ELLEN'S DIARY

Happy Events To Honor Fill This Pretty June Day

"There are so many happy events these times to honor, I just can't seem to take them all in a 'housewife' we met at a store this morning offered, 'I'm glad to meet you this evening, if I do to that convention this afternoon, I shall be in a row!'"

Eight members answered "Her husband commented dryly, 'But, dear, it is!' she said. 'And if you should, as old Mrs. — used to say 'get my foot' you'd get me in my tracks. That to my dear 'big question' he teased."

This afternoon marked the meeting of the Districts' Annual W.I. This is that fascinating which brings the various delegates and members from respective districts to meet in that common interest which works "For Home and Country". This perfect June day saw many attend, to enjoy and profit by the interesting features included in the program. And to some way we would venture to say, inspired to greater effort, by the amount of good things and get out of it. I remember — over-placed in a heap, it came to mind, what an accumulation of lovely things, what a nice piece of money there would be!

And what a nice meeting that was the prettiest June-gown, a blossoming garden in them, long set of flowers, a remembrance, too, was interesting and beautiful, as were the decorations on the platform. These included, spring-flowers in quaint vases and great flowering geraniums that were lovely things to see.

To refresh the inner woman the fine supper served was a satisfying meal, in that the tasteful food and the leisurely friends atmosphere prevailing contributed to make one forget
