Dr. Davidson Views Hitler As Doomed

ENGLISH PREACHER SAYS NATION CHOSE WAR TO PRESERVE CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—When leaders like Adolf Hitler abuse their authority they are marking for themselves a quick end for God's punishment, the Rev. Dr. Donald Davidson, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Bournemouth, England, declared in a sermon yesterday morning at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, Fifth Avenue at Fifty-fifth Street.

"God is the sworn enemy of every tyrant, and this dictator will find that he has not only France and England to reckon with but our Lord as well," he said. "God made the world and has every right to control it. If He did not take interest in what we have seen at the present time, we would think He was indifferent.

CLIPPER REPORTS

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Pan American Airways Yankee Clipper arrived today with 48 passengers—18 from Lisbon, Portugal, and 30 from the Azores, and 50 from Bermuda.

Captain William Winston said the line took precautions at Lisbon to see that no firearms were brought on board. Passengers and luggage were searched.

Captain Winston said two submarines were sighted a couple of miles off the Azores. The clipper was flying too high to identify the nationality of the craft, he said.

Canadian Survivors Tell Story

LONDON SEPT. 5.—(CP)—Miss Ethel Elgood, principal of the College, Ontario, and Richard and Wendy Lake of Victoria, B. C., were in the same lifeboat that left the British liner Athena before it sank Sunday. Miss Elgood related today when she landed at Galway, Eire, in the rescue ship Knute Nelson.

Miss Elgood said she was ordering dinner when there was a terrific explosion.

"I rushed on deck without a coat, hat or lifebelt, for the lights were out," she said. "I got into No. 6 lifeboat, a former Lieutenant Governor of Saskatchewan) pulled an oar for nearly five hours. I also pulled an oar and it seemed as before we were picked up it was nine hours."

Saw Shells Falling

"I saw shells falling short of the liner and hitting the water. It was horrible, but the crew were marvelous and there was no panic."

Miss Judith Evelyn, Toronto, told a dramatic story of how she and her fiancé, Andrew Allen, were saved.

"The lifeboat in which we both got away from the Athena had not enough men aboard and I took my turn at the oars," she said. "As we got alongside the rescue ship the propeller struck us and 80 people in the lifeboat were flung into the sea."

"Only seven were saved."

"I saw the upturned lifeboat and managed to reach it. As I took hold I felt someone's fingers gripping me from the other side. I shouted 'Andrew!' It proved to be my fiancé."

St. John Women's Story

Mrs. Alexander Wilson of St. John, N. B., landed safely at Greenock, Scotland, with her children, John, aged three and June, aged six. She was starting dinner when the explosion came.

"I rushed downstairs and grabbed both of my children and dashed back to the deck," she said. "I must have stood on deck clutching my children for half an hour before I was lowered to a lifeboat of any kind."

King's County Fair Held At Georgetown

Enthusiasm Of Exhibitors High Despite Difficulties

—Many Classes Well Filled.

Despite to some extent unfavorable weather conditions the King's County Exhibition at Georgetown yesterday was a "fair attendance" with a good entry list.

The fair was formally opened by Premier Thane A. Campbell while Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and Prof. L. W. Shaw, general superintendent of Education in Newfoundland were other speakers. Mr. D. P. MacKinnon, president of the Exhibition Association presided. Mr. Shaw represented Hon. W. R. Dennis, Minister of Agriculture who was absent in Nova Scotia, it was announced.

Of the cattle exhibits those of Ayrshires were outstanding. Classes were exceptionally well filled and the quality was high. Mr. L. W. Roper, Livestock Superintendent for the Province was judge. Outstanding exhibitors were said to be Gavin Reid, Victoria Cross; J. A. McLeod and son, Primrose, Ebin, Reid, Rollo Bay, William Aitken, Lower Montague, and N. W. McLeod & Son, Bridgetown.

There was a "fairly good" showing of Jersey with Ernest Underwood being the leading exhibitor. Holstein and beef cattle entries were both small. Holstein exhibitors included Cecil LaScheur, Georgetown, Preston Bryenton and James Cain, New Perth. In the last named breeds Lloyd Lockerby, provincial fieldman was judge.

There were "very fine" draft horses in a showing with the Clydesdales outstanding. Light horse classes were about as usual with the quality good. Gordon Newson of Kingston was the judge. Heavy prize winners included W. H. Townshend, Rollo Bay, T. J. Kichham, Souris.

George McIntyre, Dr. McIntyre, Montague, D. P. Ross & Son Lower

er Montague, David Wright, Montague, Rev. A. L. Simont, Rollo Bay, Nelson, George, Georgetown, Frank McDonald, Georgetown, Alden McLaren, Brudenell, Mont. Annear, M. L. A., Lower Montague, Gavin Reid, Victoria Cross. The last named exhibitor has been showing at the Georgetown fair for fifty years. Yesterday he again carried off a "red ribbon."

In the sheep classes Alex Hamilton New Perth, Frank McAluay, Souris, Vernon Shaw, Brudenell and J. Norton, Ammandale, were heavy winners. S. D. Irvine, federal fieldman was judge.

In the swine classes Alex Hamilton was again a strong winner with others including Frank McAluay, David Wright, Russell Beull, Amner, Mont. Annear, M. L. A., James Cain and Malcolm McLean, Georgetown, H. W. Clay, Union Road, was judge.

In the poultry class, where entries were placed by F. M. Nash, of the Federal Poultry services winners included Howard Dewar, Brudenell, George Keenan, Georgetown and James Keenan, Georgetown, A. A. Adolphe, Lower Montague, D. P. McKinnon, Georgetown, Alistair McDonald, Georgetown and Mrs. William Rourke, Montague.

In the main building certain classes had fewer entries. This was more particularly true of the field roots and vegetables where dry weather had caused greatly retarded growth in some sections. Despite the unfavorable season, however, the quality of the exhibits was said by judges to be very good.

Mr. L. W. Roper, Dairy Superintendent placed exhibits of dairy products. There was but a small entry list.

French Gain In West As Germans Push Back Poles

Nazi Army Said Ahead Of Schedule On Eastern Front.

(By The Canadian Press)

French troops were reported fighting on German territory Wednesday while the legions of Poles and rolled on toward Warsaw, the capital abandoned by the Polish Government.

A terse communique from the French high command announced its lines were progressing beyond the frontier presumably into the Saarland of Germany, in the face of resistance from the Reich's troops.

Reports from Basle, Switzerland, said veteran French troops had captured outlying pillboxes in Germany's Siegfried line near the Swiss border.

France's ally—Poland—suffered another reverse when the Germans seized the ancient city of Krakow. Last night, the German army, well ahead of schedule, was reported 18 miles east of Krakow and directing its operations toward Lublin, understood to be the present seat of the Polish Government.

With the Germans expected at the gates of Warsaw within a few hours, Poland called on all citizens of the capital to report for work on trenches around the city.

But at Riga, Latvia, a little garrison of Poles in a munitions depot at Westerplatte, in Danzig harbor, was reported still defying the Germans.

Forced Landing At C. N. Expo

TORONTO, Sept. 6.—(CP)—Missing hundreds of spectators by only a few feet, stunt pilot C. R. Patterson of Toronto made a forced landing in front of the grandstand at the Canadian National Exhibition during an air show today. The engine of Patterson's airplane failed at 300 feet and he pulled the craft away from the grandstand and landed on the dirt track.

The stunt being attempted at the time was one in which the engine was purposely stalled, while Patterson's assistant, Ross McLellan of Memphis, walked out on the wing to crank the engine back to life. The engine failure was attributed to moisture in the carburetor due to the rain.
