611 Donors On First Day, 589 More Are Needed Today

When 10 o'clock came last night 611 blood donors had been registered at yesterday's Red Cross clinics held at St. Dunstan's in the morning and at Trinity Social Hall in the afternoon and evening.

This was exactly the same number as registered on the first day of last April's clinics in Charlottetown.

Unfortunately the afternoon clinic was not well attended during the second hour - there were only 136 during the two and a half hour period as compared with the 208 in attendance last evening. Anyone who can possibly do so is urged to try to come to the morning or afternoon clinics today and avoid the crowded evening session.

Efficient helpers for yesterday's Clinics were drawn from various groups including the students at St. Dunstan's High School Red Cross members as well as Birchwood High and Queen Square Schools, the King's Daughters of Trinity United Church, St. Elizabeth's Aid, St. Dunstan's Basilica Catholic Women's League, Nurses' Association and the Executive of the Red Cross blood donor committee for Charlottetown.

Ed's Taxi Service very kindly transported donors to the clinics as a courtesy service, and drivers were on hand at the clinic for the return trip when requested.

Present at last night's clinic was a lady from Hopfield who made a special trip to Charlottetown to be a blood donor. Some years ago, the lady explained, she had been the recipient of 12 bottles and, now that she is in good health, she is most anxious to play her part in making the blood transfusion service available for others who need it.

There will have to be another record attendance at today's morning, afternoon and evening clinics if Charlottetown is to reach its objective of 1,200 and win the Mayor's challenge.

count on this weeks blood donor clinic, with particular emphasis on an inter-class competition.

An award for this purpose is being applied by the Red Cross, according to information given the council by Mr. Gay.

The co-operation of the portion of the student body not yet eligible to be donors, was also requested, and it is planned to have these students participate by taking care of the distribution of literature and various other duties.

It is hoped to have the Prince of Wales student body attend this morning's clinic 9 to 11 at the Social Hall of Trinity Church.

Ch'town Legion Enters Blood Donor Contest

At a regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown branch Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. held at the Legion home on Thursday evening, the members decided to enter into the Blood Donors competition with the Main Branch and R.C.A.F. Association for the Armed Services (clubs) award.

During the meeting the documentary film "Prescription for Life" was shown after which Dr. Geo. Eisinger as guest speaker delivered a moving address on behalf of Blood Donor Week which opened Monday.

It is expected that the legion will provide many donors at the clinic as the legion has always staunchly supported Red Cross work.

This should mean a top notch competition with the Main Branch and R.C.A.F. Association this week.
