

WILL ATTEND ADVENTURE CAMP

Girl Guides Bonnie MacKie and Eleanor Henry of Southport, and Sea Rangers Irene Norrie of North River and Ellen Matheson of Charlottetown, have been chosen to attend the Atlantic Adventure Camp to be held at Brackley Beach in July. Other Guides and Rangers at the camp will come from the United States, Great Britain and the rest of Canada. Ellen and Irene are members of the crew of S. R. S. Buckingham, Prince Edward Island's first Sea Ranger Company. Bonnie and Eleanor are examining the Sea Rangers' very smart uniforms, which the general public of Charlottetown will be able to see for the first time on Friday and Saturday, when Rangers, Guides and Brownies will be doing their bit for Guiding by selling raisins.

Higher Operating Costs Into Surplus Of T. C. A.

OTTAWA (CP) — Higher operating costs cut into record Trans-Canada Air Lines earnings last year to trim its net surplus to $404,574, the publicly-owned company reported Friday. The company's annual report, tabled in the Commons, showed record gross revenues of $104,995,707, an increase of 15 per cent over the 1956 figure of $91,306,000. But "while the most rigid possible control was exercised," said TCA president G. R. McGregor in the report, "operating expenses increased 16 per cent to a total of $103,500,000" compared to $82,225,000 the previous year. This cut the surplus for 1957 sharply lower than the $1,556,000 for 1956. It was the seventh consecutive annual surplus.

Mr. McGregor said the gross revenues represented an increase of 20 per cent over the previous year during the first half of 1957 and a rise of only 11 per cent during the second half. Higher wages and landing fees in Canada and Britain increased fuel costs and a provincial tax of two cents a gallon on aviation fuel in Ontario were main factors in the operating cost increase.

Upward Trend Of Executives' Pay Is Slowed

NEW YORK (AP) — The upward trend in executive pay slowed to a crawl in 1957, a survey by Business Week magazine showed Friday. Raises for the top brass were not so substantial as in past years and there were fewer of them, the publication said. "Some executives took cuts."

Leaving the corporate pay parade was Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, who earned $623,336 in salary and bonuses before taxes. By contrast, the magazine noted, no fewer than three executives earned $700,000 or more in 1955 and one — Eugene Grace — earned $809,000 in 1956. Grace retired last year as Bethlehem Steel's board chairman. Grace's pay last year — he became honorary board chairman following his retirement as chief executive officer — was cut to $619,006. This made him the second highest paid executive in the U.S.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp. and third highest on the list, also took a salary cut — from $395,100 in salary and bonus in 1956 to $358,875 last year. All told, Business Week said,

ELLERSLIE AND BIDEFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hutchinson and family, Summerside, spent the weekend visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hutchinson. Friends are sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. E. S. Burleigh. All her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Meivin Hutchinson and daughter Susan, Saint John, N.B., were weekend visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gillis, also his father, Mr. Willard Hutchinson. Pte. Melvin Ellis, Sussex, N.B., spent the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ellis.

Mr. Leith Hayes, who is employed in Charlottetown spent the weekend at his home here. Pte. and Mrs. Sterling Phillips and family are spending some time visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke MacQuarrie, before leaving for Calgary, Alberta, where he is posted. Mrs. Janet Ogden and Miss Betty Rennie, Elmsdale, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Ogden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gillis.

Miss Patsy Hutchinson, who is a patient in the Polio Centre, Charlottetown, spent the long weekend visiting at her home here. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Paynter and family, Summerside, were Sunday visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coughlin. Miss Marion MacDougall, Summerside, spent the weekend visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maynard. Mrs. Emanuel Ross and daughter, Grace, were recent visitors to Summerside.

