Natural Sporting Event Attracts
 Visitors From All Over America

The opportunity to witness a unique and thrilling sporting event will be afforded motorists visiting the Province of Quebec this year. Special arrangements have been made to permit them to follow in their own cars, or in rented cars, the entire race from La Tuque to Trois-Rivières.

The Trois-Rivières-La Tuque highway skirts for practically the full hundred miles the course on the St. Maurice River over which will be conducted the Annual Canoe Race from La Tuque to Trois-Rivières.

To follow an event of this type will be an unusual experience for many spectators and the few points at which the road does leave the river will possibly add to the interest for they will provide short intervals during which the race will be out of sight, only to be picked up again a few miles farther on and afford new thrills.

The race this year takes on an international aspect for whilst in the past it has been confined to native Canadians of the Province of Quebec, it is now open to con-

The Canada Year Book for 1936

The publication of the 1936 edition of the Canada Year Book is announced by the General Statistics Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This revised throughout and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1936 Canada Year Book extends to over 1,150 pages, dealing with every phase of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. Attention may be called to some of the special features of the present volume. The statistical summary, included in the introductory matter, has been extended to the year. A special article, "Canada on Vimy Ridge," prepared by Colonel A. Fortescue Duguid, D.S.O., R.C.A., Director of the Historical Section (G.S.) Department of National Defence, has been included in Chapter II. This is apropos in the light of the pilgrimage to Vimy and the official unveiling of the Vimy Memorial arranged to take place this month. New material on fertility rates and multiple births in Canada has been added to Chapter V. Insofar as statistics are available, the immigration tables of Chapter VI have been placed on a calendar year basis to facilitate international comparison. Statistics covering the construction industry in Canada have been made available in the Bureau recently, and are published for the first time in Chapter XV, amplifying the information on contracts awarded and building permits, statistics of which have appeared regularly in the past. The introduction to the External Trade Chapter (XVI) has been revised by the inclusion of an abstract of the value and quantum of world trade abridged from the League of Nations "Review of World Trade, 1934." Section 9 of Chapter XVII dealing with Merchandising and Service Establishments has been entirely revised and rewritten to cover the estimates of retail trade made since the 1931 Census; a new series of monthly indexes of retail sales, 1929-35, is also included as well as principal statistics of chain stores and the motion picture industry. Some revision has been necessary in Chapter XXI by the inclusion of new material on the important subject of municipal taxation and the estimate of national wealth, 1933, with revised comparable figures for 1929—the latter estimate gives a picture of the peak of domestic prosperity while the 1933 figures reflect the writing down of values resulting from the depression. Several of the statistical series in Chapter XXII have become broken by the creation of the Bank of Canada, but since it will be some time before other series can be begun on the new basis, a compromise has been temporarily made. Improvements have been effected in the presentation of the financial statistics of the provincially-controlled schools of Canada by the collection of data on a more comparable basis from all provinces. These are presented in Chapter XXV, Tables 8 and 9. Chapter XXVI has been revised; sections dealing with the public health activities of the Dominion and a brief sketch of the origin and growth of the different classes of institutions in Canada have been included.

The death of His Majesty King George V on Jan. 20, 1936, received with deep sorrow throughout the Empire and with world-wide regret, and the succession of King Edward VIII to the Throne, have been appropriately marked by the reproduction, as frontispiece, of the official Proclamation of the Government of Canada made on Jan. 21, 1936, accompanied by the latest official photographs, obtained through the courtesy of the respective Court photographers.

The Volume is illustrated by many maps and diagrams and the latest available data are everywhere included.

Owing to the urgent need for economy in the distribution of Government publications, it has become necessary to make a charge to all individuals receiving the Canada Year Book. Persons requiring the Year Book may obtain it from the King's Printer, Ottawa, as long as the supply lasts, at the price of $1.50, which covers merely the cost of paper, printing and binding. By a special concession, ministers of religion, bona-fide students and school teachers may obtain paper-bound copies at the nominal price of 50c each.

Famous Pianist Turns to Movies In Feature Role

By Elmer W. Peterson, Associated Press Foreign Staff
 LONDON, July 14.—At the age of 75 Ignace Jan Paderewski is taking his piano into the heat and glare of the motion picture studio.

For the first time in his long career the famous pianist and Polish patriot has signed to appear in a film.

He has been engaged by Lothar Mendes, American director now heading his own British production company, for the lead role in a film temporarily titled "Moonlight Sonata."

Work on the picture starts this month with Mendes himself in the director's chair.

"Paderewski of course will have the role of a musician," explains the vigorous hard-working Mendes. "But it will be a role as only Paderewski can play it; no velvet-jacketed product of the make-up artist."

"Now will the film be merely the means of permitting Paderewski to play his piano from start to finish. The story permits an honest portrayal of the effect of a great musician on the lives of several other people."

"It was the story in fact which had much to do with persuading Paderewski to come to the films. His music will be there but it will at all times be purposeful."

Film people here are confident that Paderewski, with his striking appearance, the amazing head and deepest kindly eyes, will have his personality enhanced by the films. His age is not regarded as a drawback and no film test was made.

"He is as alive as a vital, as ever," said Mendes after meeting the musician in Paris and signing the contracts. "He is accepting a new medium of expression with extraordinary interest, insisting on being informed as to every detail."

Why Paderewski, who has made many fortunes, and given them away—should emerge from his Switzerland retreat to enter motion pictures is something of a mystery.

That he is to receive a tidy sum is taken for granted, but there are neither hints nor rumors of any undue need of money.

