GREAT BOOM!

Away Ahead!

IT IS A FIRST-RATE PLACE TO BE, and as we undoubtedly possess the ability to keep ahead, we can afford to lend a helping hand to our numerous struggling competitors. As we have attained to the proud position we now enjoy as leaders in our art, through years of toil and hard work, we would say to our competitors, DON'T BE DISCOURAGED. Step by step, if you persevere, perchance may find you approaching our present standard. BUT REMEMBER! you will not find us there. Perfect in is our Standard, and nothing short of that will satisfy our ambition to present a faultless garment upon a faultless gentleman.

The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.

"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."—Miss Thirza L. Crear, Palmira, Md.

"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Molino, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckingham, W. Va.

"I suffered from

Nervous Prostration,

with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killingly, Conn.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

CHAPTER IV.

When it was brought him, he cast it lightly as a child would toss a weed; yet the point drove clanging through the brazen base of the shield, and into the picket behind. Amid the applause of the sturdy warriors he said to Hualpa:

"Get ready; the hunter must do something for the honor of his native hills."
"I cannot use a spear in competition with Guatamozin," said Hualpa, with brightening eyes; "but if he will have brought a javelin, a good comedy weapon, I will show him my practice."

A slender-shafted missile, about half the length of the spear, was produced from the armory, and examined carefully.
"See, good 'tzin, it is not true. Let me have another."

The next one was to his satisfaction.
"Now," he said, "set the target thrice a hundred feet away. If the dainty living of Xoli has not weakened my arm, I will at least strike your shield."

The bystanders looked at each other wonderingly, and the 'tzin was pleased. He had not lost a word or a motion of Hualpa's. The feat undertaken was difficult and but seldom achieved successfully; but the aspirant was confident, and he manifested the will to which all achievable things are possible.

The target was reset, and the Tihuano took the stand. Resting the shaft on the palm of his left hand, he placed the fingers of his right against the butt, and drew the graceful weapon arm-length backward. He described an arc in the air, and to the astonishment of all fell in the shield a little left of the centre.

"Tell me, Hualpa," said Guatamozin, "are there more hunters in Tihuano who can do such a deed? I will have you bring them to me."

The Tihuano lowered his eyes. "I grieve to say, good 'tzin, that I know of none. I excelled them all. But I can promise that in my native province there are hundreds braver than I, well to serve you to the death."

"Well, it is enough. I intended to try you further, and with other weapons, but not now. He who can so wield a javelin must know how to bend a bow and strike with a maquahuil. I accept your service. Let us to the palace."

Hualpa thrilled with delight. Already he felt himself in the warrior's path, with a glory won. All his dreams were about to be realized. In respectful silence he followed Guatamozin, and as they reached the portal steps, he touched his arm:

"Remember our compact on the lake," he whispered.

The hunter put his arm lovingly around the prince, and so they entered the house. And that day Fate wove a brotherhood of three hearts which was broken only by death.

driven you away already? How dare you return?"

Slowly the old man raised his head from his staff, and turned his face to the speaker. There was no light there. He was blind!

"By the holy fires, no trick this! Say on, girl. He is a Chalcan, you said."

"A countryman of yours," and her tears fell fast. "A hut is standing where the caseway leads from Cholco to Izatapalapan; it is my father's. He was happy under its roof; for, though blind and poor, he could hear my mother's voice, which was the kindest thing on earth to him. But our Mother called her on the coming of a bright morning, and since then he has asked for bread, when I had not a tuna (a species of fig) to give him. O, Xoli! did you not know what it is to ask for bread when there is none! I am his child, and can think of but one way to quiet his cry. And she paused, looking to his face for encouragement.

"Tell me your name, girl; tell me your name, then go on," he said, with a trembling lip, for his soul was clever.

At that instant the old man moaned querulously. "Yeteve, Yeteve!"

She went and clasped his neck, and spoke to him soothingly. Xoli's eyes became humid; down in the depths of his heart an emotion grew strangely warm.

"Yeteve, Yeteve," he repeated, musingly, thinking the syllables soft and pretty. "Come; stand here again, Yeteve," said he aloud, when the dotard was pacified. "He wants bread you say; how would you supply him?"

"You are rich. You want many slaves, and the law permits the poor to sell themselves. I would be your slave—asking no price, except that you give the beggar bread."

"A slave! Sell yourself!" he cried in dismay. "A slave! Why you are beautiful, Yeteve, and have not bethought yourself that some day the gods may want you for a victim."

She was silent.
"What can you do? Dance? Sing? Can you weave soft veils and embroider golden flowers like ladies in the palaces? If you can no slave in Anahuac will be so peerless; the lords will bid more cocoa than you can carry; you will be rich."

"If so, then can I do all you have said."
(To be continued.)

Odds and Ends.

It is stated that Emperor Frederick's original diary is in the possession of Queen Victoria.

The Pope has appointed December 31 as a day of general thanksgiving in Roman Catholic churches.

The appearance of Lord Salisbury as an advocate of woman suffrage, is calculated to scare that only surviving Tory, Mr. Mowat.

The Berlin Kieler Zeitung will be prosecuted at the instance of the Emperor for publishing Emperor Frederick's diary of 1886.

The announcement that the Gladstonians have selected Lord Compton to contest for Mr. Bright's seat in Parliament has caused Mr. Bright's friends much pain.

The Russians are building pontoons at Rens in readiness to bridge the Danube. This will form a point for an attack on Bulgaria.

Bishop Dwyer, of Limerick, has intimated that unless the boycotting of a man named Ryan for taking an evicted farm should cease, he will close the church of the parish in which the farm is located, and suspend all masses, sacraments and burials.

When the doctors can't save a native of China, the Ling Hoop, or prayer man, is called in. For one-fourth of a cent he will pray half an hour, and if the victim doesn't rally with that he is left to go on with his dying.

Count Kinsky, son of the Governor of Lower Austria, is suing for divorce on the ground that his wife, whom he recently married, deceived him as to her parentage, her family not being a noble one. Marriage with a plebeian deprives him of the inheritance of his family estates. The case is exciting great interest.

Wm. Robertson, Governor of South Australia, has declared that there is no desire in the colonies to lessen England's constitutional responsibility in the appointment of colonial governors. He is of opinion that when the wishes of the colonies are fully understood by the Home Government, an adjustment satisfactory to all parties will not be difficult. He has suggested that the colonies send delegates to England to confer with the Government upon the whole question. The press support the views of the Governor.

There are many tendencies in the civilization of the United States, like the rage for divorces for example, which do not promise well for the future of the republic. The tendency to seize other people's property and bolt for a foreign country is another. It does not confine itself to bank cashiers and civil officials, but has spread into the ranks of society, afflicting young and old, even young girls falling victims to the prevailing rage. A girl of fourteen has just been taken back to New York by her mother, having been caught in a Canadian city. She got hold of a large sum of money and fled with it. The nursery door needs to be double locked in view of such cases as these.
