

Slowdown But No Slump In Europe From Oil Crisis

By D.D.Y. GILMORE
LONDON (A) — The Suez oil crisis has slowed down the prosperous pace of Europe's industry, but it has caused no crippling slump.

Credit for this goes to the industry of the European industrialist, businessman, travelling salesman, worker, to deliveries of American oil — and to an uncommonly warm winter.

In fuel-hungry Britain, one company replaced its delivery trucks with ponies and carts. French industrialists hired a fleet of ancient railway engines to pump heat into factories.

Arch business rivals in Denmark co-operate to work their way around the heating oil shortage.

RESTRICTIONS EASING
Gasoline restrictions, severe in some lands, are beginning to ease. But prices are up in many places. Though weighed down with the worries of Suez, European governments have kept in clear focus the enormous importance of the coming invasion of the great American tourist.

From the Bay of Naples to the Scottish highlands the tourist, with his badly needed dollars, will be catered for. He'll have plenty of gas for his car and all the other comforts that his money demands.

Hardest hit by more than three months of fuel shortages are automobile manufacturers and salesmen, gasoline stations, car hire companies and hotels and restaurants in out-of-the-way places.

BALANCE THREATENED
Big dollar spending for American oil is threatening already precarious trade balances in Britain, France and The Netherlands.

The general situation by countries:
Britain — Motorists are still rationed to enough gasoline for only 200 miles a month. The price of an imperial gallon is 91 cents for high test brands. There are supplementary gasoline coupons for business.

But car manufacturers are going back into high gear.

Sales of some small cars with low gasoline consumption are ahead of last year's totals.

The Suffolk Hunt Club loaded 16 horses, 18 hounds and their pink-coated riders onto a freight train to stage a hunt 20 miles from home.

ROBBERIES RETURN
Laundry operators rounded up horses and old delivery wagons to handle the wash.

Bicycle and electric vehicle sales hit new highs.

A mild winter helped conserve heating oil, coal, coke and electric power.

France — Vegetables, butter and many consumer items that move by truck are more expensive.

Trying to keep the living cost index constant, the government reduced the price of milk, beef and margarine.

The second-hand car market is suffering but new cars are selling. There was a long waiting list before the Suez crisis.

Winter sports resorts are packed. Tourists get all the gasoline they need, but not the average French motorist — except at black market prices. The black market was reported working well.

RECORD DEFICIT
In January there was a record $175,000,000 deficit in the trade balance and speakers in the National Assembly say the country faces "complete exhaustion" of its foreign exchange.

Netherlands — Suez coincided with an austerity period and the result has been a serious trade deficit and a sagging monetary situation.

Oil and gasoline prices are up. Bus tickets and rail fares are dearer and taxis are to increase their rates.

West Germany — No oil rationing and American oil supplies compensated for Suez shortages. Gasoline and diesel oil prices went up three cents a gallon. And with great gold and dollar reserves the nation is not pinched.

Spain — Some fuel oil rationing. French frontier residents regularly cross into Spain to get gasoline from large stocks replenished regularly from Venezuela.

Italy — Hardly a mark to show in the crisis except that the price of gasoline is 93 cents a gallon.

Portugal — All travel rates up and the cost of living higher because of a 25 per cent gasoline price rise as well as the higher cost of fish staples because the fishing industry is curtailed.

Arab Conference Reaffirms Neutrality In Cold War

By WILTON WYNN
CAIRO (AP)—The four-power Arab summit conference has reaffirmed neutrality in the cold war. It took no public stand on Communist penetration of the Middle East or the Eisenhower doctrine.

The conference Wednesday night issued a communique signed by King Saud of Saudi Arabia, King Hussein of Jordan, President Shukri Kuwailid of Syria and President Nasser of Egypt.

The meeting had special significance in the light of Saudi's recent talks with President Eisenhower in Washington. The communique praised the king for explaining to U.S. leaders the "Arab point of view regarding Middle East problems and other questions raised."

The Arab leaders reaffirmed their "positive neutrality" in the cold war. They said they are determined to shield Arab countries from its harmful effect.

IRAQ CRITICIZED
The communique declared that the Arab states must provide their own defence "outside the sphere of foreign pacts." This was an obvious slap at Iraq. While that

'Side Y's Men's Club Makes Plans For Convention

Plans for attendance by club members at the Maritime's Region convention in Fredericton were made at the regular weekly meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club, held last evening at the Y Centre on Green Street.

