Find Roseneath Paving Plant Interesting Sight

The many interested children and adults who have visited the Warren Paving Co. plant, at Roseneath since its erection this week have been much impressed with the hugeness and power of the machines. Many have already taken an inspection tour of the plant and have found it most interesting.

Beginning at the gravel hopper where the gravel is dumped by the "clam" or bucket which is operated by a crane, one may get a glimpse of the speed with which the machine moves. From the hopper the gravel is quickly carried to two rolling drums which are heated by hot air and steam pressure. In these drums the gravel is dried and heated. It is then carried by small buckets on an endless chain to the top of a long rectangular stack from where it spills into the screening drum which is fitted with screens of three different sizes, thus separating the gravel into three grades. Each grade falls into its own separate receptacle.

Below this combined hopper is the mixer. A weighed quantity of each grade is run into the mixer, and a weighed quantity of heated asphalt. After the whole has been completely mixed, it is then dumped into a truck. To set up this elaborate plant, a new spur on the railway was run from Roseneath station to the site. On these rails will come the oil and asphalt needed by the plant, as well as all other equipment.

The company hopes to begin soon with the first oil coating on the road from Georgetown to Poole's corner which is at present being gavelled by the County Construction Co.

Approximately two miles have been completed from Georgetown. To provide the crushed gravel, several trucks were diverted to carry the gravel from the County Construction Company gravel supply to the plant. This gravel will be used for the first coating. It is understood.

Although held up for a short time at the corner leading to Georgetown, more necessary than was anticipated, the work is now progressing rapidly and with renewed fine weather the work of surfacing the road will soon begin. — M

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. DANIEL WALKER

At the Prince Edward Island Hospital on Monday, May 7th, 1951, there entered into that heavenly rest which remaineth for the children of God, the gentle spirit of Margaret (MacSwain), beloved wife of Daniel Walker, Cambridge, Mass.

A true and devoted Christian, we mourn her not as those without hope, because the loved one who has been called home believed in God, and lived according to her belief. That sweet life which we learned to love is not dead but has passed beyond the veil. She leaves a beautiful memory.

Although the last fourteen years of her life were spent in a wheel chair, she enjoyed every passing day, fashioning beautiful work with her hands, reading and communing with loved relatives and friends, and spreading around her the rays of heavenly sunshine which could only come from one living in perfect peace, and close fellowship with her heavenly father.

Mrs. Walker was born in Hopeville, Prince Edward Island in the year 1901, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roderick MacSwain (Mary MacPhee), and was quite a young girl when she came to Quincey, Mass. There she met and married her husband who was also formerly from Prince Edward Island. Not long after her marriage she was stricken with arthritis, and although everything humanly possible was done by way of medical attention and skillful nursing, the crippling disease took its toll, leaving her as before mentioned, to spend her life in a wheel chair.

Almost four years ago she came back to the Island to live with her sister (Dorothy), Mrs. Angus MacDonald, and the late Mr. MacDonald, tenderly cared for her until the time of her passing. Although a sufferer for so many years, it was not until the last six months that her general health began to show signs of weaken-

Two other names came up before the meeting for president. In a three way contest for vice-president Mr. Larry Lannigan past president was the choice of the meeting. School For Rural Choirs At Montague

A school for rural choirs was held in Trinity United Church, Montague on May 28th and was conducted by Rev. L. M. Murray of Kensington. Choirs from nine different churches within a thirty mile radius were represented, and several ministers attended.

The afternoon session met at 3 p. m. and after short opening exercises Mr. Murray gave an inspiring address on the place of music and praise in the service of worship, and discussed suitable hymns. This was followed by the introduction of unfamiliar hymns, with Mr. Murray at the organ, and a group discussion. At the close of this session, supper was served by the ladies of the church in the A. D. MacKenzie Hall.

The evening session opened at 7 p. m. Mr. Murray spoke on music appreciation, urging all to cultivate a taste for the best, and played several records of famous choirs to illustrate his point. He then spoke on the privileges, as well as the duties and responsibilities of choir members, he said, "Music is our sacrifice of worship and is meant to lift the heart of the worshipper to the throne of God, and we should sing the hymn words thoughtfully, not merely by rote, which is an insult to God." He urged on choir members the desirability of attendance at all services, and the great importance of being in their places at their rehearsals.

He then separated the school into groups for part singing, and conducted a practice of new hymns into which all present entered heartily. At the close of this period, Mr. Murray complimented the singers on their good work and the progress made in learning the hymns. He also urged members of choirs of neighbouring churches to unite and hold hymn festivals at some central point, as has been done in some areas.

Rev. Dr. MacKenzie expressed hearty thanks and appreciation to Mr. Murray. The gathering closed with the singing of "O Canada" and "The Lord's Prayer", and benediction by Dr. MacKenzie.

As a leader in this type of work, Mr. Murray, with his enthusiasm and wide knowledge of music, is admirable equipped and has held these schools in different churches throughout the Province. His talks are uplifting and interesting and cannot fail to inspire his listeners, and lead them to realize, as perhaps never before, the importance of their service as choir members. The schools are inter-denominational.

Lunch was served to the visitors at the close.

Those left to mourn a beloved wife and sister are her husband, Mr. Daniel Walker, Cambridge, U.S.A., who was home for the funeral; also her sister (Bessie), Mrs. Sam Brown, who with her husband and daughter motored from Pennsylvania, one brother, Mr. William MacSwain, St. John, N.B. and (Dorothy) Mrs. Angus MacDonald, Euston St., Charlottetown.