Mr. Roger Burleigh who has been attending Mount Allison, Sackville, N.B., is spending his vacation at his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sharpe and daughter Vicki, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ord Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Phillips, O'Leary. Mrs. Eldon Millar, teacher of Ellerslie and Bideford High School, spent the weekend at her home in Tyne Valley. Mrs. Herb Hardy was a recent visitor to Summerside. Trinity Y.P.U., Summerside, presented their play, "Old Fashioned Mother," in Ellerslie Hall

WELLINGTON

Mr. Anthony Gallant has returned home after spending the winter months with his son, Simon, in Summerside. Mrs. Lamarthe Arseneault has entered the Charlottetown Hospital where she will undergo an eye operation. Mr. James Gallant has returned home after serving in Canadian Army for 6 months. Mr. Sydney Goodwin is spending some time visiting his brother, Mach and Mrs. Goodwin and family. He has been in Labrador for some time. Tpr. Ernest Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bernard, who has passed ten months in Egypt, has moved with his family to Edmonton where he will be stationed for 2 years. Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Thompson of Summerside visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barlow on Sunday. Miss Frances Barlow observed her 16th birthday at her home on Sunday, May 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gallant and two small children of Moncton, N.B., were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Gallant. Master Grant Brooks spent the weekend with his grandfather, Mr. William H. Barlow. Mr. and Mrs. Billy McLure and family, Summerside, visited Mr. and Mrs. Rufus McLure, Mrs. Florence Barlow and Jack, on Sunday. B.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman MacArthur, Summerside, were Sunday visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hardy. Mr. and Mrs. James Coughlin, Summerside, were Sunday visitors of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coughlin. Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of the late Mrs. John MacIssac, Borden whose death occurred on May 2. Friends are pleased to see Mr. Peter Millar home and out again after his recent illness. Rev. and Mrs. A. MacDonald, Ontario, were recent visitors here where they visited friends. Mr. MacDonald was a former minister of Bideford United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison and family, Summerside, were Sunday visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. John Biggar. Mrs. Eldon Millar, teacher of Ellerslie-Bideford High School, spent the weekend at her home in Tyne Valley. Miss Patsy Hutchinson, who is a patient in the Polio Centre, Charlottetown, spent the long weekend visiting at her home here. Miss Grace Walsh and her mother, Mrs. George Walsh have returned to their home after spending the winter months in U.S.A. Mrs. Winnie Morrison and Mrs. Frank Fraser, Alberton, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison. Mrs. P.M. MacCaul was a recent overnight visitor to Charlottetown. Miss Willina Gillis, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Theodore Gillis, and Mrs. Harold Gillis were recent visitors of Summerside. Mrs. Reby White, Summerside, was a recent visitor to Ellerslie. Mr. Leith Hayes, who is employed in Charlottetown spent the weekend at his home here. Word was received recently of the death of Mrs. Thomas Gillis, of Hudson, New Hampshire, U.S.A. Sincere sympathy is extended to the family. Mr. Albert Barlow, sectionman at Wellington, spent the weekend at his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hutchinson and family, Summerside, were Sunday visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. William Grant. Mrs. Erwin Dennis was hostess to the Ellerslie Women's Institute on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Paynter, Summerside, were recent visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coughlin and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gillis. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest MacNeve were recent visitors to Charlottetown. Mrs. John Coughlin was hostess to the Bideford Women's Institute on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sharpe and daughter Vicki, spent some time recently at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Lockhart, Amherst, N. S. Mr. and Mrs. James Burleigh and family were recent visitors of her mother, Mrs. Hazel Jelley, O'Leary. Mr. Lemuel Day, Wellington, spent the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Millar. Mrs. Hubert Hutchinson was a recent visitor to Summerside, guest of her sister, Mrs. Sherman Hutchinson. D.O.

CRASH TOLL RISES

BOMBAY, India (Reuters) — The death toll in Wednesday's train crash near Chamraj, 200 miles from Bombay, has risen to 26 following the death of five of the injured, railway authorities reported Thursday.

Churchill Art To Be Shown

MONTREAL (CP) — Sir Winston Churchill has personally added Fredericton, Vancouver and Montreal to a restricted list of cities where his paintings will be exhibited, it was announced Thursday. Director John Steegman of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts said he has been informed that Sir Winston asked that these cities be added to the exhibition itinerary in order that "my friends" there might see the paintings. The 35 Churchill works, mostly landscapes and seascapes, will be shown at the Montreal museum some time in July. The exhibition is reported to have broken attendance records in cities in the United States. In New York 147,750 persons viewed the works in a 24-day period. Large crowds were also attracted in Kansas City, Detroit and Washington.

