Cowabunga dudes!

How goes the battle? It's hard to believe that the first semester of the academic year is drawing to a close. (Thank the good Lord)

Things are hoppin down at the barn and we're on the go with a number of things that include rallying for safe passage on University Avenue, researching a safe walk program, planning for the New Years Pub and much more. For all you caffeine fans don't forget that Dunkin Donuts will be arriving at the barn sometime before December 1st. Also remember that when you stop down for your coffee you're welcome to take it upstairs and drink it while you study or whatever. The barn is there for you to use.

Jo-anna Murphy and I have just recently returned from a Canadian Federation of Students conference in Ottawa. It was a jam packed week which left me exhausted upon return but was well worth the time. If anyone is interested in learning more about CFS, you can inquire with either myself, your President Jo-ann Murphy or with Nadine Dewolfe your VP External. Good luck on all your exams - it'll soon be over!

Hang loose