George Key, Jr. called for a show of hands of those who will be attending and announced that he would book the reservations at once. Upon Harry Holman's suggestion, it was decided to purchase a large world map for the Y Centre building and run a newspaper ad bringing before the public the need of the club for used and cancelled stamps for the Bishop's Fund.

A discussion as to the possibility of running money-raising drives in conjunction with the radio auction was referred to the executive.

Ivan Vaughan, in a report from the young adult committee, recommended that it was not feasible to hold hymn-sings this year. A further recommendation that a co-ed group for young adults in the age group 18 to 25 be sponsored by the club, was tabled for one week.

Stan Steeves of Moncton, present as a guest, outlined the co-ed program as operated in that city.

A discussion on the possibility of holding a ladies' night brought forth an assurance from program chairman Charles Linkletter that one would be held after the radio auction.

Bob Hogg outlined suggestions regarding the challenge broom ball game between the Y's Men's and Lions Clubs to the effect that it would be played without skates at Civic Stadium with the nets at each side of the ice surface.

The program for the evening, "Personal Glimpses" as given by John Ellis, Laurie Coles, Harold Rodd, Edgar Ramsay and Bob Hogg.

Chaperons for the Hi-Y dance this Saturday are to be Ivan Vaughan and Bob Hogg.

Chairman of the meeting was Tommy Phillips with David Morrison as songleader and Ken Walker acting as finesmaster.

Report Urges Understanding In Hungarian Refugee Problems

GENEVA (Reuters) — Acts and behavior which arouse resentment among the inhabitants of countries giving asylum to Hungarian refugees should not be measured by the standards of an ordered society.

This is one of the cardinal points in a report entitled "Suggestions to governments concerning the reception of Hungarian refugees," prepared at the request of the office of the United Nations high commissioner for refugees. The report was written by Dr. Maria Pfister, of the mental health section of the World Health Organization.

Dr. Pfister says that it is important to realize that the fact of being a refugee automatically creates an increase in the desire for self-preservation. The result is often acts and behavior which arouse resentment among the people of the country of asylum; the purloining of camp equipment, and forging of papers ranging from birth certificates to passports.

REACTIONS CONTINUE
"Such reactions represent a kind of self-defence," Dr. Pfister states. "They continue to exist after the period of actual danger and homelessness has passed. They should not be measured by the standards of an ordered society."

Dr. Pfister urges that everyone concerned in the reception and settlement of refugees be given a certain training in refugee psychology. It should be impressed on them that refugees react sensitively to everything which reminds them of the experiences through which they have lived. Helpers ought also to understand that a further unavoidable reaction

Two Mission Bands Have Joint Meeting

The February meeting of Traveler's Rest and New Annan Mission Band was held last Saturday of the month. The meeting started with a game and the mission band purpose was repeated by the members. The hymn "Jesus Bids Us Shine" was sung with Jeanette Poole as organist.

A story about a Japanese girl was read by Mrs. Delbert Rayner and conversation and talk about the Japanese followed. The worship theme was the church — a Fellowship of Love. The members each read a verse of scripture, which was followed by prayer. The president, Joyce Rayner, called on Lindsay Joyner to read the minutes of the last meeting.

Garth Marchbank read the roll call which was responded by thirteen members and one visitor. The offering was received by Theresa Manderson. The meeting closed with a hymn. Walter Schurman then served the members with apples and candy.

"What is the cause of this dearth of qualified teachers since 1951? Has the Department's system of qualifying teachers broken down? Why are our present qualified teachers demanding a Royal Commission to investigate the whole system? Has the present Minister done anything to alleviate the situation?"

"He apparently is now against a Royal Commission while it is only a short time back that he had one appointed to extract himself out of the sorry mess of School Unit No. 1."

"He knows as well as I do or anyone else that the whole cause is underpay and the disparity between teachers salaries and the salaries paid for comparable talent elsewhere. Just as our young men are leaving our farms on account of low returns the same is applying to our teachers."

"The remedy is simply let the Government pay higher salaries. There is no reason why the salaries should not be increased. The present Government did everything possible by various means to get re-elected in 1951 and again in 1955, and now let them satisfy our teachers."

"Let them get the money, as the other Provinces are doing to pay increased salaries, and I mean a proper increase, not a 25 cents a day one as brought down by the Minister a year ago. The Government is not paying for education as it should as all facts and figures bear this out. Listen to these figures."