THE RACE OF SPRING

'Twas early March when I did see Green buds upon our lilac tree Its home is by the old south porch Where northern gales can't harm it much. From o'er the fields the trees looked bare Still blanketed in winter's ware Anon, sun's days laid bare the glade And lo! A summer's dress was made. The sap crept up into the branch And wakened all the buds perchance The woodlands tossed their heads in glee The race was on Ye, Lilac Tree, Baltic, Lot 18. —E. B. Wall

MAINE LOBSTER PROBE CONTINUES

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — President Leslie A. Dyer of the Maine Lobstermen's Association was quoted in U.S. district court Thursday as telling striking fishermen last summer that dealers would drop the price to 25 cents a pound or lower. "Twice last summer, large groups of lobstermen stopped hauling their traps after the price dropped to 30 cents from 35 cents a pound. Dealers claimed a glut of lobsters during the shell-shedding season — when the lobsters are harder to sell — made the drop necessary. As a government witness in the

Valedictory Address Given By Miss Jean MacPherson

The valedictory address at the Prince of Wales Convocation Exercises Friday was delivered by Miss Jean MacPherson of Charlottetown. Miss MacPherson stood fourth in the 1958 graduating class and in addition was awarded the H. N. Macquarrie Prize. Following is the text of the address: "Another Convocation Day has dawned upon us, very much the same as others of past years but to us members of the graduating class it is one of the most important days of our lives. It symbolizes the beginning of a new way of life and the end of an old. "Today we look forward to the future with a great deal of hope and maybe some hesitancy, but before we leave let us thumb through the pages of our album of memories. "Remember the excitement of registering in first year and the confusion of getting acquainted with teachers and classrooms. In fact we sometimes became so confused that some classes were missed altogether even months after college began. "In that case it was necessary to avoid Mr. Bennett at all costs. But surprisingly enough — or is it surprising at all? Perhaps it is just life — The all so very strange become the very familiar surroundings and patterns in an atmosphere which became part of our very lives — part of ourselves — and as we cast our eye back over this very familiar pattern certain episodes loom up as mile stones in our journey through the years. "We remembered the Student Council elections, the heated political disputes and campaigns which were accompanied by brass bands, bagpipes and parades. Speaking of parades, did a n y o n e ever forget parading through town following the campus King and Queen and returning to the college for the coronation and dance afterwards. "What a wealth of memories it brings to think of this auditorium filled with music and students and with the lights turned down low for a dance. However the auditorium was used for what was considered by the faculty, a far more practical purpose. Could anyone look as grim as this did with the chairs and tables all set up for exams; and remember the nights we spent burning the midnight oil studying for those exams. "Sports also constitute a large part of our college memories. Remember going out to St. Dunstan's to cheer for our valiant — if rarely successful — football team, and those exciting trips to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with the hockey and basketball teams. "College day was always a big social event of the year and everyone will admit that we had our best College Day the year it snowed so hard that we were given the next day off from classes. "Perhaps one of the brightest memories is that of the color and excitement of the Curling Cham-ionships played in Charlottetown last winter. The social events that were most enjoyed were the class parties at Frank's, Austina's and and Flo's homes climaxing in our last big get-together at the Fourth Year Banquet. "However our college life was more than a social whirl. There was a great deal of hard work connected with it too and as we look back over both toil and frolic we will never forget the happy years we have spent at Prince of Wales and how they have prepared us to meet whatever life may bring. APPLY KNOWLEDGE "Cardinal Newman has pointed out to us that the purpose of a university is not only to impart facts but to teach us to think and to apply our knowledge to daily life. Our professors here at Prince of Wales have always striven to teach us this lesson in living. "How late we realize the value of their lesson, but before we leave I wish to express our deep gratitude to them. We are grateful not only for what they have taught us but also for the warm personal interest which they took in each and every one of us so that we look back on them not only as teachers but as friends. "Many times we have tried their patience through inattentiveness and carelessness yet they have never refused to answer a question or to spend extra time to help us with our problems. The training and guidance which we have received from each of you will be of enduring benefit to us through years to come and for this we thank you from the bottom of our hearts. INDEBTED TO PARENTS "To our parents too we feel deeply indebted for it is they who have made this day possible. It is they who worked so that we might obtain an education and it is they who encouraged us and worried over us, sharing the joy of our successes and the heartache of our failures. "Today we wish to share with them the greatest success of our days at Prince of Wales and we hope this will in some way repay them for the times we have disappointed them and burdened them unnecessarily with our thoughtlessness. "We hope always to give them cause to be as proud of us as they are today and although our appreciation of them has been mostly felt and not expressed, I wish to take this opportunity to let them know of the boundless gratitude that is in each of our hearts. DIVERGING WAYS "Fellow graduates — today we leave Prince of Wales never to return again as students. It is very unlikely that all the members of our class will ever meet as a group again. Indeed many of our classmates have already left the island for various places throughout Canada. "I ask you to think of the last days in which we were all together, of the friends we have taken for granted through our college years. In later years we will think back and realize that these years were perhaps the happiest of our lives, certainly the most carefree, and the friends which we made here will be remembered as the dearest friends. "Some of us will still be together next year and some of us will meet in years to come but some of us may never meet again. However, passing years will never dim the memories of our companions of our youth and of the happiness and gaiety which we have shared. Before we part I wish to extend to each of you my warmest wishes for happiness in your way of life and success in your chosen work. OVERCOME DIFFICULTIES "May you always be able to withstand the blows that life will deal to you and may they be as few as possible. "But if they be many and seem to follow hard one upon the other, do not be downhearted; hard knocks, blows, and reverses are the portion of the man who aspires. "Life consists in overcoming difficulties. The higher we aim the more stubborn the obstacles will become. No one prizes an easy victory. It is the endeavour not the chance victory, the struggle not the calm, that really makes life; for life is an unending struggle for a goal beyond earthly bounds. As the poet truly says: "Ah, but man's reach should exceed the grasp, Or what's a heaven for?"

