30 — (Reuters) — Visitors to the British aircraft manufacturers' display here next week will watch latest jet-fighters breaking through the sound barrier.

Several of the 50 planes in the show are able to exceed the speed of sound—760 miles an hour at ground level or 660 miles an hour in the rarefied air at 30,000 feet.

Airline operators and air technicians from all parts of the world have arrived here for the week-long display, which will open with a press preview Monday.

One fighter due to give a supersonic demonstration is the DH-110, latest product of De Havilland, manufacturers of the Comet jetliner now in passenger service. The DH-110 already has exceeded the speed of sound.

Also on show will be the new twin-engined Gloster jetfighter, the Javelin, so fast that it uses a radar "magic eye' for its direction in combat.

Military planes to be shown include Prime Minister Churchill's "super-priority" six for the defence program — among them the twin - engined Canberra, the world's only jet bomber in service, which Tuesday became the first plane to make a double crossing of the Atlantic in one day (average round trip speed 602.52 miles an hour).

Others on the "super-priority" list are the Vickers Valiant four-engined jet bomber, the Hawker Hunter fighter, the Vickers-Supermarine Swift fighter, the Javelin and the Fairey Gannet anti-submarine plane.

A rocket-assisted Comet jetliner will be put through its paces. The rockets on this model give approximately the extra power of a fifth engine for take-off purposes. The first Comet for an overseas buyer — Canadian Pacific Airlines — will be on view.

Britain's latest challenger in the civil jet field, the Bristol Britannia, also will be exhibited. She is one of 26 ordered by B. O.A.C. for its world network.

Employing gas turbines to drive propellers, the Britannia can carry 95 to 104 passengers at a cruising speed of about 380 miles an hour. Her range will enable her to perform non-stop London-New York flights.

Conservatives In N.B. Announce Party Platform

FREDERICTON, Aug. 30 —(CP) —Efforts to abolish the provincial sales tax are pledged in a 15-point Progressive Conservative program for New Brunswick.

The program, as formulated here at a conference of Progressive Conservative candidates in the provincial election Sept. 22, was announced tonight by the party's New Brunswick leader, H. J. Fleming.

Among other points, it promised reorganization of the publicly-owned New Brunswick Electric Power Commission and the Fisheries Branch of the Department of Industry and Development.

No reference was made to what Liberal Premier John B. McNair has termed a "first class political issue"—whether the government should recognize an international union as bargaining agent for public servants of the province.

Power Commission employees who are members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (T.L.C.-A.F.L.) last month threatened to strike for union recognition. The strike was called off on the eve of the deadline.

Premier McNair has declared that international unionism will not be permitted in the public service, and the right of public service employees to strike will not be recognized.

After announcement of the election date, Mr. Flemming said that no misleading issue should be created. Later, he stated the only issue was the "burden of debt and taxation loaded upon the people of this province."

The program announced tonight pledged, in addition to the sales tax abolition aim:

Efforts to arrange an early conference of federal, provincial and municipal governments with a view to obtaining a more equitable distribution of all taxing bases; taking fullest advantage of all Federal Government plans for assistance to the province or its municipalities, and efforts to obtain more adequate grants for provincial and municipal purposes.

Maintenance of all existing social services and addition of a new polio clinic, a home for mentally deficient children, more tuberculosis clinics, increased assistance for the Crippled Children's Fund and establishment of orthopaedic clinics, efforts to get federal assistance for training nurses, appointment of a chief welfare officer and legislation to assist disabled persons, especially victims of silicosis.

Encouragement of qualified young people to enter and remain in the teaching profession.

Improvement of labor legislation, a fair wage clause in all provincial government contracts, probable amendment of the Workmen's Compensation Act and establishment of a medical appeal board.

An aggressive policy of industrial development.

Special emphasis on encouragement of mining and assistance for exploration and development.

Reorganization of the fisheries branch and surveys of fishermen's losses, through storm damage, with the aim of obtaining compensation from the Federal Treasury.

An extended program for the preservation and management of forests, to increase employment in forest industries.

Consultation with agricultural organizations when formulating agricultural policy, and maintenance of assistance to co-operatives

Promotion of the tourist industry

Assistance to New Brunswickers in settling on approved lands and in obtaining the use of mechanized equipment for land clearance.

Improvement of the provincial highway system, emphasis on the elimination of dust, more efficient snow removal and enforcement of the tender system in awarding road construction contracts.