COMPARISONS MADE
"In 1946, the cost per capita for education in Prince Edward Island was $10.67 while British Columbia spent $19.81. Even Nova Scotia paid $35 and New Brunswick $36."

"Is it any wonder that our boys and girls will not work as teachers here? Even in the large centres, our teachers are sorely underpaid, from $1525 to $3575, while in Halifax the scale is from $1900 to $6600. Then again the average teacher's salary in Prince Edward Island is $1152; in the State of Maine, one of the poorest, the average salary is $2115; in Nova Scotia $1587."

Dog Rouses Family As House At Alberton Burns At Night

Fire destroyed the home of Mr. William Albert at Alberton early yesterday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Albert, who were asleep upstairs were awakened by the barking of their dog shortly before four o'clock and discovered the ground floor a mass of flames. Unable to go downstairs they made their escape through a window leading to a sun porch from where they were able to reach the ground taking the dog, a Cocker spaniel, with them.

The Alberton Fire Dept. responded promptly and concentrated their efforts on saving a house and garage belonging to Mr. Albert's son, Mr. William Albert. The garage was located on the south of the burning building and the house on the northern side within twenty feet of the flames.

Working in the near zero weather and hampered by a strong wind, the firemen ran two lines of hose and played streams of water on both buildings which they were successful in saving.

Nothing was saved from the burning house. It is understood there was some insurance. Origin of the fire was thought to have been from the kitchen stove.

Flour Practice Being Corrected

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe said Thursday that the practice of some Canadian flour exporters of filling orders with low-priced American flour in Canadian bags is being "corrected."

Replying in the Commons to Opposition Leader Diefenbaker, he said the exports were being made under the "made-in-Canada" label.

"We are taking steps which we think will make it less attractive," the minister said. "It is being corrected."

Mr. Diefenbaker, who referred to U.S. and Canadian press reports of the practice, asked whether it is general. Also, would the minister deny that one reason for it was that Canadian low-grade wheat had less protein value than American wheat used for flour.

"I wouldn't like to advertise that," Mr. Howe replied.

Federal trade officials here said Wednesday the practice of using low-priced U.S. wheat to fill Canadian flour orders has been increasing over the years and is interfering with exports of Canadian-made flour. Exports of Canadian wheat had increased but shipments of flour had declined.

EDEN'S RETIREMENT

"It is with deep regret that I mention the loss from the councils of World Affairs of Sir Anthony Eden. He was a man trained from boyhood to be a statesman, trained in world affairs and in the affairs of our Great Commonwealth. Where is he to-day? The world had lost this great figure — he has retired with failing health and a broken heart, a condition in which I am sorry to say, Canada under our present Government played a part. The mover of the address endeavoured to cover up for Mr. St. Laurent and stated we need not fear for England while Mr. St. Laurent was Prime Minister. Mr. Speaker, this is a far cry from the actual facts and from the actions of Mr. St. Laurent in October and November last. They are not supporters of Great Britain and apparently prefer to follow the music of Yankee Doodle rather than Rule Britannia."

In concluding his address, Mr. Bell said, "Something has to be done. When I said a few years ago that we were losing our population, there were those who said I was wrong. They said, 'we will have a population of 108,000' but since the last census, I find now that I was right. This has taken place in spite of a natural increase of births over deaths of 1,500 per year."

"I contend that the per capita basis is not a correct manner in which to arrive at our fiscal needs and it conditions continue this place will become deserted. We'll never keep people here so long as Ottawa keeps giving away millions to the other Provinces," he said.

WEST RIVER BRIDGE
The Opposition Leader said the West River Bridge had been started and abandoned and started again and is still not across. He said the mistake that had been made in this project involved needless squandering of the Government's money. "These mistakes could not be made in any business firm that expected to stay solvent," said Mr. Bell.

The Opposition Leader said that in spite of good crops farmers on the Island are not making ends meet. Many of them are merely living on the depreciation of their buildings and are actually going in debt every year. He noted that the price of pork was good at the present time but recalled that pork had been kept at the floor price for two years until many went out of hog raising.

He claimed that cattle was the life blood of the Province whether beef or dairy. "Farmers cannot make profit with beef at 15 cents a pound," he said.

Mr. Bell said he could not understand how it was that the Imperial Oil could show a profit of nine million and the very next week increase the price of gasoline. "They blame the Suez situation and offer other excuses. Is the Government looking into these matters?"