Gives Views On Canadian Girls

TORONTO (CP) — A 21-year-old African prince says Canadian girls are sweet, diplomatic, spirited, and self-sufficient — "even if they don't care for you particularly." But, says Prince Patrick Djan of Ghana, a zoology student at the University of Toronto, they are not as brainy as Ghana girls. "In Ghana the girls consider a man's pocketbook," Prince Djan said. "They will take you out and pay your way if you are short of money. "In this respect they are not self-centred like Canadian girls "Ghana girls are fun-loving and they can have fun talking about everything from poetry to religion." He said teen-age dating is not encouraged in Ghana.

THE RACE OF SPRING

'Twas early March when I did see Green buds upon our lilac tree Its home is by the old south porch Where northern gales can't harm it much. From o'er the fields the trees looked bare Still blanketed in winter's ware Anon, sun's days laid bare the glade And lo! A summer's dress was made. The sap crept up into the branch And wakened all the buds perchance The woodlands tossed their heads in glee The race was on Ye, Lilac Tree, Baltic, Lot 18. —E. B. Wall

MAINE LOBSTER PROBE CONTINUES

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — President Leslie A. Dyer of the Maine Lobstermen's Association was quoted in U.S. district court Thursday as telling striking fishermen last summer that dealers would drop the price to 25 cents a pound or lower. "Twice last summer, large groups of lobstermen stopped hauling their traps after the price dropped to 30 cents from 35 cents a pound. Dealers claimed a glut of lobsters during the shell-shedding season — when the lobsters are harder to sell — made the drop necessary. As a government witness in the

