Campaign Continent-Wide For Greater Highway Safety

OTTAWA (CP)—At least one campaign this summer will be aimed at the fellow in a hurry. Soon, everything from match-folders to huge billboards will be saying: "Slow down and live." Promoted by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference for the first time in Canada, hurrying drivers won't be able to "escape" the campaign by crossing any

North American borders. The continent-wide campaign extends all the way to Puerto Rico. It's designed to make holidays happy outings without tragic endings.

HEAVY TOLL

Last year an average of 78.43 Canadians died each week in highway accidents during the six months from July to December, said W. Arch Bryce, general manager of the highway safety conference, in an interview. The monthly average was 313.8 deaths. These are the months of hazardous holiday weekends, swift weather changes and a preponderance of family-filled cars whose drivers hurry away to vacations and then hurry back home along crowded highways.

The "slow down and live" campaign has been endorsed by Governor-General Massey and Prime Minister St. Laurent.

In a letter supporting the campaign, Mr. Massey said the campaign slogan could also be "slow down and let live." "It is so often the innocent who suffer from the careless driver."

Urging complete co-operation by drivers, pedestrians and traffic enforcement officers, Mr. St. Laurent said "only persistent vigilance can reduce the tragic toll of the roads, especially during the holiday season."

U.S. Ban On Weapons Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Tuesday ended its year-long ban on the shipment to Yugoslavia of heavy weapons, including jet fighters.

The state department said in an announcement weapons deliveries no will go forward but "at a more modest rate" than previously planned before the embargo.

The decision is based on a determination by President Eisenhower that Yugoslavia "is and firmly intends to remain independent."

Major arms deliveries to Yugoslavia were cut off last year. Congress provided that Eisenhower should review Yugoslav relations with Russia to decide whether it was in the U.S. interest to continue American aid.