Reorganization of the Electric Power Commission, making it "truly representative of its owners —the people." Investigation and development of potential power sites would be expedited to provide necessary electric service for all rural areas and increased power for industrial expansion.

The final point in the program pledged good government and efficient standards of administration.

BACKACHE

For quick comforting help for Backache, Rheumatic Pains, Getting Up Nights, strong cloudy urine, Irritating passages, Leg Pains, and loss of energy due to Kidney and Bladder troubles, try Cystex. Quick, complete satisfaction or money back. Don't suffer another day without asking your druggist for Cystex.

DAILY CROSSWORD

ACROSS

1. Any fruit drink
4. Dibble
7. The dye indigo
8. Scope
10. Species of pepper
11. Simpleton
13. Mature
14. Species of flowering tree
15. Nickel (sym.)
16. Wise
18. In what manner
19. Crypt
21. Winnows
22. Extinct bird (N. Z.)
23. Forbid
24. Fragment
26. Long, protective coat
29. Owns
30. Relative
31. Greek letter
32. Having a handle
34. Young dog
35. Aim
36. Lumps of earth
38. Particle
39. Mature
40. Near (Scot.)
41. Affirmative reply

DOWN

1. Poker stake
2. Perish
3. Addition to a building
4. A ball
5. Melody
6. Liking
7. God of the sea
9. Negatively charged ion
10. Slam
12. Steers wild (naut.)
14. Past
16. Cease
17. Luxon native
20. Something omitted
21. Quick
23. Kind of roll
24. Fellow
25. French Indochina city
26. Owing
27. Discharge through the pores
28. Tears
30. Oil of rose petals
33. Pilaster
34. Explodes slightly
36. Weep
37. Recline

S	C	A	D		B	L	E	T
S	H	A	D	E		L	O	G	E	S
H	A	R	D	Y		O	R	G	A	N
O	R	O			P	A	D		P	A
D	E	M	E	R	I	T		B	O	K
			C	A	N		C	O	T	E
R	I	G	H	T		G	R	A	S	S
A	G	I	O		T	E	A
I	N	D		H	A	M	M	O	C	K
S	O	T	T	O	N		M	O	A
E	R	R	O	R		A	R	E	A	L
D	E	A	L	S		B	U	G	L	E
	S	T	A	Y		A	G	A	S

Yesterday's Answer

EASY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

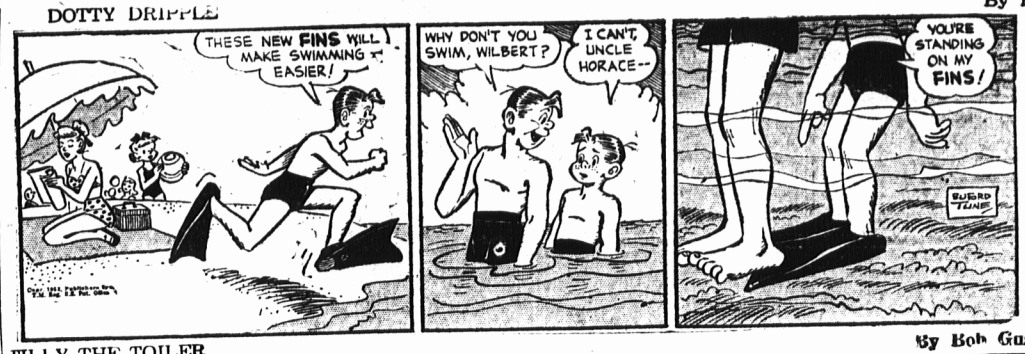
A Cryptogram Quotation

Y E U V K H S M E O U A H O U T H F E F U T A H -

S W H N K H S A ? — I E I A

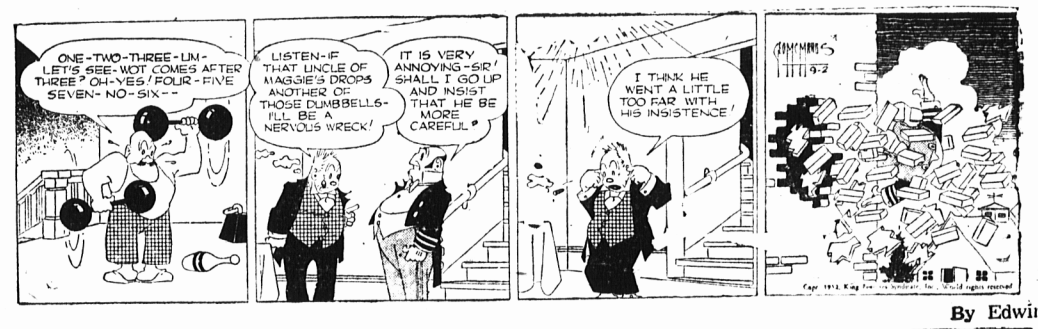
Yesterday's Cryptoquote: I'LL SPEAK TO IT, TH'OUGH HELL ITSELF SHOULD GAPE, AND BID ME HOLD MY PEACE—SHAKESPEARE.