Valedictory Address Given By Miss Jean MacPherson

The valedictory address at the Prince of Wales Convocation Exercises Friday was delivered by Miss Jean MacPherson of Charlottetown. Miss MacPherson stood fourth in the 1958 graduating class and in addition was awarded the H. N. Macquarrie Prize. Following is the text of the address: "Another Convocation Day has dawned upon us, very much the same as others of past years but to us members of the graduating class it is one of the most important days of our lives. It symbolizes the beginning of a new way of life and the end of an old. "Today we look forward to the future with a great deal of hope and maybe some hesitancy, but before we leave let us thumb through the pages of our album of memories. "Remember the excitement of registering in first year and the confusion of getting acquainted with teachers and classrooms. In fact we sometimes became so confused that some classes were missed altogether even months after college began. "In that case it was necessary to avoid Mr. Bennett at all costs. But surprisingly enough — or is it surprising at all? Perhaps it is just life — The all so very strange become the very familiar surroundings and patterns in an atmosphere which became part of our very lives — part of ourselves — and as we cast our eye back over this very familiar pattern certain episodes loom up as mile stones in our journey through the years. "We remembered the Student Council elections, the heated political disputes and campaigns which were accompanied by brass bands, bagpipes and parades. Speaking of parades, did a n y o n e ever forget parading through town following the campus King and Queen and returning to the college for the coronation and dance afterwards. "What a wealth of memories it brings to think of this auditorium filled with music and students and with the lights turned down low for a dance. However the auditorium was used for what was considered by the faculty, a far more practical purpose. Could anyone look as grim as this did with the chairs and tables all set up for exams; and remember the nights we spent burning the midnight oil studying for those exams. "Sports also constitute a large part of our college memories. Remember going out to St. Dunstan's to cheer for our valiant — if rarely successful — football team, and those exciting trips to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with the hockey and basketball teams. "College day was always a big social event of the year and everyone will admit that we had our best College Day the year it snowed so hard that we were given the next day off from classes. "Perhaps one of the brightest memories is that of the color and excitement of the Curling Cham-ionships played in Charlottetown last winter. The social events that were most enjoyed were the class parties at Frank's, Austina's and and Flo's homes climaxing in our last big get-together at the Fourth Year Banquet. "However our college life was more than a social whirl. There was a great deal of hard work connected with it too and as we look back over both toil and frolic we will never forget the happy years we have spent at Prince of Wales and how they have prepared us to meet whatever life may bring. APPLY KNOWLEDGE "Cardinal Newman has pointed out to us that the purpose of a university is not only to impart facts but to teach us to think and to apply our knowledge to daily life. Our professors here at Prince of Wales have always striven to teach us this lesson in living. "How late we realize the value of their lesson, but before we leave I wish to express our deep gratitude to them. We are grateful not only for what they have taught us but also for the warm personal interest which they took in each and every one of us so that we look back on them not only as teachers but as friends. "Many times we have tried their patience through inattentiveness and carelessness yet they have never refused to answer a question or to spend extra time to help us with our problems. The training and guidance which we have received from each of you will be of enduring benefit to us through years to come and for this we thank you from the bottom of our hearts. INDEBTED TO PARENTS "To our parents too we feel deeply indebted for it is they who have made this day possible. It is they who worked so that we might obtain an education and it is they who encouraged us and worried over us, sharing the joy of our successes and the heartache of our failures. "Today we wish to share with them the greatest success of our days at Prince of Wales and we hope this will in some way repay them for the times we have disappointed them and burdened them unnecessarily with our thoughtlessness. "We hope always to give them cause to be as proud of us as they are today and although our appreciation of them has been mostly felt and not expressed, I wish to take this opportunity to let them know of the boundless gratitude that is in each of our hearts. DIVERGING WAYS "Fellow graduates — today we leave Prince of Wales never to return again as students. It is very unlikely that all the members of our class will ever meet as a group again. Indeed many of our classmates have already left the island for various places throughout Canada. "I ask you to think of the last days in which we were all together, of the friends we have taken for granted through our college years. In later years we will think back and realize that these years were perhaps the happiest of our lives, certainly the most carefree, and the friends which we made here will be remembered as the dearest friends. "Some of us will still be together next year and some of us will meet in years to come but some of us may never meet again. However, passing years will never dim the memories of our companions of our youth and of the happiness and gaiety which we have shared. Before we part I wish to extend to each of you my warmest wishes for happiness in your way of life and success in your chosen work. OVERCOME DIFFICULTIES "May you always be able to withstand the blows that life will deal to you and may they be as few as possible. "But if they be many and seem to follow hard one upon the other, do not be downhearted; hard knocks, blows, and reverses are the portion of the man who aspires. "Life consists in overcoming difficulties. The higher we aim the more stubborn the obstacles will become. No one prizes an easy victory. It is the endeavour not the chance victory, the struggle not the calm, that really makes life; for life is an unending struggle for a goal beyond earthly bounds. As the poet truly says: "Ah, but man's reach should exceed the grasp, Or what's a heaven for?"

Gives Views On Canadian Girls

TORONTO (CP) — A 21-year-old African prince says Canadian girls are sweet, diplomatic, spirited, and self-sufficient — "even if they don't care for you particularly." But, says Prince Patrick Djan of Ghana, a zoology student at the University of Toronto, they are not as brainy as Ghana girls. "In Ghana the girls consider a man's pocketbook," Prince Djan said. "They will take you out and pay your way if you are short of money. "In this respect they are not self-centred like Canadian girls "Ghana girls are fun-loving and they can have fun talking about everything from poetry to religion." He said teen-age dating is not encouraged in Ghana.