A Little Bet With God

"Stern! What does this mean? I've just remembered—the papers said you were dead—burned up in your plane..."

Sterne nodded.

"That's right," he agreed, gently. "But—what does it mean, Sterne?"

By way of answer Sterne raised his hand, forefinger pointing to compel attention. And then it was that Dursley, listening, heard an old familiar sound he had not heard for many years. The distant, ecstatic, yelping bark of his old Irish terrier, Tim—who had died five years before, and had never been replaced because no other dog would have been the same... And the bark—that unmistakable, unforgettable bark—expression of joy at the return of his master after an absence—was drawing rapidly nearer!

He turned to Sterne, his eyes wide:

"Stern! That car—I didn't dodge it after all..."

Sterne's hand was laid upon his own, warm and comforting. As he nodded the sound of the dog's delighted barking came nearer—and now Dursley could hear the scabbles of excited paws on the gravel outside...!

Japanese In Canada Have Monopoly On Strange Art Of Chicken-Sexing

Occidentals Fail In Tests After Years Of Training

(By Central Press Canadian)
 EDMONTON, July 11.—Under contract to northern Alberta poultry farmers, Shogo Uryu, one of only 20 men in the world working the strange profession of chicken-sexing, has just completed the examination of 200,000 day-old chicks, a work that has taken since early March.

The 24-year-old Jap came from Fukuoka to work in northern Alberta chick hatcheries and is so expert that he can determine the sex of day-old chicks at the rate of 1,000 an hour. Probably the outstanding feature of this work is that as practiced commercially by the Japanese experts in the Dominion, is that they guarantee their results as 97 per cent. perfect.

It's a Real Art

Although rapid strides are reported to have been made throughout the world in the unusual art since it was first discovered by two Japanese scientists, Dr. K. Masui and Dr. Hasechimoto, both of Tokio Imperial university, in 1924, in reality there are only a few men who can be termed experts, according to A. H. Hall, business manager of the beautiful Shogo Uryu.

Classes in the art of determining the sex of chicks have been organized in America, recently by poultrymen in order that their services commercially, but so far, all but the 20 Japanese experts have been unsuccessful. Shogo Uryu told Central Press, because most of the students were unable to gain the necessary high percentage of accuracy and speed. Without these two qualities, the knowledge of chick sexing is almost useless.

Just about cities other than Edmonton with chick experts are enough to merit his services commercially. Each expert is a member of the Chick Sexing Association of Japan. Shogo Uryu spent five years study under leading Japanese experts before he was proficient.

Fourtyrmen find the scheme of chick-sexing beneficial in that they are able to eliminate cockerels, raising only the best pullets in their pens.

Cooler Weather In Prairie Provinces

WINNIPEG, July 13.—(CP)—Cooler weather for Alberta and Saskatchewan came today in the wake of prairie rains that gave their greatest blessing to the mid-western province while Manitoba remained in hot prostrations in the wake of heat prostrations in Manitoba, chiefly in Winnipeg, mounted to 22 for the week-end to night and eight others drowned in seeking relief from the torrid weather. Twenty-four persons were in hospital as a result of sunstroke; one death in case of Saskatchewan and an Alberta brought the western prairie total to 32.

Reports of drought damage to wheat, a late influx of buying and strong outside markets showed prices higher on the Winnipeg grain exchange after early recessions.

Temperatures dropped in Alberta with scattered rains in the province. Manitoba showed rains in the south but all precipitation was light and temperatures in the 90's continued. Emerson, on the national boundary, in Southern Manitoba set a western record Sunday with a maximum temperature of 112.

Saskatchewan, as well as getting cooler weather, derived the greatest crop benefit from the week-end rains.

The best rains occurred 100 miles southeast of Regina and about 100 miles north and east of Regina.

Heavy rains in the southeastern section were looked upon by government officials as likely to ease the severe fodder shortage threat. Little hope was held the rain would benefit crops in the extreme south and west.

WINNIPEG, July 13.—Torrential rains fell over Winnipeg tonight to break the hot spell that reached its climax in the week-end when 30 persons died in Manitoba from heat and drowning.

Preceded by a dust storm that rolled clouds of dirt over the city from the west, the rain was accompanied by severe electrical disturbances and thunder. Temperatures in Winnipeg has soared to the 100 mark during the day.

The rain lasted nearly an hour and during the heavy downpour the mercury dropped sharply to 75 degrees. After the rain ceased, however, the temperature hopped to 80 degrees or approximately 20 degrees below the high for the day.

INDIAN RIVER WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Eight members of the Indian River Women's Institute and six visitors met at the shore on July 8th to hold their regular monthly meeting. The President called the meeting to order and the Creed was read by the members. This was followed by the roll call and reading of the minutes of the last meeting. It was decided to have the interior of the clubhouse painted and the outside whitewashed before school re-opening. In order to raise funds for this, the members planned to hold a tea and sale of ice cream in the school on Monday, July 20th. A letter from the supervisor, Miss Road, was read asking the institute to send a delegate to the annual convention in Charlottetown. Mary Elms was appointed to attend.

It was also decided to send $2 to the Red Cross. The Sick Committee reported having visited two sick people in the district and given treats costing 40c. The next meeting will again be held at the shore and will call answered by one member reciting a line of poetry and each of the other members composing a line to rhyme with it. Next lunch was served, after which several games were played which enjoyed by all.

HIS ARTIFICIAL LEG

MANCHESTER—(C. P.)—Edward Lawrence, 25-year-old one-legged shoemaker, said to have collected about $25,000 in five years by asking people to subscribe the cost of a wooden leg, was sentenced to 21 months for attempted housebreaking.
