

A Feature for Every Friday— Among The Farmers Federation Of Agriculture News

The President The visit of Dr. H. H. Hannam to the Province at a time of the year when harvesting is completed and potato digging not yet in full swing will give farmers an opportunity of hearing and meeting a practical farmer, who has earned world-wide recognition as president of the world's Farmers' Organization, known as the International Federation of Agricultural Producers.

It is some years since Dr. Hannam has visited the Province and it is fortunate that his visit should coincide with the meeting which is to be held on Tuesday night. Dr. Hannam's contribution to the welfare of Canadian agriculture has been of high order and we have no doubt that Island farmers will attend in large numbers to hear the man who has had a marked influence in the development of national policies, beneficial to agriculture.

Tuesday, September 30, 8:30 P.M. The desirability of having funds available to promote and protect the potato industry is generally agreed upon. However, agreement is not so general upon the question of methods to be employed in collecting the money. The fact that the fund is desirable does not necessarily indicate that growers are actively interested in contributing to it. Even granting that farmers who are wholeheartedly in support of the idea to set up any system for collection that would be costly, the money should be used, in so far as possible, for promotion and protection.

It is also reasonable to suggest that any plan considered should have reasonable prospects of success and general support. This is the question which growers will have the opportunity of voicing their opinion upon next Tuesday night and it is desirable that their decision be based on a free appraisal of the facts and without any attempts to high pressure people into accepting a proposition on which they may later change their minds. It is equally important that growers who favor and those who oppose should attend.

Silos And Corn

In parts of the United States the upright silo has been described as a "Watch-tower of Prosperity" and it is quite probable that Prince Edward Island has seen the erection of a greater number of these buildings during the past season than in any previous year. In one Kings County community, six silos on six different farms stand as landmarks in the movement towards better utilization of home grown feeds. Conditions have been favourable this season for corn and silo filling is now under way with well developed corn which so far has suffered no damage from frost.

Thompson-Mackenzie Wedding

St. James Presbyterian Church was the scene of a wedding of interest to many friends throughout the Maritimes when Margaret Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Herbert Mackenzie, Charlottetown, was united in marriage with William Grant, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Thompson, New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. H. B. Somers, M.A., S.T.M., assisted by the Rev. W. C. Picketts, B.A., of Newcastle, N.B., uncle of the bride. The wedding marches were played by Miss Lillian MacKenzie and she also played softly throughout the service. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli and the guest pews were marked with rather and white satin ribbon bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in her wedding gown of French imported lace over satin, fashioned on Princess lines, with wing collar and long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. Her longer-hip veil of French illusion fell gracefully from a Juliet cap which was edged with plaiting.

She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, and for ornament wore a string of pearls. Her slipper were of brocade satin.

Miss Irene MacLeod, the maid of honour, wore a becoming Princess line gown of gold satin with matching headpiece and lace mitts. Her bouquet was of bronze mums.

The junior bridesmaid, Miss Elaine Picketts, cousin of the bride, was winsome in a gown of twilight blue taffeta designed with fitted bodice with nylon lace yoke and full bouffant skirt. She wore with it a ruffled headband and dress of matching taffeta and carried a nosegay of mixed mums.

The groomsmen were Mr. Roger Simpson and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Mackenzie, brother of the bride, and Mr. Wendell MacLaine, all of Charlottetown.

The Kirk Gallery Choir sang "Perfect Love" before the ceremony, and "Pans Angelicus" during the signing of the register.

The bride's mother was gowned in plum crepe with matching feather hat and corsage of ivory carnations. The groom's mother wore a dress of peacock blue with black velvet hat and corsage of pink roses.

The reception was held at the Villa Waters where the parents of the bride and groom assisted the young couple in receiving the good wishes of their friends.

The toast to the bride was proposed by the Rev. T. H. B. Somers with the groom responding. Telegrams of congratulations and good wishes to the bride and groom were received from Liverpool, England, Toronto, Montreal, New Westminster, B.C., New Glasgow, and other places, and were read by the groomsmen.

Miss Anne Picketts, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Serving the bridal party was Miss Elaine Bourke, and attending the guests was Mrs. Frank Thomson of Montreal, sister of the groom, Miss Anna MacLaren of Montague, Miss Mary Campbell, Miss Helen Acorn and Mrs. Neil MacCannell, of Charlottetown.

Strange But True

By F. M. MacArthur

By an Act passed in England in 1797, every owner of a clock or watch had to pay a tax. Now we pay it on radio and T. V. sets, on dogs and what have you. Some evade the tax on all three and get away with it.