THE RACE OF SPRING

'Twas early March when I did see Green buds upon our lilac tree Its home is by the old south porch Where northern gales can't harm it much. From o'er the fields the trees looked bare Still blanketed in winter's ware Anon, sun's days laid bare the glade And lo! A summer's dress was made. The sap crept up into the branch And wakened all the buds perchance The woodlands tossed their heads in glee The race was on Ye, Lilac Tree, Baltic, Lot 18. —E. B. Wall

MAINE LOBSTER PROBE CONTINUES

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — President Leslie A. Dyer of the Maine Lobstermen's Association was quoted in U.S. district court Thursday as telling striking fishermen last summer that dealers would drop the price to 25 cents a pound or lower. "Twice last summer, large groups of lobstermen stopped hauling their traps after the price dropped to 30 cents from 35 cents a pound. Dealers claimed a glut of lobsters during the shell-shedding season — when the lobsters are harder to sell — made the drop necessary. As a government witness in the

Valedictory Address Given By Miss Jean MacPherson

The valedictory address at the Prince of Wales Convocation Exercises Friday was delivered by Miss Jean MacPherson of Charlottetown. Miss MacPherson stood fourth in the 1958 graduating class and in addition was awarded the H. N. Macquarrie Prize. Following is the text of the address: "Another Convocation Day has dawned upon us, very much the same as others of past years but to us members of the graduating class it is one of the most important days of our lives. It symbolizes the beginning of a new way of life and the end of an old. "Today we look forward to the future with a great deal of hope and maybe some hesitancy, but before we leave let us thumb through the pages of our album of memories. "Remember the excitement of registering in first year and the confusion of getting acquainted with teachers and classrooms. In fact we sometimes became so confused that some classes were missed altogether even months after college began. "In that case it was necessary to avoid Mr. Bennett at all costs. But surprisingly enough — or is it surprising at all? Perhaps it is just life — The all so very strange become the very familiar surroundings and patterns in an atmosphere which became part of our very lives — part of ourselves — and as we cast our eye back over this very familiar pattern certain episodes loom up as mile stones in our journey through the years. "We remembered the Student Council elections, the heated political disputes and campaigns which were accompanied by brass bands, bagpipes and parades. Speaking of parades, did a n y o n e ever forget parading through town following the campus King and Queen and returning to the college for the coronation and dance afterwards. "What a wealth of memories it brings to think of this auditorium filled with music and students and with the lights turned down low for a dance. However the auditorium was used for what was considered by the faculty, a far more practical purpose. Could anyone look as grim as this did with the chairs and tables all set up for exams; and remember the nights we spent burning the midnight oil studying for those exams. "Sports also constitute a large part of our college memories. Remember going out to St. Dunstan's to cheer for our valiant — if rarely successful — football team, and those exciting trips to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with the hockey and basketball teams. "College day was always a big social event of the year and everyone will admit that we had our best College Day the year it snowed so hard that we were given the next day off from classes. "Perhaps one of the brightest memories is that of the color and excitement of the Curling Cham-ionships played in Charlottetown last winter. The social events that were most enjoyed were the class parties at Frank's, Austina's and and Flo's homes climaxing in our last big get-together at the Fourth Year Banquet. "However our college life was more than a social whirl. There was a great deal of hard work connected with it too and as we look back over both toil and frolic we will never forget the happy years we have spent at Prince of Wales and how they have prepared us to meet whatever life may bring. APPLY KNOWLEDGE "Cardinal Newman has pointed out to us that the purpose of a university is not only to impart facts but to teach us to think and to apply our knowledge to daily life. Our professors here at Prince of Wales have always striven to teach us this lesson in living. "How late we realize the value of their lesson, but before we leave I wish to express our deep gratitude to them. We are grateful not only for what they have taught us but also for the warm personal interest which they took in each and every one of us so that we look back on them not only as teachers but as friends. "Many times we have tried their patience through inattentiveness and carelessness yet they have never refused to answer a question or to spend extra time to help us with our problems. The training and guidance which we have received from each of you will be of enduring benefit to us through years to come and for this we thank you from the bottom of our hearts. INDEBTED TO PARENTS "To our parents too we feel deeply indebted for it is they who have made this day possible. It is they who worked so that we might obtain an education and it is they who encouraged us and worried over us, sharing the joy of our successes and the heartache of our failures. "Today we wish to share with them the greatest success of our days at Prince of Wales and we hope this will in some way repay them for the times we have disappointed them and burdened them unnecessarily with our thoughtlessness. "We hope always to give them cause to be as proud of us as they are today and although our appreciation of them has been mostly felt and not expressed, I wish to take this opportunity to let them know of the boundless gratitude that is in each of our hearts. DIVERGING WAYS "Fellow graduates — today we leave Prince of Wales never to return again as students. It is very unlikely that all the members of our class will ever meet as a group again. Indeed many of our classmates have already left the island for various places throughout Canada. "I ask you to think of the last days in which we were all together, of the friends we have taken for granted through our college years. In later years we will think back and realize that these years were perhaps the happiest of our lives, certainly the most carefree, and the friends which we made here will be remembered as the dearest friends. "Some of us will still be together next year and some of us will meet in years to come but some of us may never meet again. However, passing years will never dim the memories of our companions of our youth and of the happiness and gaiety which we have shared. Before we part I wish to extend to each of you my warmest wishes for happiness in your way of life and success in your chosen work. OVERCOME DIFFICULTIES "May you always be able to withstand the blows that life will deal to you and may they be as few as possible. "But if they be many and seem to follow hard one upon the other, do not be downhearted; hard knocks, blows, and reverses are the portion of the man who aspires. "Life consists in overcoming difficulties. The higher we aim the more stubborn the obstacles will become. No one prizes an easy victory. It is the endeavour not the chance victory, the struggle not the calm, that really makes life; for life is an unending struggle for a goal beyond earthly bounds. As the poet truly says: "Ah, but man's reach should exceed the grasp, Or what's a heaven for?"

