World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893.

THE Government of the Dominion of Canada has accepted the invitation of the Government of the United States to take part in the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in Chicago from 1st May to 31st October, 1893. As it is important that a very full display of Canadian products be made on that occasion, a general invitation is extended to Canadian producers and manufacturers in agriculture, horticulture, products of forests, fisheries, minerals, machinery, manufactures, arts, etc., to assist in bringing together such a display of the natural resources and industrial products of Canada as will be a credit to the country.

An Executive Commissioner for Canada has been appointed, who will have the general charge of the exhibits and the allotment of space, and the several Provincial Governments have been invited to co-operate with the view of making the exhibit as complete and satisfactory as possible.

The Dominion Government will pay the transport of exhibits going and returning, and for the placing of articles sent.

Entries must be made not later than 31st July. The reception of articles at the Exhibition buildings will commence 1st November, 1892, and all exhibits, excepting Live Stock, must be in place by 1st April, 1893.

Forms of application for space and general information can be obtained on applying by letter post free, to the undersigned.

ON THE STRAIT.

An Incident of Tuesday's Storm.

Narrow Escape of Mr. Palmer

On Tuesday evening, Messrs. Palmer and Bain started to cross the Strait from Cape Traverse in an open boat. The weather was hot and sultry, only gentle breaths of wind shading the placid surface of the sea. Friends warned the two that there was a dangerous lull in the air. But business was urgent, and they took their chances. For an hour their boat hung idly on the glassy bosom of the waters, making but little progress towards the far blue line of land that marked their destination. The southern sky was rapidly darkening, and the roll of distant thunder came on the stilly air. In mid-Strait the squall struck them. To head the boat to the flying spray and take down sail and reef was only the work of a minute or two, and then the craft bore away before the breeze in splendid style, giving fair hope of yet reaching land before dark set in. But the sky darkened and the wind rose with torrents of rain, and black night set in long before the voyagers reached land. Then not an object could be distinguished, save when the fierce glare of lightning illumined the whole reach of sea and distant land. Grand beyond description, one of the gentlemen said, was the scene at those moments. The foaming sea, the outlines of the distant land, the tumultuous heavens shone with an unearthly glare for an instant that was the very acme of majestic beauty amid the wild rage of the tempest. On one occasion five flaming bolts simultaneously leaped from the sky into the sea right ahead of them.

They now made for a light which they supposed to that on Tormentine Pier. But a clearer blaze of light revealed their mistake and showed that they were driving right onto a rocky coast. Mr. Palmer at this stepped forward to shorten sail. A swelling roller lurched the boat, the sail swung, caught the gentleman and hurled him into the seething sea. Bain instantly sprang and caught him. He grasped the gunwale himself, and soaked to the skin was soon in the boat again. They went ashore on a beach which proved to be sandy and about a mile east of the Pier. They shouted loudly for assistance, which was was not long in arriving. Mr. Glorie, a lobster fishermen, came with a lantern and assisted them to care for the boat. He kindly took them to his house where Palmer's clothes were changed and he was cared for during the night. Mr. Bain proceeded to the hotel a mile forward, and both were ready for work in the morning.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Cornell University.

SIR,—In your notice of the elevation of Dr. Schurman to the Presidency of Cornell University, you give some numerical statements in regard to the size of that institution. Will you kindly allow me to correct these statements? As applied to the Cornell of to-day, they are almost ludicrously inaccurate, and may very possibly do the University an injury. Without referring to the figures you give, I would briefly say that for the year 1891 2 the resident teaching staff numbered 124, besides 21 special lecturers; that the number of students in attendance was 1537, of whom 164 were pursuing post-graduate study; and that the library contained 107,000 volumes and 30,000 pamphlets. The annual income of the University is over half a million.

I would like to say further that Dr. Schurman's advancement is not one of those fictitious or superficial successes with which the kindly Island press too often credits its absent sons. As the head of the most progressive of the great American Universities, he stands to-day in the foremost rank of modern educators. The satisfaction which his appointment gives to the Alumni and friends of the institution is most marked, and the opinion that in his new sphere he will more than fulfill all expectations is very generally expressed. It is safe to say that there are few cases on record where a stranger and foreigner (coming, too, from a quarter to which Americans do not look for enlightenment,) has in six years so impressed himself on a very critical and exacting public.

I remain, yours very truly,
V. COFFIN.

Damage by Late Storms.

The storm on Tuesday night did considerable damage in the country districts in the vicinity of Truro. A large barn belonging to Jacob Harvey, Brookfield, was struck by lightning and fell to the ground. It did not take fire, but collapsed and became a total wreck. There were 16 head of cattle and horses in the barn at the time and Harvey had to saw and cut away the timbers to get them out of the wreck; one cow only was killed. Before any help arrived Mr. Harvey had got out seven of the cattle and two horses. The barn was a new one and cost over $900, so that the loss is a severe one; partially insured. Emerson Rutherford, of Middle Stewiacke, lost three barns containing nine cows and three calves. They were struck by lightning and burned to the ground. A new barn owned by Wm. Clowe, of Brookfield was blown down. It was built last summer. Another barn at Brookfield belonging to Wm. Langille was blown down. Three heifers belonging to S. McCully, Debert, were struck by lightning while in the field near the house and killed. At Gay's River, James Annand's fine $800 barn was completely torn to pieces by lightning.

Cloud bursts are reported in western Wisconsin and northeastern Iowa Wednesday night. Heavy storms of rain and hail are reported in St. Paul and Rochester, Minn., and railroad tracks and bridges have been washed away. In Wisconsin and Iowa travel is greatly impeded. Five houses were washed away at Sparta, Wis. The rivers are very high and the country is flooded in northeastern Iowa.

MAKES FLESH AND BLOOD.—When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat in fact, Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life," and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles 50c. and $1 at Charlottetown drug stores. ....

SPOILED HIS WEDDING TOUR.—A peculiar accident happened to Fred. Lamplough, train despatcher of the Canada Atlantic Railway at Ottawa on Wednesday. Lamplough was married in the morning to Miss Sadie Wilkins, and the couple started for Montreal. At Alexandria station the train hands exploded some fog signals in Lamplough's honor. A fragment of a signal struck him on the leg, inflicting a dangerous wound and necessitating his being sent to the Montreal Hospital.

The London Daily News says: "What used to be called the Broad Church party has well nigh disappeared, and a Broad Church parson would be almost worth marking in the Ordnance map. Even the Evangelicals, though they flourish here and there, having indeed one or two representatives on the episcopal bench, are few and far between. The sacerdotalists have won all along the line, in spite of the judges' attempts to put them down. The Church of England is once more a High Church."

FEW people have any idea of the care with which tobacco has to be attended after it is grown. It will imbibe odors of almost any kind if placed near the source of them. A pig sty, for instance, near the place where the planter stores his crops will impart a disagreeable flavor, which no care afterwards will divest it of. Among the many precautions taken to obtain a faultless leaf for the "Myrtle Navy" brand is to ascertain carefully the methods which every farmer adopts with his crops in the sections of Virginia where the "Myrtle Navy" leaf is grown. ....

My legs would swell to twice their ordinary size, and from my feet to my hips both legs were one solid mass of great purple sores. My arms and body also became affected in like manner. I was much reduced in flesh. People said I would die, and I believed there was no help for me. This was my condition when I began taking SKODA'S DISCOVERY and SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, using SKODA'S OINTMENT externally.