DOTTY DRIPPLE — By Ruford



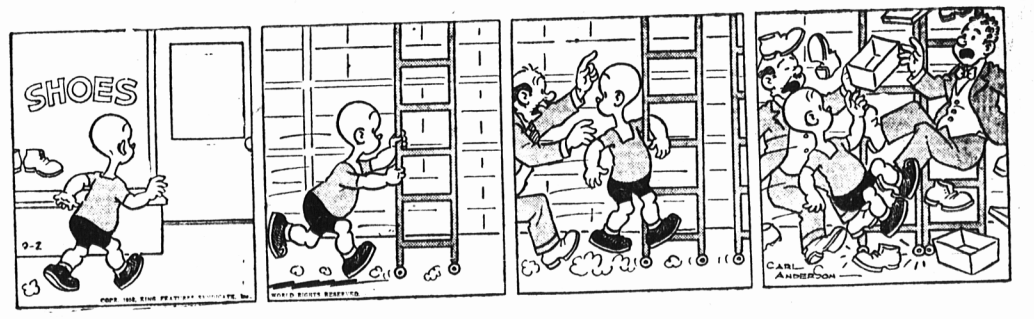
TILLY THE TOILER — By Bob Gustafson

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus



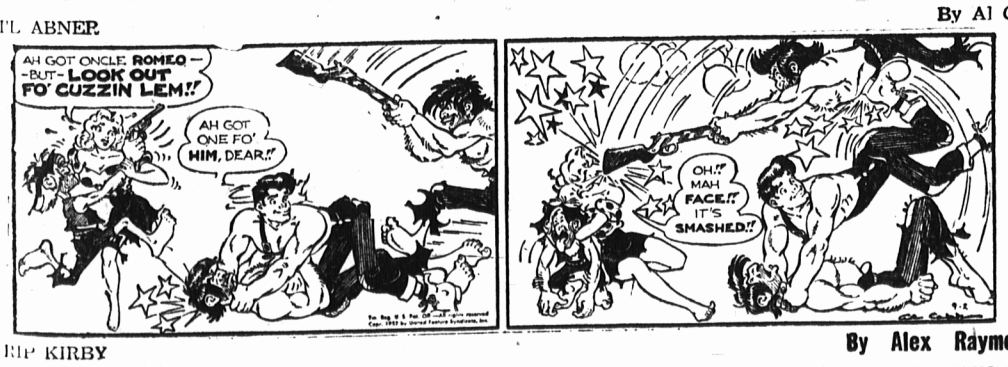
TIPPY AND "CAP" STUBS — By Edwina

HENRY — By Carl Anderson



JOE PALOOKA — By Ham Fisher

LI'L ABNER — By Al Capp

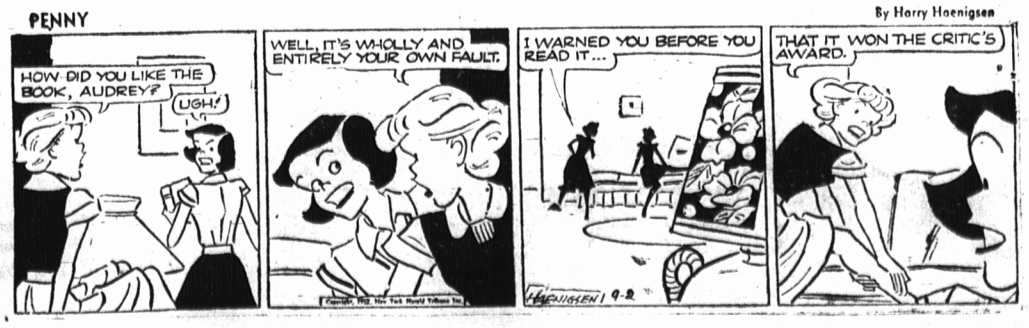


RIP KIRBY — By Alex Raymond

KING OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED

Napoleon and Uncle Elby — By Clifford McBride

PENNY — By Harry Haenigsen



POGO — By Walt Kelly