Gives Views On Canadian Girls

TORONTO (CP) — A 21-year-old African prince says Canadian girls are sweet, diplomatic, spirited, and self-sufficient — "even if they don't care for you particularly." But, says Prince Patrick Djan of Ghana, a zoology student at the University of Toronto, they are not as brainy as Ghana girls. "In Ghana the girls consider a man's pocketbook," Prince Djan said. "They will take you out and pay your way if you are short of money. "In this respect they are not self-centred like Canadian girls "Ghana girls are fun-loving and they can have fun talking about everything from poetry to religion." He said teen-age dating is not encouraged in Ghana.

THE RACE OF SPRING

'Twas early March when I did see Green buds upon our lilac tree Its home is by the old south porch Where northern gales can't harm it much. From o'er the fields the trees looked bare Still blanketed in winter's ware Anon, sun's days laid bare the glade And lo! A summer's dress was made. The sap crept up into the branch And wakened all the buds perchance The woodlands tossed their heads in glee The race was on Ye, Lilac Tree, Baltic, Lot 18. —E. B. Wall

MAINE LOBSTER PROBE CONTINUES

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — President Leslie A. Dyer of the Maine Lobstermen's Association was quoted in U.S. district court Thursday as telling striking fishermen last summer that dealers would drop the price to 25 cents a pound or lower. "Twice last summer, large groups of lobstermen stopped hauling their traps after the price dropped to 30 cents from 35 cents a pound. Dealers claimed a glut of lobsters during the shell-shedding season — when the lobsters are harder to sell — made the drop necessary. As a government witness in the

WHITE ROSE NOTICE EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY MR. GLYDON WILLIS HAS BEEN APPOINTED FARM DEALER FOR WHITE ROSE PRODUCTS IN THE KENSINGTON - HUNTER RIVER AREA. Distributing New White Rose Golden Jubilee Gasolines, Diesel Fuel, Furnace Fuel, Stove Fuel, Kerosene and Top Quality Motor Oils - Greases. ALL ORDERS WILL BE HANDLED BY MR. WILLIS PHONE Kensington 155-2 "ALL ORDERS WILL RECEIVE COURTEOUS ATTENTION . . WITH NO INTERRUPTION IN SERVICE" CANADIAN OIL COMPANIES LIMITED