Ever hear of the lantern clock? No? Well, I looked up an old, old book called "Ons on clocks" which says "the lantern clock, like the old-fashioned lanterns, was made to hang on the wall. This lantern clock is found in German clocks of the period, and in English 17th century clocks the same shape is continued.

"Not only the form but the usage determined the name. The lantern had spikes or metal hooks to hang on. The clock similarly was affixed to a wall or on a bracket. It had chains and weights suspended beneath it as it was not in its early form capable of being placed on a table."

Latak, is a species of tobacco plant grown in the mountains of North Syria, and contrary to the general practice in cultivations, is allowed to flower.

The peculiar dark color and tarry odour is the result of the way it is cured, which is done by exposing the weed for six months to the smoke of the fires of the Asiatic oak called ozer.

The best cigars in the world are made in Havana, Cuba, because from Cuba's Virelton Abazo district comes the par excellence tobacco leaf which goes into the making of choice Havana cigars.

Turning now to cigarettes we find that the best ones come not from the U. S. A. but from Macedonia where Mother Nature has put forth her best efforts to grow tobacco. Cigarettes made of the Macedonian herb have no rival. There is Turkish tobacco and Turkish tobacco. I refer here only to that which is grown in Mahalla, in Macedonia.

"It is better to understand a little than to misunderstand a lot." Rev. J. H. Copeland, a Justice of the Peace for Mount City, Ill., had the sagacity to fine his own son $32.50 for disorderly conduct.

Twin sons born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Radech, of Davenport, Iowa, arrived exactly 14 months after the birth of twin daughters! At the National museum at Cardiff, Wales, may be seen a long-case clock with an enameled white oval dial. Atop this odd clock is a medallion representing the figure of Hope with an anchor. There are two subsidiary dials, one for seconds and the other showing the day of the month.

Musician Heinrich Bach had six children, three of whom were, in their day, noted performers. Of the twin brothers, Johanna Ambrosius and Johann Christopher looked as like as peas in a pod, both played the violin in exactly the same way, they both spoke and acted alike, and it is said that their wives were hard put to it to tell 'em apart. Both suffered from the same illness, and died within a few months of one another.

Some of the world's greatest men have been notoriously untidy about their persons and dwellings. That genius Beethoven was among this class. His rooms usually lay in the wildest disorder — music — money, clothing — dirty and clean — lay about. The open pianoforte on which many of his musical gems were wrought was covered with dust. The table bore up under its litter of broken cups, coffee pots and so on. But there was no disorder in Beethoven's mind, though his face was seamed with scars from the smallpox.

The musical piece known as "Weber's Last Thoughts" is based on an error. This popular composition published in 1824, is not Weber's work at all. It was written by Reissiger. The fact that it was found among Weber's papers after his death led to the error.

"The Tibetan Book of the Dead" consisting of a roll 122 ft. long and 2 1/2 in. wide, is preserved in the British museum.

Before the use of paper the Chinese committed their correspondence to silk and wood. This writing was performed in the incised portion, and a lid placed over the whole. This was the first envelope used, and may be regarded as the forerunner of the modern envelope. To produce one ton of common newsprint paper requires a pile of logs 4 ft. square by 11ft. high, and for one ton of dry mechanical wood-pulp eight to ten trees are used up!

Who has not heard of the Stradivarius Violins? If you owned one today it would be worth a tidy sum of money. In 1888, a Stradivarius fetched $5,000., and double this figure was paid a few years since for the famous "Messie" violin, made by the master violin worker in 1716, and still in perfect condition. In 1890 the Messie sold for 2,000 pounds. Today it would

Men sure go for a MAGIC cake COCONUT FUDGE CHIFFON CAKE Mix and sift into a bowl, 1 c. plus 2 tbs. once-sifted cake flour, 1 1/2 tps. Magic Baking Powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 c. fine granulated sugar; mix in 1/2 c. desiccated coconut. Make a well in the dry ingredients and add in the order given (do not stir mixture), 3/4 c. corn (salad) oil, 2 unbeaten egg yolks, 1/2 c. plus 2 tbs. water, 1 tsp. vanilla, 2 1/2 ounces unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled. Stir the liquids to intermingle, then stir in the dry ingredients; beat until batter is smooth. Measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. egg whites (at room temperature) and sprinkle with 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar; beat until the egg whites are very very stiff—much stiffer than for meringues, angel cakes, etc. Add flour mixture, about a quart at a time, and fold after each addition until batter and egg whites are thoroughly combined. Turn batter into an ungreased 8" angel cake pan; bake in a rather slow oven, 325°, about 1 hour. Immediately cake comes from oven, invert pan and suspend cake until cold.
